PAPEN ASSAILS HITLER'S RULE; NAZIS STUNNED

Vice Chancellor Asks Monarchy's Return.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 18.—The most emphatic criticism heaped on the Nazi régime by a high German official since Adolf Hitler ascended to power in 1933 was made yesterday by Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen. The criticism left Nazi officials stunned today and caused them to clamp an airtight censorship on German newspaper reports of his speech, which was delivered at Marburg university.

FRANZ VON PAPEN.

Von Papen, considered a dependable follower of Chancellor Hitler, but known to be a monarchist at heart, made a veiled plea for a return to a monarchical government. His criticism of Naziism was pointed and covered a broad field.

Goebbels Attacked.

He attacked Minister of Propaganda Dr. Joseph Goebbels' campaign against "grousers and croakers"; he flayed single political party rule in Germany; he challenged Nazi efforts to bend religious organizations to its will, and he took issue with muzzling of the press and the theory that terrorism and slogans could unite the people.

To top it off, it became known today that Count Rudolf Nadolny has resigned as German ambassador to Russia. His resignation has been kept a secret since the middle of May. The count, who is a close friend of President Paul von Hindenburg, quit when he failed to induce Hitler to accept Russia's proposal for a nonaggression pact.

Von Papen's address was considered as particularly significant in view of an almost simultaneous address by Hitler at Gera.

"Nation's Fist Is Ready."

"The nation's fist is ready and clenched to smash anyone daring to make the slightest sabotage attempt," the chancellor said. "For this is certain: whether individuals continue to exist or not is immaterial. But the important thing is the nation."

Von Papen's daring words in view of his superior's utterance created a sensation in the ranks of the government.

"The reich's government is not deceiving itself about the fact that the reich treasure of confidence which the German people bestowed upon it is in danger," the vice chancellor said in his speech.

"The government is well informed about all in the nature of selfishness, lack of character, untruth, ungentlemanliness and arrogance that is trying to spread out under the cover of the German revolution.

Tells Why He's Critical.

"I am being more and more pressed by voices which demand that I take a positive stand concerning events transpiring in Germany.

"It would be a mortal sin, both from the human and the statesman's point of view, not to say what must be said at this decisive juncture of the German revolution.

"The press is no longer a safety valve. The real purpose of the press would seem to be to inform the government of defects that have crept in and point out where corruption has secured a berth, where serious mistakes have been made, where unfit men have been put in wrong places and where sins are being committed against the spirit of the German revolution.

"An anonymous or secret intelligence service, be it ever so excellently organized, can never be a substitute for this task of the press."

Raps Nazi Dominance.

The Nazi claim to domination of all phases of human life, including religion, was taken up next by Von Papen.

"The statesmen and the politicians," he said, "can reform the state, but not life itself. Chancellor Hitler himself declared his movement is not that of religious reformation but of political reorganization of our people.

"Not all life can be organized because then it will be mechanized. The state is organization; life is growth.

"In my opinion, the German state will at some future date find its crowning glory in a chief of state who once for all is removed from the political fight of demagogy and from clashes among economic and vocational interests.

"As to religion: the state must de-

Spurs Hunt for U. S. Woman Lawyer.

LONDON, June 18.—(AP)—Discovery of parts of the dismembered body of a woman in railroad stations here and at Brighton today caused Scotland Yard to plunge with all its resources into the international search for Miss Agnes Tufverson, missing American attorney, whose husband, Capt. Ivan Poderjay, is held by Vienna police for investigation.

The legs of the body were found in a suitcase which had been left at the King's Cross railway station here June 7. They were wrapped in brown paper, similar to that which was about the torso, which had been crammed into the cheap canvas trunk found earlier in the day at a station at Brighton.

Scotland Yard detectives cast doubt on the possibility that the body is that of Miss Tufverson, who vanished with $25,000 shortly after she was married in New York last December to Capt. Poderjay.

Torso in New Trunk.

The torso, found by baggage handlers at Brighton, bears no scar of such an abdominal operation as Miss Tufverson had undergone. Officers, nevertheless, explored all possibilities of the theory that the body may be that of the New York and Detroit attorney.

The torso had been placed between two pieces of plywood and then wrapped in stiff brown paper. The spaces between it and the trunk were stuffed with wool, which accounted for the fact that no moisture reached the outside of the trunk.

Chief Inspector W. Donaldson of Scotland Yard said he believed the trunk, apparently unused previously, had been purchased to fit the body.

Recalls 1927 Trunk Murder.

Donaldson, ace of the Scotland Yard plainclothes force, hurried to Brighton to make a first hand investigation of what promised to become England's most sensational murder case since 1927, when the nation was shocked by the discovery of the dismembered body of Mrs. Innie Alice Bonati in a trunk at the Charing Cross railroad station. Her slayer, John Robinson, was hanged.

The torso found at Brighton was that of a woman about 40 years old. Her height was estimated at about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches, and the body appeared to be that of a "well nourished person."

The official description of the missing American woman gives her age as 43 and her height as about 5 feet 6 inches. She weighed about 135 pounds.

An autopsy will be held tomorrow, police announced, to determine the exact cause of death if possible.

Poderjay Changes Story.

VIENNA, June 18.—(AP)—Vienna police today turned Capt. Ivan Poderjay's story of his relationship with Agnes Tufverson, missing American woman, topsy turvy and announced at the conclusion of a day of fast-moving investigation that they believe the woman is dead.

The outstanding developments of the day's inquiries into the affairs of the dashing young man were:

1. Discovery of a trunk, brief case and other property of Miss Tufverson in his apartment. The property included half a dozen dresses, an amber necklace, two strands of pearls and two books, one on the art of love, and the other on birth control.

2. Abandonment by Poderjay of his story that his marriage to Miss Tufverson in New York last December was bigamous.

3. Detention of Susanne Ferran, the woman with whom he lived here and a statement by her that Poderjay had said Miss Tufverson gave him the trunk and its contents as a parting gift before she left on a world cruise.

Await Action By U. S.

Police said that although they believe the missing American woman is dead they cannot hold Poderjay indefinitly unless assured that he is wanted in some other country on a definite criminal charge.

Their eyes were turned toward the United States, whose authorities first asked an investigation in connection with the disappearance of the New York and Detroit woman, and toward Jugo-Slavia, where Poderjay claims to have been a captain, either in the army or the gendarmerie.

The finding of the trunk and other articles in the apartment from which Poderjay was taken to jail last week threw the first definite light on the

WAUKEGAN CHIEF OF POLICE FIRED FOR THIRD TIME

For the third time in three weeks, the Waukegan city council last night fired the city's chief of police, Edwin Ahlstrom. The resolution dismissing the chief was identical to those adopted previously and was passed by the customary vote of 10 to 4.

The only difference in the ousting procedure came when Ald. Jacob Kyndberg arose to explain some of the reasons why the 10 members of the council did not approve of Chief Ahlstrom.

"We object to the chief's frequent vacations," he said to the audience of citizens in the chamber, "and we feel that a three week boat trip, a two week fishing trip, a one week amusement trip and 19 week-ends are too much time off for a city employé."

Although Chief Ahlstrom has refused to vacate his office, the city council so far has a slight edge in the dispute, since it failed to pay him in the last six weeks.

TEST COLORADO'S GAS CHAMBER BY PIG AND A DOG

Canon City, Colo., June 18.—(AP)—A squealing pig and a dog were put to death today in the first of six tests of the new lethal gas chamber at the Colorado penitentiary preliminary to the execution Friday night of William Cody Kelley, convicted murderer, who will be the new death house's first human victim.

Warden Roy Best said more tests will be made to determine how many death pills will be needed to assure a quick and certain death for Kelley.

Twelve cyanide balls were used to dispatch the two animals, Best said. The pig died quickly after uttering but one squeal. The dog's execution required two minutes longer.

Kelley was sentenced to die as the slayer of Russell Browning, wealthy Delta, Colo., recluse rancher.

GIVES $100,000 TO FIANCE, BUT SHE LOSES HIM

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Miss Florence Harriman gave Edward S. Donovan $100,000 during a period of time when she expected that he was going to marry her, according to papers filed in the Supreme court today.

Miss Harriman alleges that Mr. Donovan asked her to marry him and received her consent in 1917. On Sept. 12, last, he married Mrs. W. J. Connors, a widely known politician of Buffalo. Miss Harriman then sued Mr. Donovan for $250,000, charging breach of promise.

Today she submitted a motion for permission to examine the defendant before trial as to the use he made of the $100,000 which she alleges she gave him. The motion will be argued tomorrow.

Identify Seal; 'Executioner' Put It in Lake

Chicago's seal herd has been identified.

More than that, it has been definitly determined that it IS a seal, and not a sea lion, or a sea cow, or a sea elephant, or a seesaw.

Walter Chute, director of the Shedd aquarium, is the man who cleared up the mystery which has had the entire lake front on the south side of the city agog since the seal made its appearance last Friday, cavorting about and eating fish off the lines of annoyed fishermen.

Mr. Chute states that the creature is a baby seal which had been an invalid guest at the aquarium. Convinced that the seal was hopelessly ill with pneumonia, Mr. Chute told Ted Barron, the keeper of the seals to destroy it.

But Mr. Barron is a soft hearted man when it comes to sick baby seals. He looked deeply into the seal's eyes, and could not find it in his heart to harm the animal. So, when nobody was looking, he turned the seal loose in the lake.

Real Health Resort.

Apparently the beneficial climate of the lake was just what the seal needed, and he [or she] thrived.

Mr. Chute says now that the seal has recovered, he would be very glad indeed to welcome him back in the aquarium. But up pops a very great difficulty—a difficulty which is augmented by the fact that the seal shows no disposition to be caught.

That seal is under the protection of the President of the United States himself. Just harm a hair of that seal's head and the President, if he feels like it, can send out a gunboat, arrest you, slap you in jail for six months, and fine you $2,000.

This information came to light yesterday when United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green, and his assistant, Leo Hassenauer, looked up the law on the conservation of seals, which comes largely under the heading of "pelagic" [deep sea] sealing. The government views slaughter of these sleek creatures as very wrong.

Cave Person Tactics.

Nevertheless, the hunters continued yesterday to cruise about the vicinity of 86th street and the lake, where the seal bobbed up the day before.

Pelagic sealing is defined as hunting seals while they are swimming, and the law forbidding such practices apparently applies whether the deep sea happens to be south of the Aleutian islands or south of 86th street.

The legal way to kill a seal is to inveigle him on dry land and thump him over the eyebrows with a club. Even then you have to be pretty careful to whack only bachelor seals.

Thomas J. Lynch, inspector for the state department of conservation, stated that he sympathized with the seal, but that the Illinois law didn't give it any protection. In a moment of shortsightedness the general assembly failed to provide for an influx of pelagic football balancers.

PRESBYTERIANS BAR SWIMMING BY MIXED GROUPS

Springfield, Mo., June 18.—[Special.]—Mixed bathing and swimming of men and women was condemned as an "evil tendency and questionable social practice" by the Cumberland Presbyterian General assembly of the United States, in session here.

The resolution, adopted late today, condemning the practice of men and women swimming in the same pools included a clause that the church will "withdraw its moral and financial support from any persons or institutions who indulge in or encourage the practice."

Earlier in the day the convention, which includes 2,000 delegates from all sections of the nation, adopted a resolution expressing opposition to all war, "except in actual national defense."

EVANSTON YOUTH AT HARVARD DIES IN AUTO CRASH

Kennett Farrar Burnes, son of Mrs. Robert Marshall Roloson of 1114 Lake Shore boulevard, Evanston, who had just completed his freshman year at Harvard university, was fatally injured early today when his automobile left the road near Hyannis Port, Mass.

An unidentified girl companion was not hurt. Police took Burnes to the Cape Cod hospital in Hyannis, Mass., where he died.

The student's mother is the former Mrs. Adele Mellier Burnes of St. Louis. Her husband, R. M. Roloson, is in the commercial paper and securities business. He is president of Lane, Roloson & Co. and a director of the North American Accident Insurance company.

AMERICAN SAILOR IS STABBED TO DEATH IN HAVRE

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

HAVRE, June 18.—An American sailor from the Leviathan was stabbed to death and one of his mates was seriously wounded along the water front here today. Hans Peder Yensen, 34, a naturalized American, died several hours after he had been taken to a hospital and Robert Malanga, 19, a deck hand, is reported to be in a critical condition.

The fight started in a café and continued out in the street, where the sailors' assailants drew knives. The police are hunting the attackers.

Gives "Free" Movie; Held as Blue Law Violator

Memphis, Tenn., June 18.—(AP)—Charles Mensing, theater operator, was fined $25 today on a charge of operating a picture show yesterday in defiance of a Tennessee "blue law" prohibiting Sunday shows. He will appeal. Patrons were allowed the show by paying 40 cents for a sandwich and a cold drink. He contends that because he did not charge for the movie he did not violate the law.

HOUSE ENDS UP IN A DELIRIUM OF VAUDEVILLE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—Boom de ay! from the horns of the Marine band.

Bang! a whack of the speaker's gavel.

Yow! a pent-up yell from the servants of the people.

And the house of representatives tonight rang down the curtain on act two of that serio-comic performance billed far and near as the seventy-third congress of these United States.

Though they sought to bring it down with a dignity that suddenly and unaccountably came to rest upon their shoulders, the final curtain hit the floor 'midst all the hub-hub and hilarity traditional to the house on adjournment night.

Stage Impromptu Show.

On a pre-arranged performance the membership clamped an indignant censorship. Such proceedings, they decided, might hold the house up to "ridicule and subject it to criticism and contempt," but they turned right around and staged an impromptu show that left nothing to be desired by the thousand spectators that packed the galleries, itching to see congressmen clown.

In anticipation of the session's end a group of congressional impresarios had conceived a program of fun and song and jollity for presentation immediately the speaker's gavel signaled adjournment. The Marine band, in connivance with the producers, was at hand to occupy the orchestra pit.

Performers Rarin' to Go.

All was in readiness, the performers rarin' to go, when suddenly John E. Rankin of Mississippi arose to offer a resolution which read in part as follows:

"Whereas, such a performance is contrary to the wishes of the majority of the thinking members of congress, for the reason that it will be sent out to the country as the performance of congress itself and immediately reflect discredit upon the house of representatives and hold this body up to ridicule and subject it to criticism and contempt;

"Therefore, be it resolved, That such an entertainment in the hall of the house of representatives be and is hereby forbidden."

Vote for Their Own Dignity.

Hotly the principal impresarios—Representative Claude Fuller of Arkansas and Representative William I. Sirovich of New York—protested, but vainly. For what else could congressmen do but vote for their own dignity, and vote that way they did. The resolution passed overwhelmingly and the show was off, or so every one believed.

But when Majority Leader Byrns proposed a moment later that the house stand temporarily in recess, Mr. Fuller's saddended face brightened with inspiration. He suggested that the Marine band be permitted to "entertain" in lieu of a recess inasmuch as the band was at hand. To this Mr. Rankin and the house agreed. In came the band and the fun began.

Before long, as the horns tooted and the drum tattooed in such catchy tunes as "Dixie" and "Happy Days Are Here Again," the house was singing its head off. A sextet arose to render something sad and mournful, the name of which no one seemed to know. Then Representative William P. Connery of Massachusetts, who prefaced congressional service with a turn as song and dance man in vaudeville, was singing a solo.

A Congressman Sings Tenor.

In a somewhat worn tenor he started out with "Massachusetts." About the middle, however, he stopped and, leaping to the clerk's desk on the speaker's

TWELVE BILLION VOTED TO CARRY OUT POLICIES

Members Leave for Campaigns.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—Having organized "the Roosevelt revolution" and appropriated 12 billion dollars to carry forward the New Deal, the 73rd congress came to an end late tonight.

After breaking the jam of legislation that prevented adjournment Saturday night and wearing out a one man filibuster against the railway labor bill, the senate adjourned sine die at 11:05 p. m. The house lingered awhile longer in an exhibition of song singing and farewell highjinks before Speaker Rainey gave the final tap of the gavel.

By midnight the legislators were trooping out of Washington, homeward bound to mend their political fences for the congressional elections next November.

What It Did Last Day.

The major accomplishments of this last day of the session were:

1. Passage of the 2 billion 300 million dollar deficiency appropriation bill which brought the aggregate appropriations for this session up to 6 billion 800 million dollars.

2. Passage of the billion dollar national housing bill to revive the building trades and the durable goods industries.

3. Passage of the farm mortgage moratorium bill, frankly described by its sponsors as a measure for a partial cancelation of debts that may become general.

4. Passage of the railway labor bill setting up mediation machinery for the settlement of disputes between railroads and their employés.

Roosevelt Sends Message.

A few hours before the adjournment President Roosevelt sent to Vice President Garner and Speaker Rainey the following message:

"Before the final adjournment of the 73d congress I want to send through you to the members thereof my sincere compliments and good wishes. This congress will go down in history as one of the large accomplishments for the national good. May I add to this my own feeling of deep satisfaction in the fine spirit of cooperation which has existed between the legislative and executive branches of the government. May you all have and enjoy a well earned holiday."

After the filibuster against the railway labor bill petered out at the dinner hour, both houses killed time, awaiting the conference report on the housing bill, the reconciliation of differences on which had consumed the entire day.

House Okays Housing Bill.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the housing bill conference report reached the house where it occasioned some debate, but was finally approved and sent to the senate. Received at 10:37 in the senate, it was approved instanter without a single objection or inquiry as to the details of the compromise reached. Senators on both sides of the aile, eager to get away, were willing to take the word of the leaders that the bill was O. K.

The Vice President then appointed Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.] and Minority Leader Charles L. McNary [Rep., Ore.] a committee to wait on the President and inquire if he had any further communications to transmit. At 11 p. m. the two senators reappeared and reported that Mr. Roosevelt said he had nothing more to communicate. After quick passage of a flock of minor bills in the next five minutes, the vice-president pronounced the sine die adjournment.

President Roosevelt retired soon after receiving word of the adjournment.

Members Say Good-by.

An unusual scene took place in both houses for the first time. Because of the elimination of lame duck sessions by the Norris amendment to the constitution, members said their farewells to each other in the realization that those who are defeated in November will not be back as of yore after the election.

The one man filibuster against the railway labor bill was staged by Senator Daniel Hastings [Rep., Del.], who sought to demonstrate that the opposition to the measure was not confined to the Pennsylvania railroad, because it puts in a crimp in company unions. He read scores of letters from employés of other railroads opposing the bill.

The collapse of the Hastings filibuster came suddenly and found many senators absent from the senate. He had announced that he would argue for five hours, perhaps until midnight, in his effort to prevent a vote upon the railway labor bill.

Reads from Long Records.

While he was reading interminably from a record of hearings which had been held on the bill—a record which was in several volumes, of which the one being read by the senator was 168 pages long—various of Mr. Hastings' colleagues were seen to approach him in supplicating manner. Suddenly it was apparent he had surrendered, for several senators were clamoring for the privilege of the floor, asking Mr. Hastings to yield. The senators were asking for consideration of a number of private bills, and finally the Delaware senator announced he would yield the floor if the senate would enter into an understanding that no private bills be considered except by unanimous consent. He granted permission that the senate might vote immediately upon the railway labor bill.

This understanding was agreed to, and within two minutes, without further debate and without a roll call, the important measure was adopted.

Senator Hastings abandoned his filibuster after his Republican colleagues prevailed upon him forcibly with arguments that he had no support anywhere in the chamber, that he alone was responsible for holding up adjournment of the session, and all to no avail. The bill would be adopted anyhow as soon as his voice wore out, the senator was told.

Stops 36 Bills' Passage.

However, Mr. Hastings did gain one point by his insistence that no new business should be transacted by the senate except by unanimous consent. The house had sent some 36 private bills into the senate, some of which were objectionable to the Republican side, and when Majority Leader Robinson agreed to the Hastings condition, the objectionable bills were prevented from being passed.

The rule worked strangely in one instance. A bill sponsored by Senator Costigan which would have made lynching a federal offense, and put up drastic penalties against it, was defeated by the sole objection of Senator Edward "Cotton Ed" Smith, Democrat of the Dixie state of South Carolina.

In the house it was a day of waiting, spent, for the most part, in the passage of minor bills on the private and consent calendars. With the conferees working on the housing bill and the senate occupied with the railway labor disputes bill, the house had little to do but stand ready to act when it should become necessary.

Most important of the lower body's actions probably was its agreement en bloc to senate amendments to the Kerr tobacco control bill—an agreement which completed congressional action on legislation extending over the nation's tobacco producers the same measure of compulsory federal control already imposed upon cotton farmers in the Bankhead cotton bill.

Bulkley Clears Way

The way was cleared for adjournment tonight when Senator Robert J. Bulkley [Dem., O.] withdrew the amendments to the banking laws, the pressure of which upset the plans of the leaders to get away Saturday night.

Whether the President will sign the farm mortgage moratorium bill is a matter of much interest. The measure, the constitutionality of which is widely questioned, was shoved through without any consideration in the senate and little in the house. One theory is that the President will sign it because the farmers want it and because the relief it will afford debtors in the agricultural regions will minimize the demand for inflation of the currency in the months to come. An opinion by the attorney general that it is unconstitutional, however, might cause the President to reject it.

Fight on Mortgage Bill.

The farm mortgage and bankruptcy bill was the basis of a heated fight.

The bill as amended permits any farmer whose property is mortgaged to enter into agreement with his creditors for the scaling down of his indebtedness and if the creditors refuse to agree it permits the farmer to go into the federal courts and have an appraisal made of the present cash value of the property.

Then the court will permit the farmer to pay the amount of the cash value in small instalments graduated upward over a period of years with interest at 1 per cent. If the creditor refuses to accept the appraisal of the court, the court will then order a stay of all proceedings for a period of six years, during which the farmer may stay upon his lands for the payment of a fair rental to be fixed by the court.

Entering Wedge for Cancellation.

It was Senator Hastings who drew from one of the leading advocates of the farm mortgage moratorium that the measure is viewed as the entering wedge for a general cancellation of the debts of all classes of our people.

"Why are farmers the only class to whom this bill is to apply?" Mr. Hastings demanded. "Why do you not include those who have mortgages on their homes and the owners of stores struggling under mortgages, and every one else with a mortgage, and give them the opportunity of forcing a six year moratorium on their debts?"

"I would be in favor of including them," said Senator Henrik Shipstead [Farmer-Laborite, Minn.], a leading advocate of the bill. "I think it would be wise to include them and thereby avoid a general repudiation of debts. The bill as it stands, applying to farmers only, is a bill for a partial cancellation of debts."

Should Treat All Alike.

"This is unlike any other bankruptcy legislation," said Senator Hastings. "In such bankruptcy legislation as we have passed all classes have been treated alike. Debtors could make a composition if 75 per cent of their creditors agreed. Nobody ever suggested that a debtor could compel all his creditors to consent.

"In this bill a farmer merely because he is a farmer can go into court and get his property appraised and then may stay there for six years so long as he pays one per cent of the appraised value as interest on his obligations.

"I ask in all fairness when we are trying to help the distressed everywhere what is going to be the condition of the poor widow with a mortgage on that farm or the poor clerk with a deposit in an institution holding mortgages on those farms? Why not declare a moratorium on all debts in this country? If you are going to do it for one class why not do it for all? We have voted 525 millions of dollars for the farmers in the drouth region. When is there to be an end of it all?"

Senator Augustine Lonergan [Dem., Conn.] rose to declare that the measure will violate the constitutional guarantee against the taking of property without just compensation.

"This law," he said, "will affect billions of dollars of mortgages held by government agencies. It will impair the security of the bonds issued by the government with farm paper behind them. It will impair the securities held by insurance companies and educational and philanthropic institutions. It will destroy the security of millions of widows and orphans who are dependent upon the assets of these institutions."

Senator David I. Walsh [Dem., Mass.], supporting the charges of Senator Lonergan, declared he was informed that one insurance company alone held 100 million dollars' worth of farm mortgages, and that the entire amount of such paper held by insurance companies is more than a billion dollars.

Says Bill Sneaked Through.

"This is dangerous and destructive legislation," Walsh insisted. He declared that when the bill was first passed by the senate, without debate and without a record vote, many senators were off the floor and others had no idea of the nature of the bill they were voting for.

Senator Simeon D. Fess [Rep., O.] argued that the rights of 68 million people were endangered by the bill.

"We must consider the fact that the millions of people either owning or benefited by these farm mortgages are entitled to consideration," Fess argued. "We are dealing here with the structure of credit and we may break down the security of the very people who are sought here to be benefited."

Senator Lynn J. Frazier [Radical N. D.], one of the authors of the bill, remarked drily that the farmers to be benefited by the act "have no credit left," and he was echoed by Senator Henrik Shipstead [Farmer-Labor, Minn.], who declared that the debts involved "can never be paid," and that by getting a fair cash value for the property the mortgage holders will receive all they can get anyway.

Long Delivers Harangue.

Senator Long then delivered one of his habitually long and violent harangues in support of the bill. He shouted that the papers relating to the conference report had been lost somewhere in the house, and he shouted that if he were Dillinger's lawyer and wanted to protect the killer from capture he would "put him somewhere in this capital and he'd never be found."

The galleries as usual gave Long laughter and applause, until Vice President Garner threatened to clear the spectators from their seats. Long later found the papers in his own pocket.

Majority Leader Robinson attempted to assure Long that the bill would be brought to a vote, but the Louisianan refused to believe.

"It won't hurt this congress to listen to me awhile," he declared, "and I guess I'll just talk until that conference report comes in here. This is the only bill that has did anything for the farmers of the country and I'm agonna see it's passed."

Long revealed that even though the house had not yet formally agreed to a conference on the bill, the conferees privately agreed upon by the leaders had already met and had agreed on a report, had it typed and even signed. When it was finally reported by the clerk that the house had consented to a conference, Long attempted to put his preconceived report before the senate at once, but Senator Robinson objected to the propriety of such a move.

Refuses to Give Up Floor.

Long refused to give up the floor, saying he was afraid the congress would be adjourned while he was out of the chamber redesigning the conference report, but finally after requiring Senator Robinson once again to promise that the bill would be brought up for debate Long left and went through the motions of signing the conference report.

The proponents of the measure did not waste much time defending it. It meant far more votes for senators and congressmen up for reëlection. The sponsors of the measure knew they had votes to spare in the senate to pass it.

The sixteen who voted against it were:

REPUBLICANS—Austin [Vt.], Barbour [N. J.], Fess [O.], Gibson [Vt.], Goldsborough [Md.], Hastings [Del.], Hebert [R. I.], Keane [N. J.], Patterson [Mo.], Townsend [Del.], White [Me.].

DEMOCRATS—Brown [N. H.], Coolidge [Mass.], Lonergan [Conn.], Wagner [N. Y.], Walsh [Mass.].

Senator Dill Insists.

Meanwhile Senator Clarence C. Dill [Dem., Wash.] rose to voice an insistence that the railway labor bill be debated by the senate. Majority Leader Robinson then disclosed that the President and the Democratic leadership had agreed not to press the railway bill in the nterests of effecting an early adjournment.

"I favor the passage of the railway labor bill," Mr. Robinson said, "but I have been informed that it will meet with very resistant opposition and require an indefinite length of time for debate.

"I have consulted with the President and a large number of the senators and we felt that if the measure could have been brought over earlier it could have been disposed of. But the President thinks, and I agree, that if the measure is to be discussed at such length it should go over to the next session."

Wheeler Threatens Filibuster.

This provoked the ire of Senator Wheeler, who announced:

"Unless we get an opportunity to vote on this bill I and a number of other senators will do what we can to prevent this congress from adjourning. It is opposed by not more than ten senators on this floor. The chief opposition comes only from the Pennsylvania railroad."

A minor bill was then brought up and passed by unanimous consent, but consideration of further bills by this means was stopped by Senator La Follette, who announced that he would refuse to permit the conduct of business by unanimous consent until "we get some action on this railroad labor bill."

The railway bill was taken up after this debate; its passage was followed by action on the other measures and the session was over.

New Bill Gives Rail Labor All Privileges of the NRA

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—The railway labor bill sent to the White House tonight in the closing hours of the 73d congress is intended by its sponsors to give the railway employés the same rights of collective bargaining as are given to other industrial workers under the NRA, which does not apply to the railroads.

In the first sections the bill establishes the right of employés to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, whether the representatives are employés of the carriers or not.

Hits Company Unions.

A blow at industrial domination of company unions is struck in another section which prohibits the managements to influence or coerce any employés to join a labor union or organization not of their choice, and forbids the companies from making contributions to labor organizations. Senator Burton K. Wheeler [Dem., Mont.] made an effort to outlaw company unions by name, but his amendment on this subject was defeated.

Machinery is then provided for the settlement of such disputes as may arise. If the dispute is over who are the proper representatives of the employés, a national mediation board is authorized to investigate the facts, conduct an election, if necessary, and certify the results to carriers and employés.

The bill then provides for the creation of a national board of adjustment, to be composed of 36 members, 18 to be selected by the labor unions and 18 by the carriers. Disputes which cannot be settled by conference between the parties will be submitted to the national board at the request of either. The bill divides the board into four divisions to handle the various classifications of employés, and disputes may be heard by two or more members of any division. The final decision must be rendered by a majority of the whole division.

Mediation Board Next.

In event of a failure by the division to agree, the dispute will be taken to the national mediation board in the same manner as provided in the existing railway labor act.

Headquarters of the adjustment board are placed at Chicago. It is provided however, that any division of the adjustment board may establish regional boards to hear complaints and render findings.

The old railway mediation board is abolished by the bill and the President is authorized to appoint three members at $10,000 annual salaries, to a "national mediation board" which will hear appeals from the adjustment board and any other disputes not referable to the adjustment board.

The powers of the mediation board under existing law are strengthened and altered somewhat under the new bill.

ROOSEVELT DELAYS SIGNING OF SILVER BILL TILL TOMORROW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—Delay in adjourning congress tonight forced President Roosevelt to postpone until tomorrow night the signing of the administration silver bill.

The President had originally intended to sign the silver bill at 8:45 o'clock tonight in the presence of the congressmen who sponsored the legislation. Not until two hours later did the White House reveal that he had not actually signed the measure, but had postponed the ceremony until tomorrow night.

The inability of the silver senators and representatives to leave the floor of congress as adjournment approached was the reason for the postponement. The hour of 8:45 p. m. had been chosen because at that time silver markets throughout the world are closed.

12½ BILLION DEBT AFFECTED BY NEW FARM MEASURE

Mortgages to Be Slashed 20 to 40 Per Cent.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—A total farm indebtedness of 12½ billion dollars is affected by the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage moratorium bill passed by congress today.

The farm mortgage debt of the country is now 8½ billions and personal indebtedness of farmers on all chattels is estimated at 4 billions.

First mortgages are expected to be scaled down from 20 to 40 per cent. Second, third, and fourth lien holders can be forced to write off as much as 70 per cent.

Teeth for Bankruptcy Act.

Representative William Lemke [Rep., N. D.] says the bill is intended to put teeth in the conciliation provisions of the 1932 bankruptcy act. The bill is also intended to force large insurance companies to accept farm credit administration financing for the farmer. The farm credit administration is finding it difficult to get insurance companies to take its bonds even with the principal guaranteed and has begun to force farmers to take the bonds instead of cash for loans.

Under the terms of the bill the court is required, on the filing of the petition in bankruptcy, to appoint three appraisers. When the appraisal, made on the basis of "fair and reasonable value," is concluded, the farmer requests that the referee, after setting aside the exemptions required by the various state laws, shall "sell" back to him the property involved in the bankrupt estate. The sale price is to be the new appraised value, and the terms of the sale are:

Terms of Sale.

Payment of 1 per cent interest upon the appraised price, not the original debt, the first year; payment of 2½ per cent of the appraised price in each of the second and third years; payment of 5 per cent of the appraised price in the fourth and fifth years, and payment of the balance of the new principal in the sixth year. The interest is to be no more than 1 per cent per year.

If the creditor or creditors do not agree, the court is required to stay all proceedings for five years. During that period the debtor farmer retains complete possession of the obligated property under the control of the court, paying only a reasonable yearly rental fixed by the court.

At any time during the five years the farmer, if able to secure refinancing, can ask for a new appraisal, which must be granted. The procedure, then, is the same as under the scaling down provisions, except that the creditor this time must make a choice as between the first appraisal and the new appraisal.

Provides for Debt Scaling.

The bill provides machinery for scaling down all existing farm indebtedness, personal and real, or a compulsory moratorium of five years on all debts in the event of objections by the creditor to the terms of the new appraised debt.

If a distressed farmer debtor is unable to compose his obligations under the operations of the conciliation committees of the bankruptcy act amendments of 1932, under the Frazier-Lemke bill he can amend his petition by asking to be declared a bankrupt.

If, however, the creditor is not satisfied with this appraisal or other terms, the moratorium provision of the act immediately becomes compulsorily operative.

HOUSING BILL IS PASSED; BILLIONS TO HOME OWNERS

Congress Extends Federal Credit.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—As its closing major act of the session, congress tonight sent to the White House the far reaching housing legislation requested by President Roosevelt as a mechanism for extending new federal credit to the home owners of the nation.

Its final passage with hardly a dissenting murmur in either branch was in sharp contrast to the strife which had marked its progress heretofore.

Republicans as well as Democrats in the house, more voluble than the senate, described it just a moment before final enactment as one of the most constructive forward steps in the national recovery program.

To Lend Billions.

In general, the legislation sets up a governmental mechanism for extending to home owners credit not available to them through private sources. Billions of dollars, insured by the government, are proposed to be advanced under its terms to citizens who desire to renovate their homes or build new dwellings.

Wide differences between the bill as it passed the house and the senate were compromised in conference, after considerable bickering between spokesmen for the two branches, and the conference report was adopted by both house without opposition.

As it goes now to the White House for the President's signature the measure creates a federal housing administration to direct and supervise the home construction and modernization program contemplated by the President. It is expected that Harry Hopkins, federal relief administrator, will be named housing administrator in charge of the new program, retaining at the same time his present post.

RFC to Furnish 200 Millions.

The Federal Housing administration is to be furnished with $200,000,000 by the Reconstruction Finance corporation for loans to prospective home builders and renovators.

In addition, the measure provides for an increase of one billion dollars in the borrowing power of the Home Owners' Loan corporation, of which 900 millions is to supplement funds already available to the HOLC for refinancing home mortgages and the remaining 100 millions for repair and modernization loans.

In order to promote the establishment of new home owner credit sources, the measure provides for the establishment of a system of semigovernmental "national mortgage associations," to be capitalized privately at not less than $5,000,000 but to be supervised and controled by the government. These associations will buy up mortgages, insured against loss by the federal government under the provisions of the bill.

To Insure Depositors.

Through a new "savings and loan insurance corporation," the government will also undertake to insure individual depositors in home-financing institutions against loss should an institution fail. This, it is expected, will encourage the deposit of funds with such organizations and provide more funds with which to extend credit to home owners.

Despite the billions of dollars involved in the measure, only a relatively small amount will appear in the governmental budget. The 200 millions from the RFC and the 10 millions to administer the "national mortgage association" provisions of the measure, are all that will show in the emergency budget.

The 100 million dollar capital provided for the "savings and loan insurance corporation" will be in bonds of the HOLC, a contingent liability of the government, but will not show in the treasury statement.

SOCIAL CONTROL OF MILK URGED BY COMMITTEE

A plan for social control of Chicago's milk supply was offered yesterday by the consumer interests committee of the City Club of Chicago in a bulletin issued by the organization.

The plan would offer producers, organized labor, capital and the consumer shares in a coöperative project organized as a "limited dividend corporation." The committee has named the plan "Ladco."

Dr. Arthur E. Holt, member of the committee, criticised the present milk distribution system in explaining why the new plan was drafted. The farmer, he said, is unable to obtain a fair return for producing milk, although "there is every reason to believe that some of the largest companies have more water in their stock than the farmers have ever thought of putting in the milk.

"The route distribution system is wasteful and overlapping.

"The control of the largest companies is almost entirely from New York. Decisions are often dictated by considerations foreign to Chicago's interest."

SCHOOLS MASS DATA TO OBTAIN PAY ROLL LOAN

Bond Issue to Be Argued Tomorrow in Court.

School trustees and officials of the board of education moved swiftly yesterday for the immediate filing of an application for $25,447,240 of RFC funds to pay in full the back salaries of Chicago teachers and other school workers. Congress on Saturday night sanctioned loans to school districts that can put up adequate collateral.

The filing of the application will await information from Washington on the form and requirements. James B. McCahey, president of the school board, ordered Harry Brackett, school auditor, and other officials to gather all the needed data. The board, following the program of Mayor Kelly, plans to sell bonds to the federal government, offering as additional security about 30 million dollars worth of school property in the city that is not used for educational purposes.

Mr. McCahey received word that Richard S. Folsom, attorney for the school board, was speeding by train from Washington to Chicago last night.

City's Position Strong.

Folsom, who has been the official representative of the board in the Washington negotiations, spent the day conferring with RFC officials in connection with the application.

The credit of the school board, strengthened by its economy program, plus the property that will be pledged to Uncle Sam as additional security for the grant, make Chicago's plea for money to pay the teachers the strongest, it was said, of any school district.

Frank S. Righeimer, special attorney for the board, will leave for Springfield tonight to present oral arguments tomorrow in the mandamus action brought to test the validity of the bonds. The school board brought the action to compel City Controler Upham to sign the bonds.

If the bonds are held to be legal it is expected that the final conferences with the RFC will take place and the long awaited loan from the federal government will materialize in a few days.

Large Sums in Offing.

Meanwhile telegrams and letters of congratulations and appreciation were pouring in on Mayor Kelly and McCahey for their successful battle to put over the program.

Substantial sums of money will reach the school employés for the payless period extending from Nov. 1, 1933, to June 1, 1934, if the entire loan of $25,447,240 is granted. The major classifications of school employés, if the loan goes through, would receive back pay as follows:

Class.	Maximum salary.	Minimum salary.
High school principal	$3,391	$2,558
High school teacher	2,261	1,071
Elementary principal	2,856	1,785
Elementary teacher	1,487	892
Engineers	2,796	1,785
Janitors	862	[one rate only]
Janitresses	743	[one rate only]

The $25,447,240 represents $21,443,670 in back salaries for 17,000 teachers and $4,003,568 for 4,000 civil service workers in the schools.

Because of the wording of the act passed by congress some doubt exists whether the government will lend the money for any other class of employés than teachers. It was said by school officials, however, that if the government will not advance the $4,003,568 for the civil service employés the school board will be able to meet the obligation from its own resources.

FOLSOM TAKES ACTION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—Preliminary negotiations for a 25 million dollar loan from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to meet Chicago's delinquent school pay rolls were undertaken today by Richard Folsom, attorney for the Chicago board of education.

Following a conference with Stanley Reed, RFC general counsel, Folsom announced that a formal application requesting funds for the payment of teachers' back salaries will be filed by the school board at once, probably within the next week or ten days.

Reed was unable today to advise him as to the precise form in which the application must be made, Folsom said. The RFC, according to Reed, has not yet had opportunity to study the provisions of the Sabath measure passed by congress on Saturday, and has not yet decided what shall be construed as "adequate collateral" for school loans.

The RFC counsel suggested, however, that Folsom prepare an application immediately, drafted along the general lines of ordinary RFC and PWA applications, setting forth the amount desired, the nature of security to be offered, title to lands proposed to be put up as collateral, and the authority whereby school board property is offered. In this way, Reed suggested, it will be possible for the Chicago board of education to receive earliest consideration.

Folsom said following the conference that he had advised Reed that the school board has statutory power to mortgage or pledge any property which it owns aside from that used for educational purposes.

OLSON DEMANDS LANGER OUSTER; TROOPS CALLED

Bismarck, N. D., June 18.—(AP)—A demand that Governor William Langer be ousted from office because of his conviction of a felony was made tonight on Attorney General P. O. Sathre.

The demand came from counsel for Lieut. Gov. Ole H. Olson, who claims he now is the legal chief executive of the state.

By special delivery mail Olson's request was delivered to the attorney general, a political ally of Langer, to climax a day of activity that saw federal troops marshaled as a precaution against threats made against Judge Andrew Miller, who presided in the Langer trial.

The tenseness continued tonight but outwardly all was quiet. The two political camps maintained policies of "watchful waiting," following the most hectic day ever experienced in the state's political history.

Both political camps matched wits, the Langer faction determined to prevent any coup that might unseat the state executive, the Olson faction moving toward court action by which they hope to place the lieutenant governor in the state's highest office.

Outside the executive's offices today, the sherif of Burleigh county and a deputy stood guard, ordered there by Langer.

Judge Miller this morning deferred sentence on Langer and four associates convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government until June 29—two days after the June primary in which Langer is again a gubernatorial candidate. The five men face maximum sentences of two years' imprisonment.

No Formal Denials

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Both Jon Morrow Lindbergh and Gene Lauder Tunney may soon have brothers, or sisters perhaps.

For three weeks now Anne Morrow Lindbergh has been appearing regularly at the office of Dr. Edward M. Hawks, who supervised the stork's activities both in behalf of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr. and Jon, now nearly 2.

The second addition to the Tunney family—Gene Jr., was born Nov. 18, 1931, the same year that the first little Lindbergh was snatched from his crib and slain—will arrive first, if signs do not fail. The former heavyweight champ has already made hospital arrangements for the former Polly Lauder, the Connecticut heiress who became Mrs. Tunney in 1928.

Official confirmation of the forthcoming births was withheld in both the Lindbergh and Tunney households today. But there were no formal denials. Friends of both families made no secret of the fact that both are laying in fresh supplies of baby clothes.

FIRE DAMAGES OLD AUSTIN HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

Fire of mysterious origin attacked the old building of the Austin High school early today and gained such rapid headway that a 4-11 alarm was sounded for additional fire fighting equipment. The high school, comprised of the old structure and a large new structure, occupies the section bounded by Fulton street and Long, Lotus and West End avenues.

The blaze originated either in the English style basement or first floor of the old building and spread to the second floor. Firemen succeeded in preventing its spread to the third floor and to the new building.

However, the flames were difficult to fight, for they burst out between the walls. Dozens of firemen were kept busy chopping holes in the walls to get at the flames. They were additionally hampered by dense clouds of smoke. Firemen appeared at all windows for momentary breaths of fresh air. Several thousand neighborhood residents left their beds to witness the fire. Marshal Michael Corrigan directed the firemen. The damage early was conservatively estimated at $25,000.

There was some suspicion that the fire was the work of a firebug who has been at work recently in the Austin district. Last week he set fire to the Third Unitarian church in Lake street, and to a home and a garage.

Young Rogalski Put on Trial for Fatal Kidnaping of Baby

The trial of George Rogalski, 14 years old, who is charged with kidnaping and killing Dorette Zietlow, 2 years old, moved swiftly yesterday before Judge Francis B. Allegretti in the Criminal court. The jury was sworn in at 3:30 p. m. and by adjournment time the prosecution had presented to the jury two of its chief witnesses.

Assistant State's Attorneys Richard Regan and Alexander J. Napoli chose to try Rogalski on the kidnaping charge rather than the murder indictment. They explained that under the kidnaping charge the jury would have a wider range of punishment than under the murder charge. The jury can fix a punishment of any number of years from one year to life under the kidnaping indictment whereas under the murder charge the minimum punishment would be 14 years in the penitentiary.

Prosecutor Outlines Case.

Before the witnesses took the stand Prosecutor Regan told the jurors he would show that on April 8 Dorette was playing in an alley adjacent to her grandmother's home at 1942 North Central Park avenue. She was with her brother, Kenneth, 4 years old, and a neighborhood child called Sonny.

Young Rogalski enticed Dorette to an abandoned icehouse at 1780 Milwaukee avenue and, after stripping her of her clothing, allowed her to die from starvation and exposure, the prosecutor said.

"We are not charging the commission of any sex crimes," said Prosecutor Regan. "The evidence will show that the defendant made no effort to attack this baby, but allowed her to die."

Boy Ruled Out as Witness.

The trial took a dramatic turn at the end of the day's court session when Prosecutor Regan attempted to call as his third witness little Kenneth, brother of the dead girl. The small boy, who had to be lifted to the arm of the witness chair by a bailif, was questioned by Judge Allegretti as to his qualification to understand a court oath. Some of the questioning follows:

Q.—Do you go to school? A.—No.

Q.—To kindergarten? A.—No, to Sunday school.

Q.—Does your grandmother scold you? A.—Yes.

Q.—Why? A.—Because sometimes I am a bad boy.

Q.—Do you tell your grandmother stories sometimes? A.—No, she tells them to me.

Q.—If you tell your grandmother untrue stories what does she do? A.—I get a spanking.

Judge Allegretti ruled that the child did not have enough experience to know the meaning of an oath and therefore could not be allowed to testify.

The first prosecution witness was George Zietlow, father of the dead Dorette. He was questioned by Mr. Regan.

Q.—Who had the care and custody of your children on April 8? A.—My mother-in-law, Mrs. Witte.

Q.—Was that with your permission? A.—Yes, at my request.

Q.—Where is your wife? A.—In an institution.

The next witness was the grandmother, Mrs. Dora Witte, a small woman dressed in black.

Q.—When was the last time you saw Dorette? A.—About 3 or 4 Sunday afternoon [April 8] when she came in the house.

Q.—How long did she stay in the house? A.—A very short time. I sent her out after Kenneth.

Q.—Did you see her again that day? A.—No.

Q.—Did you see her Monday? A.—No.

Q.—Did you see her Tuesday? A.—Yes, at St. Elizabeth's hospital in the operating room.

At this point Mrs. Witte had to stop to control her emotions before she could tell of the vain fight made by nurses and physicians to save Dorette.

Young Rogalski Nervous.

Young Rogalski, seated beside the counsel table, swung his feet nervously as the witnesses testified. He wore a new knicker suit and new shoes and stockings.

Before the start of the trial Defense Attorney Thaddeus Tudor, who is being assisted by Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach, said he would be willing to have his client placed in an institution to be observed by physicians, but would fight his incarceration in the penitentiary.

Rogalski's father, John, and his mother, Sophie, both were in court. They said they think their son has "learned his lesson and should be freed."

YOUTH ACCUSED OF RAPING GIRL IN GRANT PARK

Charged with raping a 15 year old girl in Grant park, Paul Helms, 24 years old, 1836 Calumet avenue, was arrested by Central police last night. He denied the accusation.

The girl, Miss Helen Davis, 1830 Calumet avenue, a student at Englewood High school, told police she accompanied Helms to a loop theater Saturday night, and later walked with him into Grant park. Near 11th street, she charged, he overpowered and attacked her.

Following a medical examination by Dr. J. M. Leonard, 638 West 18th street, Miss Davis' mother notified police. Yesterday a warant for Helms' arrest was obtained.

EDITH McCORMICK MANSION SOUGHT FOR RESTAURANT

Zone Change Is Asked at 1000 Lake Shore.

A proposal to convert the mansion of the late Edith Rockefeller McCormick at 1000 Lake Shore drive into an eating and drinking place for the public was revealed yesterday at a meeting of the city zoning board of appeals.

Mrs. Vera Megowan Daro, restaurant operator of Evanston, spoke in support of her petition to permit a variation of the zoning law for the famous residence and its garden. The garden, fronting on Oak street, has already been zoned for commercial use, as a result, it was later said, of a clerical error.

Nonetheless, the lessee would be entitled to add 25 feet of space to the total allowed for commercial use which would be about a third of the house itself. She seeks to use the entire place.

Neighbor Enters Objection.

"Lunches and dinners would be served in the house and the garden," Mrs. Daro explained. "Outdoor eating places are proving very popular. We would also expect to serve liquor with meals. The patrons would be the best, and probably the place would not be open long after 8 o'clock at night."

Some arrangement, the petitioner indicated, might be made with a garage to handle all of the customers' cars so as not to add to the already great parking difficulties of the gold coast district.

Frank Sims, 112 Bellevue place, the street forming the northern boundary of the McCormick parcel, objected to the plan. It would do serious harm to the value of all property, he contended, particularly if signs or bright lights were part of the scheme.

Fears for Property Values.

A representative of Charles E. Peace, who lives at 105 East Bellevue place and is Republican committeeman for the ward, the 42d, declared he had the objections of the owners of 850 front feet on this street. There are already, he pointed out, 30 restaurants in the vicinity.

Richard E. Schmidt, who has resided at 113 Bellevue place for 30 years, said he was afraid the exclusive street would become "as blighted as Oak street and Delaware place" if the petition were allowed.

It was remarked that no taxes were being paid at present on the McCormick place.

"But I pay mine," replied Schmidt.

Calls for Croesus.

A. D. Welton Jr. appeared for his mother, Mrs. Maude W. Welton, the owner of property at 43 and 45 Bellevue. He brought up the question of whether the McCormick house could be used again as a residence.

"Can you think of any one who could live there?" asked Col. A. A. Sprague, chairman of the appeals board.

"Not unless they had unlimited means," Welton admitted.

"And I haven't heard of any one like that lately," Col. Sprague added.

Ald. Dorsey R. Crowe of the 42d ward, who lives at 65 Bellevue place, insisted that the provision for commercial use of the McCormick garden was "an oversight and a clerical error." He said he was a member of the city council committee that drew up the clause and that this meaning was never intended.

Open to Apartment.

An eastern firm has asked him "forty times" to rezone the 1000 Lake Shore drive estate, and would purchase it if commercial use were allowed, Ald. Crowe declared.

Chairman Sprague pointed out that a 20 story apartment hotel could be erected on the location now without any change in the zoning ordinance.

Corporation Counsel William H. Sexton then learned that the owners of the property, the heirs of the Edith Rockefeller McCormick estate, were not present, and the hearing was continued to July 2 to give them the opportunity to appear.

The zoning board of appeals will eventually make a recommendation concerning the petition, but it will remain for the city council to decide the matter.

Zaro Agha, 164, Delirious; Taken Back to Hospital

ISTANBUL, June 18.—(AP)—Zaro Agha—believed to be the oldest man in the world—went back into the children's hospital today, delirious and with a high fever. His aged daughter, Gullu Hanoum, said he was greatly agitated by allegations that his claim of being 164 years old was false. Agha recently was discharged from the same hospital after a short period there for medical attention.

GIRL ATTACKED BY ROBBER.

Miss Winifred Miller, 23 years old, was attacked by a bandit late Sunday night in the lobby of the Baldwin apartment hotel, 126 South Central avenue, where she lives. The robber escaped with $4 taken from her purse.

HOUSE VOTES FOR ITS OWN DIGNITY AND THEN CLOWNS

Sings, Recites Poetry, Tosses Bouquets.

rostrum, broke into the stirring strains of "Madelon." The house went into a delirium of applause and Mr. Connery began verse two, in encore.

In walked Mr. Rankin, censor of the evening, viewing the proceeding in pained surprise. Simultaneously in came Speaker Rainey to call the house to order so that adjournment might be taken. Very much like a boy caught at the jam jar, Mr. Connery leaped down, grinned a bit sheepishly and took a seat. His colleagues who had listened with such glee a moment before noted the speaker's scowl of disapproval and adopted one of their own. Slowly the band filed out.

More disappointed even than the spectators in the gallery when the prearranged show was stopped by Mr. Rankin was that bard and would-be playwright from the city of bright lights and Broadway, Mr. Sirovich of New York. He had composed a little ditty for presentation during the performance and it never did get sung, though it was widely distributed in advance to a cynical press that somehow failed to catch the bard's enthusiasm.

Example of Poetic Genius.

Entitled "The Congress of the U. S. A." and dedicated with affection to the "servants of the people," Dr. Sirovich's opus is worth recording as an example of poetic genius on Capitol Hill. This is just the chorus:

"Far our nation's noble statesmen go to the congress of the U. S. A.,
To those real unselfish great men let's give thanks to them each time we pray.
They stand for liberty and fight for justice.
With special privilege to none, they say. In war or peace times
Our faithful servant is the congress of the U. S. A."

Praise for One and All.

After the band finally got itself and its trapping out of the well the leaders indulged in the time honored speechmaking attendant upon the end of every session. Everybody was very fond indeed of everybody else, it appeared, and the chieftains took occasion on this last night to tell the world.

Minority Leader Bert Snell eulogized Speaker Rainey and Mr. Byrns, the Democratic leader. Mr. Rainey eulogized Mr. Snell and Mr. Byrns. Mr. Byrns eulogized Mr. Rainey and Mr. Snell. Mr. Parker of Georgia eulogized Mr. Speaker and the house in general. Mr. Parsons of Illinois eulogized the pages and the clerks and secretaries, who he said really do the work in congress. It threatened to go on indefinitly until Mr. Rankin, again the censor, declared that he would object to any more eulogies from anybody.

Through it all the house was just as harum-scarum as ever. Shouts and bellows shook the glazed ceiling. Bedlam prevailed in spite of the gavel banging in Mr. Rainey's sturdy fist. It got so bad, eventually, that Mr. Byrns demanded the sergeant at arms be instructed to clear the chamber of all persons not entitled to a seat. Many wives and mothers and sweethearts gathered in rear seats were forced to leave before Mr. Byrns would proceed with the business of adjourning.

SUE TO STOP SALE OF LAND TO HOOVER AT REDUCED PRICE

Los Angeles, Cal., June 18.—[Special.]—Asserting the board of directors of California Delta Farms, Inc., had entered into an agreement to sell ex-President Hoover and associates a tract of land in San Joaquin county at a price far below its real value, Henry Boomsma, a stockholder, today filed a petition for a temporary restraining order. The order was granted by Superior Judge Frank Collier, who demanded that the defendants appear on June 25 to show cause why the injunction should not be permanent.

According to Boomsma, Lee A. Phillips dominated the directors of the company and under Phillips' management the concern made a failure of the business, which then was reorganized.

The petition further charged that Phillips in 1933 met Herbert Hoover, was flattered by the association with the ex-President and conceived the idea of making the sale of his company's land to him at $50 an acre, although it is worth $150 an acre. It further asserted Phillips hoped to place Hoover under obligation to him.

The Empire Tract company, said to be owned by Herbert Hoover, his son, Allan Hoover, and J. O. Hayes Jr., is mentioned as prospective purchaser of the land.

FAMOUS 'GLOOMY DEAN' RESIGNS POST IN LONDON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 18.—Walter Robert Matthews, dean of Exeter, has been appointed dean of St. Paul's cathedral to succeed William Ralph Inge, 74, London's famous "Gloomy Dean," it was announced tonight. Dean Inge has tendered his resignation and it will become effective Oct. 2.

Dean Matthews, who is 53, will be the first dean of St. Paul's cathedral who has not been a graduate of Oxford or Cambridge. A scholar of distinction, he delivered the Nobel lectures at Harvard in 1928.

Dean Matthews was the center of a controversy in Exeter in February when he invited nonconformist preachers to give addresses in the cathedral during Lent. The bishop of Exeter described the procedure as an "inexcusable breach of law." Matthews spent nearly half of his life at King's college in London, where he rose from student to become dean.

Dean Inge became known as the "Gloomy Dean" after his expression of pessimistic views in "England," one of his early books. He spurned a belief in miracles, and has advocated revision of the marriage contract, easier divorce laws and birth control.

Minute Long Earthquake Shakes Seward, Alaska

SEWARD, Alaska, June 18.—(AP)—An earthquake of severe intensity, lasting for fully a minute, shook this city at 11:15 p. m. [4:15 a. m., Monday, Chicago time] last night. No considerable damage was reported. The movement appeared to be in a east-west direction. Reports from Lake Kenai, eight miles north of here, said its surface was covered with a film of sulphur.

HAVANA POLICE SEIZE RADICALS; BLAMED FOR RIOT

Several Hundred Locked Up in Cabanas Fortress.

BY GUSTAVO RENO.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, June 18.—Acting upon order from Chief of Police Col. Jose Pedraza, officers today arrested several hundred members of the Conoc party [National Confederation of Workers] and other radicals. Within two hours after investigations indicated these organizations responsible for yesterday's bloody rioting in which 15 persons were killed and 90 wounded, the prisoners were locked in Cabanas fortress.

The chief of police also ordered the detention of the board of directors of the Confederation of Workers, the most radical group in Cuba, following the publication in Havana newspapers of a manifesto signed by Joaquin Oroqui, secretary of the organization.

Boasts of Hindering Parade.

The manifesto boasted that the confederation had contributed greatly to the hindrance of yesterday's ABC society parade by calling strikes on bus lines. It stressed that the rioting was a warning to the ABC society that the working class and other revolutionary groups would not tolerate the establishment of a Fascist form of government.

The rioting followed an attempt by bitter enemies of the ABCs, the island's most powerful secret political society, to break up its annual fiesta by firing machine guns into the ranks of 35,000 paraders.

Former President Mario G. Menocal today issued a proclamation stating that he and his party, the Conjunto Revolucionario Cubano, will adopt stern measures immediately to avoid a repetition of the bloodshed. He instructed his representatives in the coalition cabinet, Secretary of Sanitation Verdeja and Secretary of Public Works Compte, to present a formal demand to President Carlos Mendieta tomorrow.

A Threat to Mendieta

The document demands immediate adoption of decrees to assure preservation of the public peace. His action is considered a threat of withdrawing his faction's support from the government if the demand is rejected.

The proclamation adds that Menocal intends to take charge of the situation unless the president changes his policy of "trying to please everybody and pleasing none."

Meanwhile Col. Fulgencio Batista, chief of staf, issued a public proclamation to the army and navy, praising their neutral attitude during yesterday's rioting. He assured the country that the military forces always will remain neutral and said the army and navy are interested only in enforcing order at all costs.

Wounded Man Kidnaped.

HAVANA, June 18.—(AP)—Five unidentified men raided the Calixto Garcia hospital today and kidnaped Evelio Torres, who was wounded in yesterday's shooting. It was understood that Torres was an opponent of the ABC political society.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT, BUT IT RUINS A BOMBER

Emil Keeps His Hand In, So Gets Caught.

EMIL KLATT.

Business has been dull of late for Emil Klatt, 54 years old, known to the police as a professional bomber, but he hasn't let this interfere with the quality of his own product or the accuracy of his throwing arm. He has been in the habit of practicing bombing in a small way from the front porch of his home at 622 Groveland park.

In the cool of the evening, just before it became too dark to see the green lawn of the park across the street from his home, Mr. Klatt would bring out one of his small bombs from the kitchen. Obscure in the shadow of his porch, he would toss the explosive in a graceful arc toward the park.

A Neighborhood Mystery.

Sometimes the bombs would burst on the grass. Sometimes one would demolish a park bench, or tear up a few feet of shrubbery. In time these explosions became the neighborhood's most celebrated mystery.

Policemen were summoned to the park a number of times, but they concluded that the small blasts were the work of a gang of boys in the vicinity.

Then August Schiller, who owns the Klatt home and lives two doors away, went into the Klatt kitchen to see about some defective plumbing. What he saw there took him to the police.

Lieut. Treacy Investigates.

Lieut. John Treacy, head of the police bomb detail, went out to investigate. In the Klatt kitchen he found, not pots and pans, but 13 sticks of pyrotol, a high explosive, 50 feet of fuse, and 50 dynamite caps. There was also a small still for boiling nitroglycerin out of dynamite. Klatt and his wife, Mary, were arrested.

Under the questioning of detectives, Klatt referred to the bombs he had thrown in the park as "toys." Mrs. Klatt had an even more ingenious explanation.

"We've been troubled with rats," she said, "and my husband decided to get rid of them."

However, Klatt, who has been arrested on numerous bombing charges since 1902, was ordered held for further questioning.

SALOON IS BACK, PEOPLE WANT IT, CONFERENCE TOLD

23 States Represented in Rum Control Parley.

Dr. D. Frederick Burnett, commissioner of alcoholic beverage control of New Jersey, told the national liquor conference in the Congress hotel yesterday that the saloon is back, no matter what "high falutin" name it goes by. He and delegates from 22 other states were present by invitation of Gov. Horner to seek uniformity in liquor regulations.

Dr. Burnett was chosen vice chairman of the conference. Col. A. A. Sprague of Chicago, member of the Illinois liquor control commission, was named chairman. Paul P. Fry, state excise director of Indiana, was made secretary.

"People Want Saloon Back."

"Frankly, the saloon is back because people want it back," Dr. Burnett declared. "The saloon itself is not an evil. It is merely a place where liquor is sold by the drink. Our problem now is to see that its evils do not come back and to see that owners of these places are untrammeled so they can make a decent livelihood, honestly.

"It costs 20 cents a gallon, including overhead, to produce alcohol. The federal government puts a tax of $2 and the state of New Jersey $1 on each gallon, so that it is no wonder that bootleggers still operate and they will continue as long as they have that fat prize to gain—evading a tax of $3 a gallon.

"We need public opinion with us to drive the bootleggers out. The public must realize that if liquor taxes are evaded the taxation burden falls on real estate."

"Get Rid of Dry Agents."

Attorney General Walter Conway of South Dakota told the conference that the first need of the country is to get rid of all the former prohibition agents who are still in government service. In his state he found that juries would not believe prohibition agents under oath, he said.

Joseph H. Choate Jr., director of the Federal Alcohol Control administration, said the main problem of the government still involves the bootlegger.

"A drinking man wants a drink when he wants it and where he wants it and the bootlegger gives him service," the FACA chief declared. "Any system that tells him what he must take, when he can take it, and forces him to go miles to get it, plays into the hands of bootleggers.

Opposes Code for Retailers.

"There are codes for the distillers, rectifiers, wine growers, wholesalers, brewers and importers and there is a movement on foot to place the retailers under a separate code. I have opposed this because it will interfere with the free action of the various states in handling their individual problems."

Mr. Choate suggested that the members of the conference come to an agreement on labeling regulations, and a committee was to be given the task of recommending a set of uniform rules on the subject.

Arthur J. Mellott, deputy commissioner of internal revenue in charge of the alcohol tax unit, spoke as the representative of the secretary of the treasury, who, he said, appreciates the spirit of coöperation evidenced by the gathering in Chicago.

Mellott Hits Bootlegger.

"No longer may we regard the bootlegger as one who is fulfilling our needs and who therefore must be tolerated," Mr. Mellott declared. "He is a criminal racketeer who has no respect for state or federal laws.

"The public should realize that when it buys from bootleggers it is helping to defraud the state and the United States of income and this is a crime of the same magnitude as if the bootlegger was dealing in counterfeit money or a violation of the postal laws.

"The government will be glad to coöperate with the states. If our investigators uncover a case where the federal taxes are paid but the state taxes are not we will notify the state, and we hope you representatives of states will do the same for us. We don't wish to make police magistrates out of our federal judges but we will prosecute in cases where even the smallest still is found to be turning out illicit alcohol."

Horner Welcomes Delegates.

Gov. Horner, in welcoming the delegates to the conference, said that repeal of prohibition has aided in bringing back prosperity and that the duty is on all states to see that drinking is properly supervised.

The conference will continue today. From it a permanent organization is expected to grow.

Bombs Exploded by Forest Fire Drive Back Troops

MULHOUSE, France, June 18.—(AP)—Explosions of shells and bombs, buried since the world war, today drove back soldiers fighting a fire which destroyed 150 acres of woods on the summit of Hartmannsweilerkopf. The peak, 3,000 feet high, was the scene of a furious battle in 1915.

"Old Daddies" with Wife on Ocean Trip

MR. AND MRS. CLENDENIN J. RYAN JR.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

BRIDE ADOPTS RYAN'S SLEUTHS AS CHAPERONS

"Five Nice Old Daddies" Bound for Europe.

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Chaperoned by what she called "five nice old daddies," Mrs. Clendenin J. Ryan Jr.—nee Countess Marie-Anne von Wurmbrand-Stuppacch—will sail for her native Austria tonight aboard the liner Europa of the North German Lloyd.

"The five little old daddies," said the young, pretty countess at the office of her attorney, Nathan Burkan, "will see to it that I am perfectly safe. Have you ever heard of a girl before who traveled with five male chaperons?"

"Who are they, Mrs. Ryan?"

"Ah, surely," she laughed, "you must know. They are Mr. Ryan's private detectives. They have followed me around, day and night, for weeks. Imagine my delight when I discovered that accommodations had been made for them aboard the Europa."

"Your delight, Mrs. Ryan?"

"But of course. I have got so used to having them around I should have been very, very lonesome without them. In fact, I should have been desolate."

Husband Seeks Annulment.

The countess' husband, grandson of Thomas Fortune Ryan and a member of Mayor La Guardia's secretariat, who will fall heir to about eight million dollars on his thirtieth birthday [he is 28 now] and meanwhile works at city hall for $65 a week, is seeking to annul his marriage.

His list of complaints is, as they say in the countess' native Vienna, "as long as seven unlucky years."

His principal charges are that the countess and her mother are fortune hunters; that they represented themselves as rich Austrian landowners, but, in fact, are as poor as the proverbial church mice; that his twenty-year-old wife had several intimate love affairs prior to her marriage, and that, since the ceremony, she has "refused to perform the duties of a wife."

The countess said her sole object in going to Europe was to visit her mother, the Countess May von Wurmbrand-Stuppach, in Vienna.

Won't See Count or Baron.

"Are you quite sure you are not going to see any one else?" she was asked. "Won't you—even for five minutes—see Count Mitrovsky, the Baron Buscheveden, or Señor Ferara?"

[Count Mitrovsky, a Polish nobleman; Baron Buscheveden, a Prussian junker, and Senor Ferara, an Argentinian millionaire, are the three gentlemen to whom the young countess, according to her mother, had been engaged prior to her marriage to Mr. Ryan.]

"Please listen to me," answered Mrs. Ryan. "You have a funny saying here in America. I believe it goes like this: 'Nothing is sure except death and rent day.' Well, there are three other things that you can be perfectly sure of—I shall not see the Count Mitrovsky; I shall not see the Baron Buscheveden, and I shall not see Señor Ferara."

In the listing of wills May 9, Mrs. Emma J. Buenger, 8109 South Green street, was incorrectly listed as the executrix in the estate of Augusta Koch. Although named in the will as executrix, the will was refused probate and Mrs. Buenger was not appointed. The estate is still pending in the Probate court.

Lightning Kills Iowan as He Visits at Farm

Monona, Ia., June 18.—[Special.]—Richard Collins, 40, of this place was killed by lightning late yesterday while visiting at the farm of Frank Station, north of here. Two other men in the barn with him were stunned.

IMPRISONS SELF IN DINGY ROOM FOR SIX MONTHS

Kenosha, Wis., June 18.—(AP)—Bathed for the first time in six months, 19 year old William Siliske, who had imprisoned himself in a dingy room of his parents' home here for a half year, tonight was held by police for a mental examination.

Obtaining entrance to the Siliske home today on the ruse of being prospective renters of a vacant flat, Lieut. Frank Schneeberger and Serg. Buelah McNeil of the police department had the youth's father enter the mysterious room through a window.

At the sound of the intruders, the recluse scampered through a ceiling opening into the attic. When the police found Siliske, they said, he was drilling holes in a board.

Asked by police why he had locked himself up, the youth replied with only "You wouldn't understand." The mother explained he had been in an auto accident two years ago, but first locked himself up about six months ago.

The father told police he hadn't seen William for three months. Others had not seen him for a longer period. The mother said she would place food in front of the "cell" door and when William knew all had left the house he would pick it up.

The room, police said, was almost unfurnished, and only knives, razors, and carpenter tools were placed about the walls. The youth, whose clothes were in shreds, was suffering from a skin disease, police said, and had been sleeping on a disheveled daybed in the attic.

Siliske's father told officers William stealthily would leave the room when all had retired and would take midnight strolls around the neighborhood.

MRS. ANNA DALL WON'T TALK OF DIVORCE PLANS

Also Declines to Pose for Photographers.

Cal-Neva, June 18.—(AP)—Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, establishing residence to divorce her broker husband, Curtis B. Dall, left her Lake Tahoe home for an unannounced destination this afternoon.

She drove away in an automobile owned by Samuel Platt, her Reno attorney. She was accompanied only by a chauffeur.

Since her arrival yesterday, President Roosevelt's only daughter has maintained silence regarding details of her suit.

Her two children, "Sistie" and "Buzzie," remained indoors with a federal secret service man and a maid. They are living at the home of Mrs. Alma Vallis on the Nevada side of the lake, just a few feet from the California state line.

Home Near Night Club.

It was not known definitly whether Mrs. Dall expects to remain for her entire Nevada stay of six weeks or more at Lake Tahoe.

The home in which she is now living, a modern log house, is located nearly a quarter of a mile from the lake shore and about two blocks from Cal-Neva lodge, famous night club where many wealthy divorce seekers gather.

Mrs. Madeleine T. Force Astor Dick, widow of the late John Jacob Astor and present wife of Enzo Fieremonte, lived in a home near Cal-Neva last summer while establishing residence to divorce William K. Dick.

Scores of other prominent persons, including moving picture stars and wealthy eastern society matrons, have lived near the fashionable lake resort.

Husband Refuses Comment.

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Curtis B. Dall, son-in-law of President Roosevelt, declined today to discuss Mrs. Dall's visit to Lake Tahoe, where she is now living as a first step toward obtaining a divorce in Nevada.

Reporters who called at the offices of Fenner, Bean & Co., brokers, in response to an announcement that Mr. Dall, who is a member of the firm, had a statement to make regarding Mrs. Dall's western trip, received a typewritten note referring them to Henry S. Hooker, Mrs. Dall's attorney. It read:

"I do not care to make any public statement regarding matters of a strictly personal nature. I am pleased to refer you to Mr. Henry S. Hooker, 50 Broadway, who is Mrs. Dall's lawyer, for any statement which he may see fit to make."

Mr. Hooker of Goodale, Hanson & Hooker, threw no more light on the situation which led up to Mrs. Dall's trip to Nevada than did Mr. Dall. He issued a brief statement which said:

"There is nothing to be said that could be of any public interest. The best of feeling exists between the Roosevelt family and Mr. Dall."

ROSSON, HUSBAND OF JEAN HARLOW, ILL OF PARALYSIS

Los Angeles, Cal., June 18.—[Special.]—Hal Rosson, estranged husband of Jean Harlow, today was reported as one of the week-end's 30 new cases of infantile paralysis. Rosson, a film cameraman, has been quarantined at the home of his sister, Gladys Rosson.

The county board of supervisors today was notified that five physicians and 30 nurses had contracted the disease while administering to county hospital patients.

City and county health officers expressed belief that the epidemic has reached its peak.

GAS TANK BLAST SPRAYS CROWD WITH FIRE; 4 DIE

Many Spectators at Blaze Seriously Burned.

Jamestown, N. Y., June 18.—[Special.]—An explosion of a 20,000 gallon gas tank at a service station on the outskirts of Jamestown this afternoon killed four persons and severely burned at least 15 others, several of whom are in a critical condition.

Firemen were forced to await the abatement of the flames to hunt for other possible victims.

The known dead were Firemen Oscar H. Bloom and Walter H. Kastenhuber and two spectators, Henry Golczynski, 18, and James Anderson, 15.

Follows Small Fire.

The explosion followed an apparently inconsequential blaze at the service station started when Herbert Johnson, gas station attendant, turned a switch to start a gasoline pump, causing a short circuit.

Nearly all of the firemen on duty at the fire were injured, many of them while performing heroic rescue work among the hundreds of trapped spectators. The injured included Fire Chief Clifton J. Beatty.

The fire fighters were apparently gaining the upper hand on the blaze, when the big tank gave way. Following a deadening puff flames poured from the tank and seeped along the ground eastward, toward a massed group of spectators.

Men, women and children rushed panic-stricken to escape the trap. Many ran to the bank of the Chadakoin river and leaped into its muddy waters.

Catches Up with Many.

The flames caught up with many of the more feeble, while spectators who were out of the path of the fire looked on helplessly. Many men and boys dashed over a field with their clothing afire and were forced to tear it off to save their lives.

Frantic calls for ambulances were made and private cars were pressed into service. Men burned about their faces, hands and bodies were rushed to hospitals and the entire medical and nursing stafs of the city were summoned.

Three Killed in Ford Plant Blast.

Detroit, Mich., June 18.—(AP)—Three men were killed and 11 others were injured, three of them seriously, in accidents today at the River Rouge plant of the Ford Motor company.

An explosion which sprayed molten metal over workmen in the foundry department resulted in the deaths several hours later of Walter Titsworth of Dearborn and John Meak of Detroit.

The blast, which endangered more than 200 men at work in the department, occurred when a naphthaline tank overflowed on to hot metal below the die casting balcony. Fire broke out after the explosion, but was extinguished by the plant fire company.

The third death was the result of another accident. Russell Clark of Detroit suffered fatal injuries when he was caught in a conveyor belt. He died in the plant emergency hospital.

2,000 FAMILIES IN LAKE COUNTY SEEK U. S. LAND

Selection of the fifty families who are to live on the government's new subsistence homesteads in Lake county was nearly completed last night by the county subsistence committee under the chairmanship of O. A. Newsom. It was indicated the names would be announced this week.

The project, which is a sort of experimental "back to the land" movement, is to cost $150,000. Each of the families is to receive a four room house, 10 acres of land, and farm implements. On the land they will be expected to raise products to be used exclusively for their own subsistence. Each family will pay $3,000 over 20 years for the property.

More than 2,000 applications have been received from families in the neighborhood of Waukegan, but the committee indicated an effort was being made to select the families of men who had prospects of one or two days' work a week outside of the farms.

The new farms, Mr. Newsom announced, are to be near Lake Zurich, Antioch, and Wadsworth.

GIRL, 20, ACCUSED OF KILLING MAN, 61, AFTER WANT AD ROMANCE

Clarion, Pa., June 18.—(AP)—A coroner's jury today accused Mona Menser, 20 year old Ohioan, of the murder of John B. Kelly, 61, a farmer, last Thursday—the day they were to have been married after a courtship that began with a matrimonial advertisment.

The verdict was returned after the girl had told how she shot the farmer in his home because he refused to let her have her clothing and had threatened her. She said she met Kelly through a matrimonial agency and had corresponded with him eight months before leaving her home in Coshocton, O., to meet him on money he had advanced.

Miss Menser said Kelly had described himself as 41, lonely and wealthy, and had painted a glowing picture of his home. The girl said she decided to go on with the marriage plans even after discovering Kelly was many years older than he claimed, and not wealthy. There was an argument on the scheduled wedding day, however, and she said she shot Kelly with his own revolver as he advanced with arm drawn back as if to strike her.

Boy on Hike Gets Tired; Hops Train and Loses Leg

Weary from a long hike in the country, Raymond Crapo, 15 years old, 1020 South Euclid avenue, Oak Park, yesterday "hopped" a Soo line freight train at Home avenue in the suburb. His hands slipped and he slid under the wheels. At the Oak Park hospital it was found necessary to amputate the boy's left leg at the knee. For a time the boy refused to give his name because he said his family "couldn't afford" to pay the hospital bill.

COTTON MONEY BRINGS 'EM TO CHICAGO'S FAIR

Fruits of Idleness Will Swell Coffers.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Memphis, Tenn., June 18.—[Special.]—Chicago was not on the brain trust's cotton control program, except as a heavy taxpayer, but Chicago is going to enjoy a bit of the fruits of non-production. The farmers of the boll weevil belt hereabouts received 40 million dollars from the government as a reward for not working certain cotton acres, and some of this reward is being spent to finance excursions to A Century of Progress.

THE TRIBUNE roadster, on a drive here as an official World's Fair car, encountered scores of automobiles from the cotton belt en-route to the Exposition. Typical of interviews with these travelers was a conversation yesterday on the bridge over the Mississippi river at Cairo, Ill. Stopped at the toll gate was a new $1,500 sedan with a Texas license.

Going to the Fair.

"Going to the World's Fair?" The reporter asked the man in the front seat.

"Sure are, friend," was the soft spoken reply.

"Many others coming up from your part of the country?"

"Sure are. Seems like Texans are the only people with money these days. Cotton money from the government; $100,000 went into just Anderson county."

"You grow cotton?"

"No, I'm in the abstracting business at Palestine, Tex.," he showed his card, George K. Spangler, "but this cotton money's circulating around."

Mrs. Spangler, sitting at the wheel, suggested they'd better be going because "We've been delayed by rains and have only covered 457 miles today."

Several other travelers, from Oklahoma and Mississippi as well as from Texas, were interviewed at this strategic toll gate. All were men who prospered indirectly by the dole given the non-growers. In Union City, Tenn., a hotel clerk said six automobile loads of Mississippians spent the night there, en-route to A Century of Progress.

Seek Maximum Yield.

The cotton growers who received this subsidy for refraining from cultivating some of their acreage are busy fertilizing to get a maximum yield from their other acres. This may defeat the crop control efforts from Washington—just as the drouth hit the agriculture experimenters in the grain country of the north—and the reduced acres are causing some unemployment among farm laborers.

But the 40 million dollars dumped into western Tennessee, northern Mississippi and eastern Arkansas is gravitating into the hands of merchants, land owners, and professional men, some of whom are using the money for vacations at A Century of Progress. At the Dixie Motor club here, Miss Alice Leeper of the touring bureau reported a flurry of inquiries about the Fair.

George Barton of the Chicago Motor club, who is a passenger in THE TRIBUNE roadster as a representative of the Century of Progress administration, furnished the club with detailed information about accommodations and attractions at the 1934 Exposition and supplied the Memphis Commercial Appeal with material for a story about the Fair.

W. AND J. TEACHER ADMITS PART IN DEATH OF ACTOR

Washington, Pa., June 18.—(AP)—Held in the death of George T. Manis, 23 year old actor, George H. Bartholomew, director of physical education at Washington and Jefferson college, admitted late today he was fighting with the youth at the time he died, District Attorney Warren S. Burchinal announced.

Manis' body was found Saturday, hidden beneath a brush pile in a field near Washington. He was a female impersonator who had appeared in Atlantic City and Pittsburgh.

Burchinal quoted the 49 year old instructor as saying Manis "went limp" and died while the two were fighting on the night of June 8. Bartholomew accused the actor of attempting to extort money from him.

Burchinal said the instructor told him Manis demanded money three times. After refusing to "be blackmailed" the first two times, Bartholomew stated the two went on an automobile ride to "talk things over."

PEDESTRIAN DIES AFTER BEING HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

An unidentified man, about 60 years old, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile on Central avenue near Belmont avenue. James Walsh, 20 years old, 1210 North Lockwood avenue, driver of the car, told police the man walked against the side of his machine. He was notified to attend the inquest in the county morgue today.

This death increased the Cook county motor toll to 553 since Jan. 1.

RETAIL GROCERS BOO NRA CHIEF AT CONVENTION

Secretary Demands Code Be Adjusted.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, safe behind his desk in Washington, was booed on two occasions yesterday by members of the National Association of Retail Grocers, who opened their annual convention in the Hotel Sherman.

The booing was followed by the statement by H. C. Peterson of East Chicago, secretary-manager of the association, that retail grocers have to date put more into the administration of their NRA code, principally in the form of increased wages, than they have received in benefits from it. While sentiment among grocers is now rather favorable to the code, Mr. Peterson said, he anticipates numerous defections soon unless the unfavorable balance on grocers' books is rectified.

Fails to Address Convention.

The outburst against Gen. Johnson was more or less personal, due to his last minute failure to address the convention, which, with its expected attendance of 10,000, will probably be the largest trade gathering this year in Chicago. Only a few days ago, according to Mr. Peterson, Miss Frances Robinson, the administrator's secretary, assured him that "nothing but a steel strike" would keep Gen. Johnson away from Chicago.

Officers of the association were unable to reach the New Deal leader on the telephone yesterday, and their announcement that he would not speak brought the first chorus of boos from the convention floor. An hour and a half after he had been scheduled to appear there came a telegram from Gen. Johnson, pleading "great stress of work" as the cause of his nonappearance. This brought scattered applause and more boos.

"Independent retail grocers," said Mr. Peterson in discussing the effect of the code on his trade, "did not cut wages a great deal during the depression, principally because of the close relations existing in their stores between proprietors and employés. They operated their stores, however, 65 or 70 hours a week and worked the employés the same length of time.

Wage Costs Raised a Third.

"Under the 48 hour week provided by the code they thus found their expenditures for wages raised by about one-third. They did not object to this, however, in view of the provisions in the code designed to wipe out unfair trade practices.

"To date they have not gained as much as they have paid out. I know of a number of cases where grocers have suffered serious financial losses by operating under the code. Unless this is stopped, I fear there will be widespread dissatisfaction in the trade."

So far, Mr. Peterson said, there has been practically no enforcement of code provisions against violators by NRA officials. Another sore point to the retailers is that food manufacturers have yet to be placed under a general code, and until this is done, what Mr. Peterson termed the application of "jungle law" among the manufacturers is a threat to orderly trade operations in the retail and wholesale grocery businessesses, both code-governed.

Loss Leader Sales Banned

For the benefit of consumers he explained that the only provisions in the retail grocery code which might be construed as price fixing are those prohibiting "loss-leader sales," or the offering of a few articles of merchandise at less than cost to attract customers. Retailers must sell at prices at least 6 per cent above the cost to them, and wholesalers at a 2 per cent price spread, considerably less, in both cases, he pointed out, than the average cost of labor alone required to make the sale.

Members of the National-American Wholesale Grocers association, meeting at the Congress hotel, also devoted most of their convention session yesterday to code discussions. Their president, Milton W. Griggs, suggested that the present code administration, under which everything must be referred to Washington, be scrapped in favor of administration by trade associations under supervision of the federal trade commission, with direct enforcement through local federal or state courts.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS NOTES

Twelve armed policemen and a company of armored knights on horses will escort an armored car bearing a $500,000 collection of gold objects which at one time belonged to the emperor of China to the Fair tomorrow morning. The gold will be placed on exhibition in a building in the streets of Shanghai on Northerly Island. The collection consists of 18 pieces of 22 carat gold and set with 2,000 jewels.

Polish Day will be celebrated at the Fair on Sept. 26, it was announced yesterday. Efforts are being made to have Ignace Paderewski, world famous pianist, visit the Fair that day as guest of the Chicago Polish societies which are sponsoring the day.

The Pantheon De La Guerre, a panorama of famous world war figures which includes portraits of 6,000 persons done over a four year period by 128 artists, was opened to the public last night. The court before the building housing the painting has been made into a replica of a war torn village wrecked by shells.

The Venetian glass workshop was closed for minor repairs yesterday and will be reopened Thursday. The crucibles are to be enlarged and repaired, and the space for spectators is to be enlarged.

Considerable excitement was caused late yesterday at Frank Buck's "Bring 'Em Back Alive" show when one of the baby Rhesus monkeys escaped from its island home via a board placed from the mainland to the island to feed the animals. The monkey scampered under the boardwalk in front of the exhibit after picking up some food from one of the novelty stands. After two hours of poking and prying with sticks, the animal was captured with a net and returned to its fellows.

A lecture on "Early American Paintings," illustrated with lantern slides, will be given by Elvir Winter Graham at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Colonial village. Helen Gilchrest will speak on "Clipper Ships of the Old Days" tomorrow, and Amy Noble will discuss colonial homes and gardens at the same hour on Thursday.

10,000 GROCERS TO MEET ON FAIR GROUNDS TODAY

Attendance Gain Shown Over Last Monday.

BY EARL MULLIN.

A Century of Progress Exposition today becomes the grocery center of the United States with some ten thousand delegates to the annual convention of National Association of Retail Grocers converging on the Fair grounds for special programs and entertainment.

Yesterday thousands of the delegates visited the grounds informally to swell the attendance for the day into the highest Monday of the current Exposition. No special program was offered during the day, but the delegates used the time advantageously to acquaint themselves with the grounds.

At midnight the official attendance stood at 52,896. The total attendance last Monday was 41,041.

Come Early, Chicagoans Urged.

"Yesterday's Monday record was probably the most pleasing indication the Exposition has had that attendance is going to be commensurate with the value of the attractions offered," said Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, general manager. "There are three things the management would like to emphasize. Fair visitors may obtain admittance to the grounds for 15 cents by purchasing a book of fifty admissions. The best time for Chicago people to see the Fair is at the present before the rush of out of town visitors commences. Finally, the Fair this year is so designed that visitors need not fear that even an exceptional crowd will make Fair going an inconvenience."

The grocer's program will be in two parts, an afternoon ceremony in the court of the Hall of States and an evening program in the Swift amphitheater. Founders of the association, formed forty-one years ago at the Columbian Exposition, will be honored at a luncheon in the Trustees room.

Villages to Lend Performers.

The program on Swift bridge, to which the public is invited, will be one of the most colorful and complete events of the entire Exposition. Starting at 4:30 and running to 8 p. m., the program will include features from practically every concession and show on the grounds.

Ballets, folk dances, yodelers, choruses and orchestras will be included. Among the villages to be represented are the Swiss, Belgian, Old English, Mexican, Streets of Paris, Colonial, Midget, Italian, and Spanish.

With the federal appropriation of $175,000 passed by congress the complete operation of the Federal building at the Fair is now assured, putting a stop to reports that portions of the Exposition are not complete. The few exhibits in the Federal building which are not yet in operation will be completed and in full running order within a few days.

Concessionaires Demand Bars.

A demand for bars at the Fair and the adoption of "the same liberal attitude toward drinking and fun that prevails in Chicago" was made unanimously yesterday by the Concessionaires' association. One hundred and fifty members of the association, many representing concessions where no food or drink is sold, voted for the resolution and proffered it to General Manager Lohr.

The resolution argued that many conventions are passing Chicago and the Fair because of the general impression that the Exposition officials do not hold a liberal attitude toward fun making. Cheaper service and a consequent lower price on drinks was the principal argument advanced for the adoption of bars. Concessionaires argued that there is less danger of drunkenness from bars, declaring people drink more while sitting at a table, where they feel some shame at ordering one drink.

The resolution was signed by Robert Eitel, president of the association.

The association also asked the approval of the Fair for hiring motion picture and other talent as added lures to prospective patrons. John McMahon, vice president and general manager of Paris, Inc., said his company had offered Mae West $10,000 a week for a summer's engagement.

"You'll Find
THESE NEW CHEESE THINS Will Make Your Parties More Successful"

SAYS MRS. IRVING MAUS FAUVRE, General Chairman of Indianapolis' Famous Civic Theatre Annual Costume Ball, and one of Indianapolis' most distinguished hostesses.

Serve Educator Toasted Cheese Thins Either Alone Or As The Base For Canapés and Hors d'Oeuvres. You Will Find They're Something That Everybody Raves About. Above Tray Courtesy of Century Life

NOW! CRACKERS WITH THE "TANG" OF REAL CHEESE!

The Crispiest and Gayest of Little Crackers, They Come as a Marvelous New Taste Sensation With All The Racy Tang of Real 2-Year-Old Canadian Cheddar Cheese

Guaranteed Free From Artificial Flavoring

If you want something to make your party more successful—to put a "zip" into entertaining—then you are urged to try these irresistibly delicious Educator Toasted Cheese Thins.

They're as different from anything you have ever before known as champagne is from beer. Crackers as gay and sophisticated and delicious as hors d'oeuvres from the Ritz in Paris.

They're thin. They're crisp. And as "tangy" as ripe Canadian Cheddar Cheese and Welsh Rarebit seasoning can make them.

They're crunchy. They're chewy. And as light as beaten cracker dough can make them.

All in all, they come as something novel. Something unique. And—something supremely delicious.

Try Educator Toasted Cheese Thins with cocktails, beer, or fruit drinks. With salads and soups. Or, just to "nibble" on. You'll say they're "marvelous," too.

Free From Artificial Flavoring

Educator Toasted Cheese Thins are guaranteed to be free from artificial cheese flavoring.

Nothing but ripe 2-year-old Canadian Cheddar Cheese, Welsh Rarebit seasoning, and beaten cracker dough is used in their manufacture.

First, they're slowly baked. Next, buttered and salted. Then, crisped and toasted until the racy tang of the Canadian Cheddar Cheese is brought out to the full.

Last, they're packaged in moistureproof packages. Hence, they come to you with all the delicious crispness . . . all the tantalizing tang they had when they left the oven.

And, even more, they bring the well known food benefits of cheese and wheat. In this respect, Canadian Cheddar Cheese is particularly valuable, as it is an excellent source of calcium and certain "necessary" proteins.

Get Educator Toasted Cheese Thins at your grocer's. The large package, containing more than 100 crackers, costs but 15c. Remember the name—EDUCATOR TOASTED CHEESE THINS. Accept only the genuine.

DENTIST LURED TO FARM; SLAIN; OFFICE ROBBED

Woman Suspect Held as Slayer's Companion.

Eldorado, Ill., June 18.—[Special.]—Lured to his death on the pretense that he was to sell his farm, the body of Dr. Homer L. Meyers, 55, wealthy Eldorado dentist and real estate dealer, was found in a clump of bushes on his farm several miles from here shortly before noon today. He had been shot through the back. Keys and valuables had been removed from his pockets. Authorities here believe that robbery was the motive for his murder.

The finding of the body of Dr. Meyers culminated an all night search for him when he had failed to return home after taking a prospective buyer to his farm. It was first believed that he had been kidnaped and was being held for ransom.

Chief of Police Everett Pullam is holding an auburn haired woman about 30 years old who registered at a local hotel with a man companion under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Armstrong of Houston, Tex. Search is being made for her companion, who also used the name Harold St. Clair, and who was last seen with the slain dentist in the latter's car headed for the farm. Dr. Meyers' automobile was later found Sunday evening parked several blocks from his home in Eldorado.

Wife Suspicious of Strangers.

Widespread search had been started for Dr. Meyers when Mrs. Meyers reported that a man who gave the name of St. Clair had left with him for his farm Sunday noon. Mrs. Meyers said that her suspicions were aroused when St. Clair refused to allow her to accompany them. She told the authorities that as they drove away she saw a revolver protruding from the pocket of St. Clair. When her husband failed to return home for dinner she notified the police.

Deputy sherifs of Saline county and the police from Harrisburg and Eldorado made a systematic search of the farm today which disclosed the hiding place of his body.

Questioned by Chief Pullam, Mrs. Armstrong said that she was not married to St. Clair but had met him in Chicago several weeks ago and that she had accompanied him since. She told the police official that her companion brought her to this city, declaring that he was to make a sum of money in a real estate deal. She said that she met him last evening and that he declared that he had made $6,000 on the "farm deal." She said that she was to meet him later in Chicago.

Arrested at Bus Station.

Mrs. Armstrong was arrested late last night as she was attempting to obtain passage on a bus for Chicago. When arrested she had but $1.50 in her possession. She refused at first to reveal her identity but later said that she was Mrs. Evelyn Anderson of Woodsboro, Tex., and that she was married and has one child.

It was learned today that the office of Dr. Meyers had been thoroughly ransacked but his widow was unable to tell what had been taken. Chief Pullam in reconstructing the crime believes that St. Clair, alias Armstrong, learned that the dentist was making efforts to sell his farm and induced him to go there, representing that he was a prospective purchaser.

When they arrived at the farm, the police believe, St. Clair shot him in the back, dumped his body in the bushes after removing the keys to his office and other valuables. It is believed that he then returned to town in his victim's automobile and ransacked his office. The police believe that the $6,000 referred to as the "farm deal" may have been the amount of his loot.

The police continued to question Mrs. Armstrong last night in an effort to learn where she was to meet her companion later. They have asked the authorities in various cities to be on the lookout for St. Clair, who is driving an automobile bearing Ohio license plates No. 276247. He was last seen driving in this automobile as he left here last night.

Mrs. Roosevelt Touring Alone on Her Vacation

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President, left West Orange alone in her roadster today en route to Connecticut. Mrs. Roosevelt plans to meet her son, James, and his wife, together with President Roosevelt, on Wednesday and join them in watching another son, Franklin Jr., row for the Harvard freshmen against Yale Friday. She spent the week-end with her cousin, Mrs. Henry Parish Jr. of Llewellyn Park.

Kin of Ex-Fiancee Reveal $1,500,000 Offer by Astor

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—A spokesman qualified to speak for Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lewis Gillespie of Mayfair house, today disclosed that John Jacob Astor II., had offered a $1,500,000 trust fund to Miss Eileen Gillespie immediately upon the announcement of their engagement, which was broken last January.

The $1,500,000 was later reduced to $500,000 after conferences with attorneys representing both the Gillespies and the Astor estate.

At no time the spokesman emphasized, did the Gillespies insist that any financial settlement accompany the marriage plans.

It was not until Mr. Astor and Miss Gillespie had been secretly affianced for two months that the prospective bridegroom and Mr. Gillespie discussed the forthcoming marriage in the Union club. Mr. Astor was reported to have said to Mr. Gillespie:

"I'd like to give Eileen a million dollars—no, a million and a half."

Suggests a Trust Fund.

"She's too young to have that much money," Mr. Gillespie demurred, the spokesman said. "Why not a trust fund, the income to be paid to her for life and her children to inherit the principal, or, in case there are no children, to revert to the Astor estate on her death?"

Mr. Astor, it was said, made no objection. The Gillespies considered that incident closed. They were considerably surprised, therefore, when some time later Mr. Astor and his attorneys came to their apartment to discuss the marriage settlement. The lawyers thought a million too much, considering young Mr. Astor's resources.

"Suppose we make it half a million?" they countered.

The Gillespies are reported to have agreed to that. An agreement was signed, one provision of which was the signing away by Eileen of her dower rights. That was on Eileen's 18th birthday.

At the time of the breaking of the engagement there were securites representing half a million dollars resting in the vaults of the Bank of New York and Trust company in the name of Miss Gillespie.

Conduct Arouses Concern.

The Gillespie spokesman disclosed that soon after the engagement was announced the conduct of Mr. Astor became such that the Gillespies were gravely concerned.

The Gillespies, and especially Mrs. Gillespie, were averse to the couple's going away on a long honeymoon to Australia, Asia and other distant places. Mr. Astor is reported to have gone into a rage and insisted that he would take his wife wherever he pleased and stay as long as he wanted to.

Mrs. Gillespie was seriously concerned, too, the informant said, over the unfriendly relations existing between Mr. Astor and his mother, now Mrs. Enzo Fiermonte, wife of an Italian pugilist, and between him and his half-brother, Vincent Astor, principal heir to the Astor estate.

The final straw was a "tirade" of words which Astor hurled at Miss Gillespie in a hotel lobby.

The publication of Mr. Astor's letter of apology and the publicity in connection with the breaking of the engagement and the return of the 32 carat diamond ring, an Astor heirloom, has all gone very much against the grain of the Gillespies, it was said.

Mr. Astor was in the house that he has leased at 7 East 91st street today, but denied himself to interviewers. He is now engaged to Ellen Tuck French.

TRUNK MURDER STIRS BRITAIN; SEEK IDENTITY

Spurs Hunt for U. S. Woman Lawyer.

case since inquiries were started as to the fate or whereabouts of the 43-year old woman lawyer, who vanished with $25,000 on Dec. 20, about two weeks after she married Poderjay in New York.

The first step was the arrest of Miss Ferran, who admitted to police that she knew the property had been that of Miss Tufverson.

Still Loyal to Poderjay.

She protested her loyalty to Poderjay and said that he told her he never married Miss Tufverson at all, but was only a "good friend," good enough for her to give him the trunk and its contents, which included the red dress Miss Ferran was wearing when Poderjay was arrested.

Poderjay, faced with these developments, changed his story about the marriage.

He said his marriage to Miss Ferran in London was not "registered" and therefore was "illegal." Previously he had insisted he married Miss Tufverson although already wed to Miss Ferran to save her from spinsterhood, at her own request.

Today's search of the apartment disclosed the Tufverson property despite the fact that the place had been looked over before and nothing had been found.

Another Wife Bobs Up.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, June 18.—(AP)—A Belgrade woman, Mme. Zhivka, today produced documents to show that she was married to Capt. Ivan Poderjay on Oct. 13, 1926, and was granted a divorce on Nov. 16, 1933, about a month before his marriage to the missing Agnes Tufverson.

Mme. Zhivka, a tall, slender blond, recalled the romantic captain, now in jail in Vienna, with undisguised affection. She was eager for news of him and blamed his trouble on the women with whom he was living in Vienna, Susanne Ferran.

She said that $10,000 disappeared from her safe deposit box about the time Poderjay left Jugo-Slavia.

Push Search in New York.

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Forty-eight mystery cloaked hours passed between the time the talented attorney, Agnes C. Tufverson, disappeared from her Gramercy park apartment and the time Ivan Poderjay sailed for Europe, and tonight police believed that if they can determine the events of those hours they can solve the case.

Capt. John H. Ayres, head of the missing persons department, admitted his main inquiry is centering on those hours, from the time Miss Tufverson, a bride of but two weeks, and the handsome Jugo-Slavian set out for a Hudson river pier to the time he actually sailed for England alone.

Assisting Ayres in his investigation is Miss Sally Tufverson, a sister of the missing woman, who first questioned the authenticity of a London cablegram signed "Agnes" and sent to the Tufverson family in Detroit.

Cable dispatches from Vienna said Poderjay has admitted he sent the cablegram, but under orders from Miss Tufverson.

Assistant District Attorney Neary has subpenaed all cablegrams sent or received by Poderjay during his residence in New York and at the same time he subpenaed records of two brokerage houses to reveal Miss Tufverson's accounts in stocks and bonds.

DOWNER'S GROVE HUSBAND SLAYS WIFE IN QUARREL

Takes Children Along to Toss Body in Alley.

Confronted by the accusing story of his 14 year old daughter, Beatrice, Samuel Miller, 41 years old, an odd jobs man living at 39th street and Sterling road, Downers Grove, confessed to Woodlawn police early today that he had murdered his wife, Sylvia, 37, mother of four children. Three of them—Beatrice, Lena, 4, and Clara, 2—unwillingly witnessed one phase of the crime.

Mrs. Miller was found dead of a broken neck and other injuries in the rear of 7037 Vernon avenue early yesterday morning. A newspaper story led to her identification last night by Joseph Haggerty, a neighbor.

Neighbor Tells of Fight.

"On Sunday night," said Haggerty, "I heard screams and sounds of fighting in the Miller home. Later, looking out my window, I saw a white shirted man carrying something out to the Miller family automobile. About two hours later the car returned. Then when I read of a women being found in Chicago, and learned that Mrs. Miller was missing, I put the two things together."

As a result of Haggerty's story, Chief Deputy Sherif Arthur Bennett of Du Page county seized Miller and turned him over to Woodlawn police, in whose district Mrs. Miller's body had been found. Miller, questioned by Lieut. Arthur Patten and Sergt. John Krikava, steadfastly denied killing his wife.

Child Tells Her Story.

Meanwhile Chief Deputy Bennett, back at Wheaton, was questioning Beatrice, eldest of the three Miller girls. She professed at first not to know anything. Then she broke down. She told of how her father forced her and the younger girls to accompany him on the trip to Chicago to abandon their dying or dead mother.

"When mother and dad began fighting," said Beatrice, "I went into the yard. A few minutes later he put mother into the automobile, and made me, Clara and Lena get into the car, too. He drove us to Chicago, and then threw out mother's body in an alley."

Miller was told of Beatrice's story, but still pleaded innocence. Then, at 3 o'clock this morning, Chief Deputy Bennett, back at the Woodlawn station, threatened to bring Beatrice in. A few minutes later Miller confessed. He said his wife had been away from home two weeks, and had returned home Sunday night to get some clothes.

Hits Her with Rolling Pin.

"I accused her of stepping around," said Miller. "She hit me, and in the fight I struck her with a rolling pin. She fell against a bed. I became excited, and I put her in the car, took the children along, and drove to Chicago, where I threw her out. When I was earning a good wage as an expert machinist, she was all right. But when I lost my job and the money wasn't coming in, she began stepping around."

According to Miller's story, his wife was still alive when he abandoned her on the south side. Although the venue might be in Cook county because she died in this county, it is also possible to prosecute Miller in Du Page county where the fatal beating occurred. It is believed Miller will be turned over to Du Page county. The Millers' fourth child is Harold, 17 years old, who does not live at home.

15 U. OF C. STUDENTS START TODAY TO DIG INTO INDIAN MOUNDS

Fifteen advanced students of archæology will leave the University of Chicago campus this morning to spend ten weeks excavating ancient Indian mounds in Massac county, at the southern tip of Illinois. The tools, weapons, and ornaments unearthed in the previous eight annual summer expeditions to the mound region indicate that this state was a center of prehistoric Indian trade.

The present party of searchers will explore the contents of 16 mounds, the largest of which has a base of two acres and a height of 50 feet. In the former expeditions about 50 mounds have been surveyed out of a total of 1,000.

$75,000 FALSE ARREST CASE IS POSTPONED

Hearing of the $75,000 damage suit brought by three young men against W. T. Rawleigh, millionaire patent medicine manufacturer of Freeport, and the Burns Detective agency, was postponed till tomorrow when it was called yesterday before Judge Herbert Anderson of Charleston, sitting as a vacation judge in the Superior court.

The plaintiffs, who charge that they were falsely arrested as suspects in an extortion plot against Rawleigh, beaten by Burns detectives, and held in the Stephenson county jail at Freeport for several days, are: Miles Lapp, 24 years old, LeRoy Meters, 25 years old, and Charles Blazer, 24 years old, all of Freeport.

Rawleigh received two threatening letters on Feb. 14, 1931, demanding $5,000. He retained the Burns agency. The detectives brought about the arrest of the three, and they charge they were held in jail until the subsequent arrest and confession of another young man, William Lahre.

LABOR LEADERS CHISELERS, SAY DRESSMAKERS

Pay Under Minimum, They Tell NRA.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 18—[Special]—Leaders of organized labor are among the worst chiselers under the Blue Eagle, making private compacts with employers whereby the minimum wage and maximum hour requirements of codes are openly flouted, representatives of the cotton garment industry told the NRA today.

Ralph Hunter, chairman of the garment code authority, offered to present to Deputy Administrator Sol Rosenblatt a series of cases in which regional chiefs of the garment workers' union had made wage agreements with employers at less than code levels. The union chiefs, Hunter said, declared that such violation of code minimums was within their collective bargaining rights.

Charges Blocking Of Efforts.

In a heated exchange of words with Deputy Rosenblatt, Hunter also charged that the NRA, by its petty hearings and inquiries blocked its own code authorities from "getting down to the real problem of compliance." Enforcement of codes on labor chiselers and other violators is the most vital question, Hunter insisted.

Until the "bootlegging" of garments made in shops which are breaking the code requirements is stopped, the industry can not proceed with the NRA's proposed shortening of hours and increase of wage rates, Hunter declared. He challenged the NRA to leave the garment code authority alone so that it can wipe out the chiselers.

"We are continually being called down here to Washington for some hearing," Hunter protested. "We have had 25 hearings on prison labor competition, and it isn't settled yet. We have had four hearings under four different administrators on north and south wage differentials, and that isn't settled yet. How can any industry get down to the big task of fair competition under the NRA?"

Shows Letters As Proof.

In complaining against chiseling by some labor leaders, Hunter presented letters to show that some regional union heads had invited employers to make wage agreements with them at lower rates than the code requires. Once these agreements are made, he said, the labor chiefs claim that they supersede the code on the grounds that labor, through collective bargaining can agree to any wages it wishes.

Three quarters of a million dollars a year would be necessary to enforce the garment code against such labor tactics and against other chiselers, according to the estimate of one of the code authority members which was quoted by Hunter. He said the code authority had no such sum to spend on code enforcement.

Turning to the suggestion that the industry cut its working hours and raise its wage rates, Hunter inquired whether the NRA was going to require industries to take on more workers than they had in 1929. The cotton garment industry, he said, now employs as many people as it did in the boom days and can not take on more without raising prices and creating consumer resistance.

but not as mild as that cigarette you're smoking

Let me tell you something about this GRANGER:

A few years ago I dropped into a store on my way down-town to buy my usual package of tobacco and the clerk, who was a very pleasant young man said:

"Have you tried Granger?"

I bought a package and I have been smoking it now for three years.

It seems to have in it the right kind of tobacco to start with; and it is certainly different from other pipe tobacco; and then again it is packed in a common-sense package—which is one reason why it is sold for 10c.

Like lots of other folks, I like it.

CALL TVA COSTS ABOVE BENEFITS TO VALLEY FOLK

Outside Trade Leaders Discuss Project.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Knoxville, Tenn., June 18.—[Special.]—This $350,000,000 "yardstick" which is being built with taxpayers' money by the Tennessee Valley Authority, to measure what are fair prices for electric power and lighting, finds much conflict of opinion in the south.

First and foremost is the old controversy between engineering experts as to whether in a given region, power can be developed as cheaply from water as from coal generating stations. Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, noted engineer and president of Antioch college, is chairman of TVA. He concedes that this is a matter of technological dispute. "But," he says, "the TVA project will settle the question."

High Price for Test.

Business men and industrialists in outside cities say a third of a billion dollars or more seems quite a price to pay to settle this engineering doubt, especially as later on the expenditures will be coming home to roost in the form of higher taxes.

In Knoxville itself, the vortex of the regional prosperity evoked by the outpouring of millions of dollars, the TVA, naturally enough, is being "yessed" for all its works. But away from the valley, in Atlanta, Birmingham and Montgomery, there is a pronounced current of opinion that it is a lot of money for the government to put out for the development of one valley of quite limited population.

The Tennessee basin embraces 99 counties in 7 states with about 1,000 cities, towns, and villages. Its population is 2,242,244 of which 52 per cent is on farms.

Old American Stock.

It is mostly Scotch-Irish stock, running back to Revolutionary times, and the infiltration of other stock has been small. Of the population 87 per cent is native born. The valley has 238,000 Negroes, or about 10 per cent. There are 801,000 gainful workers ten years old or over.

A TVA economist—anybody can be styled an economist or a social worker here, and the title of "doctor" is tossed around like that of colonel in Kentucky—has figured that $120.03 is the average cash income of the rural farm resident in the valley. With an average of four to a family, this makes the rural family cash income $480.12 a year—when it can collect it. The figures, of course, do not include the food raised and used by the farmer, his garden, chickens, milk, hogs and other means of sustenance.

Lower Rate in Hills.

In some counties, especially in the hills, the cash income runs much smaller. Dr. Morgan often publicly speaks of regions in which the average cash income of a mountain farm is only $45 a year. It compares with the year's cash returns for a tenant or share cropper in some parts of the cotton states. One university survey of Grainger county, Tennessee, gave $207 as the average cash family income in 1932, while the outgo was figured at $299, leaving the family $92 in the red. Of this $299 outgo, as tabulated by the university professor, $120 went for automobile expenses, $56 on clothing, $7 on machinery and tools.

To aid the poverty ridden farmer and his family, in his weather beaten hillside cabin, with the soil washing away year by year, the TVA has as one of its aims the making of a social and economic order. Reforestation, and the stopping of soil erosion are two of its purposes which are well applauded.

Seven Dams Are Planned.

Electricity developed through seven dams in the Tennessee river at a cost of at least $350,000,000 are to be the basis of the new social order to be controled by the government. Cheap power is to be given at rates which private utilities declare do not figure in taxes and much other overhead, which instead of being carried on the consumers' bills will be paid for by the taxpayer in the industrial states, like Illinois, Michigan, and Ohio.

New industries are expected to be attracted to the valley by the lure of cheap power, and this in turn, as TVA views it, will make possible a "balancing of industry and agriculture." Some farmers will be able to add to their income by working part time in factories, and some enthusiasts speak of the day when every rural dweller in the valley will beat his kerosene lamps into pruning hooks and touch a button to turn on his light, while mountainside cabins will have electric refrigerators and ranges, not to say washing machines and curling irons.

Just how a hardy squirrel shooter with annual cash income of $150 a year or less is going to pay for these devices is a question the TVA economists sidestepped. They say that of the 229,982 farms in the basin only 10,200 have electric current or 4.4 per cent. Of these farms some have their own small systems, and only 3 per cent of the basin farms are served from central stations, as compared with 10.3 per cent for the United States. Some of the mountaineers themselves evince skepticism, as to the merits of electric juice for one and all.

One Farmer Plumb Scared.

"I won't have any in the house," remarked one front porch cabin sitter to a TVA agent. "I'm plumb scared of that juice. I don't want to be knocked into Kingdom Come."

The drive for more use of electricity for the present is directed to the cities and villages. What with cut rates by the private companies, and cheaper refrigerators and ranges financed on three year terms by TVA, with private utilities and public dealers serving as sales force, the private utilities themselves have reported some notable growths in consumption.

At the same time, independent dealers have protested that the bread is being taken out of their mouths by government competition in private business.

Refrigerators Sell Fast.

In Atlanta a suit was brought to stop the Georgia Power company from selling the cheaper refrigerators and other devices promoted by TVA. The case fell through. The Georgia Power company reports it sold its allotment of 800 TVA refrigerators in less than twenty-four hours, and could have sold twice as many.

In Birmingham, four days ago, ice manufacturers and coal merchants filed suit in the United States District court, seeking to curb the activities of TVA in electrification of farms and homes on the ground it has exceeded its powers and has encroached on private business. Showing the strange complications of the venture of government into private enterprise, the suit named the Alabama Power company as defendant and sought to prevent it from selling the appliances sponsored by the TVA.

To get more customers, the TVA got several members of the National Electrical Manufacturers' association together. The result is a type of refrigerator to cost $79.75 cash, or $94.50 on three year terms. It compares in efficiency, but not in finish, with a unit which costs $125 on the market. An electric range has been fabricated to cost $75.

To do this TVA has incorporated the Electric Home and Farm authority. It is capitalized at a million dollars allocated under the national recovery act, and has authority to borrow up to 10 million dollars from the RFC.

Under the plan a customer goes to a dealer in electrical appliances in the home town and picks a refrigerator, electric range, heater, or water pump. He signs papers on the instalment plan. The dealer transmits the papers to the EHFC, which pays the dealer in cash. Meanwhile, the local electric company must have submitted rates which TVA approves, and each month the instalment due on the appliances sold will be put on the customer's electric light bill, the electric company then remitting the collections to the EHFA.

Critics Are Divided.

Criticism on this appears divided. On one side is a current of criticism of TVA for venturing into private business, while on the other side the private utilities say it is stimulating their business and some dealers argue it will increase sales of higher grade refrigerators and ranges, just as years ago the man who first bought a flivver later bought an automobile.

When the seven dams are completed it is figured about 2,000,000 kilowatts of installed power will be developed,

SMALL TRUCKERS FORESEE RUIN IN NRA IMPOSITION

Accuse Big Fleet Owners of Rate Plot.

Small trucking operators of Illinois were preparing yesterday for war against fleet operators of the Central Motor Freight association. The small operators charge that the larger concerns have banded together under the NRA code to impose conditions on small competitors which will drive them out of business.

Charles Mansfield, general manager of the Agricultural Transportation association, an organization of small truckers, most of whom haul farm products, issued a warning and an appeal for united action. He asserted that proposals which already have received approval of the larger owners threaten the existence of the small truckers and discriminate against the farmer.

The small truck operators were urged to register under the state trucking code authority in order to cast their vote against proposed increases in the trucking rates for shipments under 10,000 pounds. Such an increase, it was stated, would deprive the small trucker of his chief business.

A notice sent to the 42 registrars for the Illinois trucking industry roused the small operators. The message stated that the motor freight association has proposed to "adjust the minimum rates for less than 10,000 pound shipments to correspond with those now applying on railroad 'less than carload lot' rates." Such railroad rates, it was pointed out, are substantially higher than the trucking rates.

"Agricultural haulers cannot compete on this basis," said Mansfield. "The business of agricultural hauling is threatened if the central freight association, composed largely of big fleet operators, succeeds in having the code authority use the railroad less than carload lot basis for trucking rates.

Injury to Farmers.

"The farmer would be more discriminated against than any other shipper because he pays the freight on all that he produces as well as on every commodity which he buys. It is fundamentally wrong for the trucking industry, with its superior service and lower cost of operation, to base its rates on railroad rates.

"Eighty-seven per cent of all trucks operating in Illinois are two and a half ton capacity or less, and if the carload rates are made to apply on all shipments of less than 10,000 pounds, every one of these smaller operators will be put out of business and the farmer deprived of the best transportation service he has ever had."

2 WESTERN AV. STREET CARS CRASH; 18 HURT

Eighteen passengers, 12 of them women, were injured in a collision between two surface line cars at Western avenue and Division street last evening.

Police took them to St. Mary's hospital at 1120 North Leavitt street. All except two of them were given emergency aid for slight cuts or bruises and sent home. The two who remained in the hospital were Mary Skoczylas, 1012 North Oakley avenue, and Frank Strok, 1530 West 17th street. She suffered a pelvic fracture, and he a spinal injury.

The accident occurred when the rear trucks of a southbound Western avenue car left the rails.

3 NAZIS SENT TO U. S. TO ENLIST STORM TROOPERS

One Propaganda Agent Is Assigned to Chicago.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 18.—Three Nazi officials left for the United States a week ago on instructions from Chancellor Hitler's "brown house" in Munich. They are two former army officers, Capt. Ernst von Wernicke and Maj. Hans von Dombski, and Herr von Holtzhausen, who since the formation of Dr. Joseph Goebbels' ministry of propaganda, has been charged with the foreign section.

None of the three emissaries possesses American visas. They hope to enter the United States with the assistance of American agents. Maj. Dombski sailed early last week from Cherbourg for New York. Von Holtzhausen is waiting in Liverpool for the first available White Star liner. He is assigned to Chicago. Von Wernicke sailed on June 12 from Boulogne for New York on a Hamburg-American liner.

To Organize Storm Troops.

They are under orders from the ministry of propaganda and have been detailed on secret service. Maj. Dombski is entrusted with the organization of Nazi storm troops in America. He is to be the resident general, with headquarters in New York, where it is said he has the support of two German-Americans, William Kern and Albert Roemmer. Both are reported to be members of the New York National Guard.

The ministry of propaganda has obtained through secret sources 250,000 marks [$95,500] for the formation of storm troops in the United States. This money, it is said, will be paid the three officials through the German consulates in New York and Chicago. It is also reliably stated that 2,000,000 marks about [$764,000] has been set aside since May 9 by Dr. Goebbels for Nazi propaganda in the United States and for the formation of Nazi organizations in America.

Chicago Parley Reported.

THE TRIBUNE is informed that a conference of Nazi officials will take place in Chicago between June 25 and 30, at which 70 delegates will take part.

From October, 1933, to May, 1934, 4,500,000 marks [$1,719,000] have been expended on National Socialist propaganda in the United States. In April and May eighteen Nazi officials sailed for the United States from foreign ports with the ministry's instructions, chiefly on Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd liners. It is reported that 3,000 uniforms were forwarded for storm troop organizations.

Boston is an important Nazi point, and Nazi activities there are under the direction of Dr. Erich Roessler and Emanuel Orlik. Eugene Korwin and Dr. Kurt von Jaschek arrived in New York from Munich on May 7. Von Jaschek is allied with American sympathizers who are said to have financed him to the extent of $4,000 to $5,000 a month.

LITHUANIA SENDS WALDEMARAS TO PRISON 12 YEARS

KAUNAS, Lithuania, June 18.—(AP)—A courtmartial today found Augustine Waldemaras, former premier of Lithuania, guilty of an attempt to overthrow the existing government on June 7. It condemned him to 12 years at hard labor.

Waldemaras had headed an unsuccessful attempt at a military coup d'état against the government, of which Antanas Smetona, his former political ally, is president.

Waldemaras was arrested after the failure of a demonstration of a portion of the army on his behalf to force the government to resign. Gen. Kubiliunas resigned as chief of the general staf.

PAPEN ATTACKS HITLER REGIME; NAZIS STUNNED

Return to Monarchy Is Urged by Minister.

cide whether it wishes to be religious or worldly. There is a struggle ahead as to whether the new reich of the Germans shall be Christian or lose itself in sect spirit and semi-religious materialism. The decision will be easy, provided all attempts by the state are restrained from influencing this decision by the state authority in the direction of forcible reformation.

"Political interference with religion has compelled those affected to decline on religious grounds to accept the claim to totality which, when it encompasses religion, is contrary to nature.

"Let there be no mistake about the fact that a fight on religion will release forces which even force cannot break."

Criticizes Goebbels' Speeches.

Von Papen then exhibited that he does not approve of Goebbels' daily speeches against criticism.

"Not by inciting the people, especially the youth; not by uttering threats against helpless sections of the population; but only by the trustful exchange of views with the people can confidence be increased," he continued.

"The people know that heavy sacrifices are demanded of them. They will bear them and follow Der Fuehrer [Hitler] in unshakable confidence if they are bound to participate in advising and devising, if every word of criticism is not immediately stamped as ill will and if despairing patrons are not branded as public enemies."

Von Papen warned against the radical element within the government by saying:

"There seems to be no end to talk about the second wave which is to complete the revolution. Those who talk thus irresponsibly should remember that a second wave might be followed by a third one, and that he who threatens with a guillotine might be the first upon whom the ax would fall.

Collectivism Assailed.

"Did we experience an anti-Marxist revolution only to carry out the program of Marxism? The social problem is to be solved only if private property is again to be made responsible and not by raising collective irresponsibility to a ruling principle.

"Whoever has not seen that every form of collectivism leads to ineradicable corruption has been going through the world blindfolded. No people can stand continuous revolutions.

"It is high time to come together in brotherly love and mutual respect, to refrain from upsetting the work of earnest men, and to make doctrinary fanatics shut up. The duty of those in position of leadership is to be watchful lest a new class war flare.

"When once a revolution has been completed the government must represent only the people as a whole and never be an exponent of single groups."

The minister then assailed the slogans of Nazi leaders. One of the slogans is that intellectuals lack the vitality to lead a people.

"Mistaking vitality for brutality," said Von Papen, "would disclose an attitude of worshiping force which would be dangerous for the people.

"The slogan 'man makes history' is also much misunderstood. Great men are not made by propaganda, but they grow by their deeds which are acknowledged by history. Even Byzantinism cannot camouflage this fact.

"Even compulsion finds its limitations in the will of a real personality to hold its own. The reactions to compulsion are dangerous.

"As an old soldier I know that the stiffest discipline can be complemented by certain liberties. The belief that a people might be united by terror would be reprehensible."

Hitler's Reply to Von Papen.

POTSDAM, Germany, June 18.—(AP)—Gen. Hermann Goering, aviation minister and Nazi spokesman, in an address regarded as an official answer to condemnation of some Nazi policies by Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen, today said there are "isolated instances" which provide grounds for some dissatisfaction.

Goering's address was made before the Prussian state council at the former imperial palace.

"Without doubt there are some justifiable reasons for dissatisfaction, but these are isolated cases," Goering said. "It is self-evident that the enthusiasm which greeted us eighteen months ago is not everlasting. These outbursts of sentiment calm down and come back at intervals. It is up to us to see that they recur at the proper time."

325 STERILIZED IN BERLIN'S DRIVE AGAINST UNFIT

Special Court Rules on 348 Cases.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 18.—Berlin's sterilization court has passed judgment on 348 cases since it was created on March 15 in the Nazi campaign against the nation's unfit, it was announced today. Up until the close of May, the court had ordered the sterilization of 325 individuals.

One hundred and forty-three persons requested sterilization. Physicians and guardians of the unfit demanded the operations for the rest.

Campaign Against Crime.

Police in Berlin are conducting an energetic campaign against criminals. Fifty persons, classified as habitual criminals, were arrested today. Although none was accused of a new crime, 33 were placed in compulsory labor camps.

Meanwhile, officials of the foreign office expressed the hope that Joachim von Ribbentrop, Chancellor Hitler's personal representative, will reach an agreement with France on Germany's demand to rearm. The Nazi emissary was scheduled to meet Premier Doumergue in Paris this evening.

High foreign officials were closeted with Hitler's lieutenants in a conference here today. The Germans professed to be elated over the reported failure of Russia to drive a new wedge between France, Germany and Poland.

19 Sentenced to Jail.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ANSBACH, Germany, June 18.—The wholesale arrest of 200 Jews in Gunzenhausen by storm troopers last March was recalled here today at a trial in which 19 residents of Gunzenhausen were sentenced to jail for "violating the peace."

Two Jews, the court ruled, had committed suicide upon being arrested. The court vigorously denied they had been murdered.

Details of the evidence at the trial were kept secret. Authorities admitted that 200 Jews had been arrested by storm troopers while Nazi chiefs were absent from the town. Today's sentences ranged from three to ten months in jail. The Nazis claim there were several Jews among those sentenced for "starting trouble."

ASKS SYCAMORE JAIL BE DENIED U. S. PRISONERS

Prosecutor Acts After Two Reports.

United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green announced yesterday that he had dispatched a letter to Sanford Bates, director of the federal bureau of prisons, recommending that the DeKalb county jail at Sycamore be removed from the list of jails to which federal prisoners are sent.

This action, Mr. Green said, was based on two reports made by federal investigators. One had to do with rumors that John Factor, wealthy speculator, and Sherif Isaac George had gone on a whoopee expedition, accompanied by two women, to the Leland hotel in Aurora on the night of May 16.

Factor Held in Jail.

Factor is being held in the jail pending orders from the state department at Washington on Factor's extradition to England on charges that he swindled investors there out of $7,000,000.

The other report, Mr. Green declared, dealt with alleged favors granted federal prisoners in the Sycamore jail approximately two years ago. This investigation was made by Carter Baum, federal agent who was slain when the Dillinger gang shot its way out of the Little Bohemia resort in Wisconsin recently.

Although Mr. Green refused to make public the two reports, their tenor was learned from authoritative sources elsewhere.

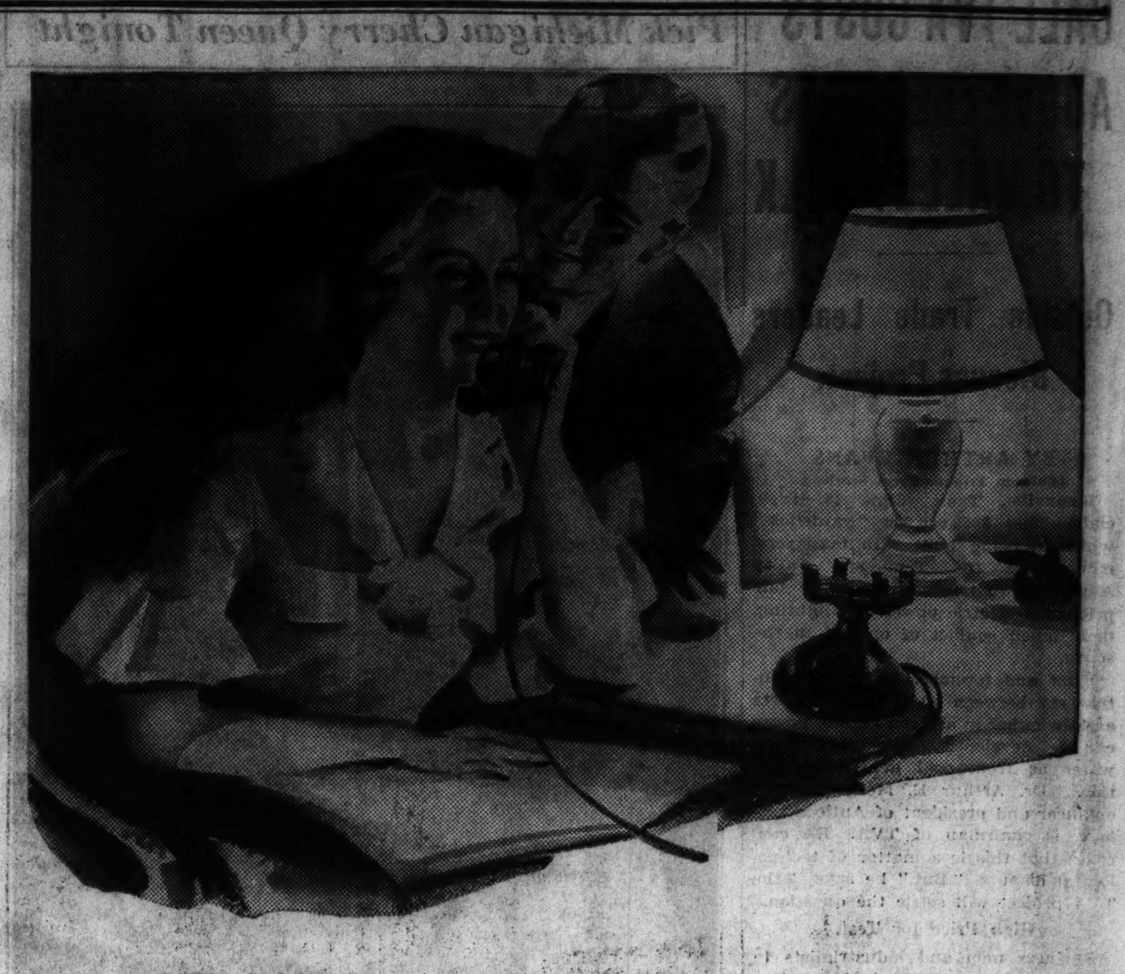
Federal agents, it was said, could find only one person—a reporter for an Aurora newspaper—who said he actually saw Factor and George in the hotel. Two girls, reported with the party, were interviewed by another newspaper man, but they denied being along.

Sherif's Car Recognized.

A policeman was found, the report stated, who recognized Sherif George's car parked in front of the Leland hotel on the night in question. But he said he did not recognize Factor. Several Aurora business men told investigators that Factor was "pointed out" to them, but all admitted they did not recognize him and could not identify him from photographs.

Sherif George, according to the report, while denying the whoopee episode, admitted that Factor had been permitted some liberties not accorded other prisoners.

The other report on the Sycamore jail, it was learned, centered around Harry E. Rubenstein, owner of the Breakfast club, 661 North Clark street, who was sentenced to the Sycamore jail on March 16, 1932, for one year on liquor charges. Rubenstein, according to the report, was permitted to drive his expensive sedan into Chicago each week-end. Payments were alleged to have been made in return for these favors.



YOU CAN "Say It" BY TELEPHONE!

The tendency to reach for the telephone when you have important news for your friends, or when you want to hear the latest news from them, is a perfectly natural one. For it is easy to say what you wish and telephoning is so much like saying it face to face. Sincerity of voice and warmth of personality may travel far in one short, inexpensive telephone conversation. More and more those who are separated by great distances use the telephone to keep friendships alive, to maintain family ties, to extend greetings and bring tidings. The relief from anxiety, the removal of uncertainties, the pleasure of hearing a cheerful voice from afar—these things give satisfaction and value beyond price. Yet the cost of a conversation between friends or relatives, even when many miles apart, is surprisingly low.

SIZZLING HEAT IN FRANCE PERILS RICH WINE CROP

Nation Told to Conserve Water Supply.

BY HAROLD ETTLINGER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 18. — All France is sizzling in one of the worst heat waves in history. It is causing considerable suffering in the cities and threatens to destroy the nation's wine crop. Warnings to use water sparingly are being sounded everywhere. No relief from the drouth is in sight.

Fires broke out at seven different points in Fontainebleau forest today and spread rapidly because of parched conditions. The army of fire fighters was mobilized from nearby towns.

Fear Hailstorms.

Wine growers not only are worried because of the heat. They also fear sudden hailstorms will damage the vines as well as ruin the crop. On the other hand, if the drouth does not last too long and is ended with fairly mild rains, the unusual period of sunshine will make this one of the greatest wine years in history. There has been no rainfall in ten weeks.

The breweries are working overtime to satisfy the thirst of roasting Parisians, while the consumption of aperitifs is reaching a record figure.

According to reports from Caudebec-en-Caux, a sea monster resembling the famous resident of Lock Ness was sighted in the Seine river in that part of Normandy. River fishermen say they saw an animal about 12 yards long, with a peculiar shaped head-swimming up the Seine at a rate of 15 miles an hour. Parties have been organized to try to capture the monster.

In Paris it is intimated that the sighting of the sea mammal may be due to the extreme heat.

JUDGE DISCARDS WIG

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 18.—England still is sweltering in a heat wave today. At 2 p. m. the thermometer registered 82 degrees in the shade. According to weather reports, there is little hope of relief for the next 48 hours.

The heat was so intense in the divorce court in London that Lord Merrivale, that famous judge, did a most unusual thing in British legal history—he removed his wig. Perspiring lawyers were astounded at such a shocking breach of judicial etiquet. Several felt the shock so severely they had to hurry to the nearest bar for a stimulant.

The most dignified police in the world, as represented by the bobbies at Rochester, removed their tunics and directed trafic in their shirt sleeves.

Fire Perils Ascot.

At Ascot, the famous race course, a cigaret discarded by a careless smoker set fire to seven acres of parched fields. The fire for a time threatened to reach the race course itself. Five hundred policemen with birch brooms guarded the race course.

Meanwhile the shortage of water is becoming more acute. The Thames today reached the lowest level since the great drouth in 1921. A London water board official declared that although there was no immediate question of compulsory restriction, the question of rationing water will be seriously considered if London has no rain within the next 10 days.

A guard was kept everywhere against a wastage of water.

CATCHES PURSE SNATCHER.

William Helwick, 19 years old, who said he came to Chicago three weeks ago from Houston, Tex., was arrested yesterday after he snatched the purse of Miss Helen Tracas, cashier for a Fak'ios restaurant at 200 West Madison street.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm

BY FRANK RIDGEWAY.

June 18, 1934.

THE first systematic inspection of the rare field crops being grown on THE TRIBUNE Experimental farm was made today. Like most strangers, these crops are being viewed skeptically by visitors, including veteran northern Illinois farmers and the men who are cultivating and weeding the test plots.

There are more than a dozen types of plants, representing at least fifty varieties, being tested in this field laboratory to see how many of them can withstand weather conditions and natural enemines in northern Illinois. Out of all the varieties tested it is hoped that at least a few will pull through even a dry year such as the present and give to farmers a more valuable range of crops.

Below is a tabulation of the rare crops growing on the experimental farm this year, indicating the plot numbers, common names, varieties, number of rows, stand or comparative number of plants in the row, the condition or healthiness of the plants, and miscellaneous observations:

This first observation of the plants reveals that most of the seedings made on May 14, 1934, have come through the ground and practically all of the stands are from fair to good. Lespedeza and vetch are making the poorest showing in the test plots so far.

Additional reports will be made on these crops as inspections are completed from time to time during the season.

2 AIR CORPS FLYERS DIE IN PLANE CRASH; CONTROLS BLAMED

Indianapolis, Ind., June 18.—[Special.]—Lieut. Edward M. Johnson of Indianapolis and Lieut. James L. Bruce of Terre Haute, Ind., members of the Air corps reserve, were killed today when their airplane fell near Lawrence, Ind., several miles from here. They had just taken off from Fort Benjamin Harrison near here for Dayton, O., when the accident occurred.

Lieut. Bruce was still alive when a rescue party reached the plane after the crash but died several hours later. Lieut. Johnson was killed instantly.

It is believed that imperfect controls were the cause of the accident. The two had taken off smoothly in good weather conditions. Lieut. Johnson was at the controls at the time of the crash.

Both men were expert flyers and were members of the Officers' reserve corps on active duty. Lieut. Johnson was assistant superintendent of the Indianapolis municipal airport.

Beer Flat Operator Jailed for Selling Rum to Pupils

Neil Boles, 59 years old, operator of a beer flat at 242 West 59th street, was sentenced to a year in the Bridewell and fined $200 yesterday when he pleaded guilty to selling liquor to two high school pupils.

SEEK KIDNAPERS OF GIRL WORKING FOR FAIR CASHIER

Austin police sought yesterday three men who kidnaped a girl employé of A Century of Progress from her escort, drove her about in an automobile for two hours, then released her in Oak Park with no explanation of their actions.

The girl is Miss Betty Kessell, 21 years old, of 115 North Parkside avenue, secretary in the cashier's division of the fair. She told police she had been to a World's Fair party Saturday night with George Gunason, 1461 Foster avenue, a student at Northwestern university.

Gunason took her home early Sunday morning, she stated, and at the door to the building, they were halted by two masked men. They tied Gunason to a pipe in the apartment building laundry, bound a handkerchief about the girl's face, and put her into a car.

Two hours later, she said, she was put out of the machine and warned to wait ten minutes before removing her blindfold. When she did so, she recognized her surroundings as Madison street and Harlem avenue in Oak Park.

City Must Pay $25,000 for Enforced Vacations

The city of Chicago was ordered yesterday to pay to 230 retired policemen $25,000, representing 14 days' pay lost in 1931 through the "enforced vacations" instituted by the city council for economy.

FEW CHINCH BUGS KILLED BY RAINS IN INFESTED AREA

More Downpours Needed, Entomologist Says.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Field inspections made by entomologists and farmers yesterday indicate that few chinch bugs were killed by the general rains which fell over the week-end in the eleven infested states of the middle west. Even at Urbana, Ill., where more than two and a half inches of rain fell Sunday, observations made on the University of Illinois agricultural experiment station farm showed only a small percentage of the pests had been destroyed.

While the showers were scattered over a wide area, the heaviest rains fell in Illinois, east central Missouri, western Kentucky, northwestern Ohio, and southwestern Wisconsin.

Fair and Warmer Today.

Chicago, still kept in the low seventies by lake breezes, had an official precipitation of .10 inches during the 24 hours ending at 8 p. m. yesterday. Forecaster W. P. Day predicted fair and slightly warmer weather today, with possible rains in sight tomorrow. Temperatures will remain moderate.

A summary of the rains from the first of the month until June 18, issued by the Chicago weather bureau, showed that 1 to 6 inches had fallen over 90 per cent of the corn and wheat region. Chicago, however, has a deficiency of slightly less than 10 inches in precipitation since the first of the year.

Despite these rains, W. P. Flint, chief entomologist at the Urbana experiment station, announced that a series of showers every three or four days for a period of at least three weeks would be necessary to drown out the chinch bugs. He said each rainfall should be more than a half inch.

Rains Damage Dust Barriers.

Dust barriers recently built to prevent chinch bugs from migrating out of small grain into corn fields were damaged by the rains, especially where the rainfall was heavy.

Farmers are urged by experts to continue their fight against the chinch bug and not to depend upon rains to destroy the pest. Yesterday Illinois farmers were completing their work of building dust barriers with chemical repellants supplied by the federal government free of charge.

Mr. Flint announced yesterday that an additional supply of 250,000 gallons of creosote and coal tar had been obtained by Illinois farmers through Dr. P. N. Annan, federal entomologist stationed at Minneapolis.

1,250,000 Gallons Used.

This makes a total of 1,250,000 gallons used by farmers in Illinois in building their share of the million miles of chemically treated barriers in the eleven infested states. The extra material was obtained by Dr. Annan from states that had not used their quota of creosote and coal tar furnished by congress through a million dollar appropriation.

Most of this additional material had been distributed to farmers last night. There will not be enough creosote and coal tar to meet the needs of farmers ity about 30 million dollars' worth of this state. Calls for additional material came from about fifty counties to the state chinch bug control committee at Urbana yesterday.

Husband of Radio Star Found Dead in Kentucky

Covington, Ky., June 18.—(AP)—H. A. Donaldson, 44, husband of Mrs. Grace Donaldson, member of a pioneer radio team [Don-Hall-Rose trio] is dead here. He was found dead in a rooming house, victim of a heart attack.

U. S. GIVES ILLINOIS MORE CREOSOTE TO FIGHT CHINCH BUGS

Urbana, Ill., June 18.—[Special.]—Reinforcements today were thrown into the fight which Illinois farmers are waging to save their corn from chinch bugs. The federal government granted this state an additional 250,000 gallons of the creosote or coal oil that is being supplied free to farmers for barrier building.

Illinois originally had an allotment of 800,000 gallons of oil out of the 1,000,000 which the federal government appropriated for fighting chinch bugs in 11 states, Prof. Flint announced. This allotment has been increased by 200,000 gallons before the additional 250,000 was added today so that the state has now used 1,250,000 gallons of the government purchased barrier material, he said.

U. OF MINNESOTA PUTS DRILL ON OPTIONAL BASIS

Minneapolis, Minn., June 18.—(AP)—The board of regents of the University of Minnesota, where military training has been compulsory since the institute was founded, today voted to make ROTC training optional.

The board, which for years has heard arguments over the cadet training, took its action on motion of Mrs. Anna Olson Determan of Litchfield, one of the newer regents, in executive session. Individual votes were not disclosed.

Protests over compulsory drill, in which some 2,500 men students are drilled each year, under the regulation demanding two years of training for every able bodied undergraduate, have been more frequent in late years, but today's action was a surprise.

Giving no previous hint of their intention to vote, the regents removed a rule which has held away since the actual founding of the university.

SHIPSTEAD FAR AHEAD IN RACE FOR U.S. SENATE

Olson Is Renominated for Governor.

St. Paul, Minn., June 18.—(AP)—Candidates for public office scanned their first hands dealt them in today's primary by the electorate and found Fred Schilplin, St. Cloud publisher, and Martin Nelson, Austin lawyer, gubernatorial aspirants, had won the first tricks on early returns.

Nelson was running far ahead of three opponents for the Republican party's indorsement, but Schilplin was confronted with a hot fight to lead his seven Democratic foes and win possible bi-party support against Gov. Floyd B. Olson in the fall election.

Governor Swells Lead.

The incumbent chief executive virtually was certain of nomination, as each precinct reported swelled his mounting lead over John Lind, his only contestant.

United States Senator Henrik Shipstead swept ahead in his race with Congressman Francis H. Shoemaker, both seeking the Farmer-Labor nomination for the former's office.

N. J. Holmberg and Tom Davis were running neck and neck for the Republican nomination for United States senator, while Congressman Einar Hoidale was far ahead of Lewis E. Lohmann on the Democratic ticket.

Returns in Governor's Race.

Returns from 542 precincts out of 3,696 in the state for governor show:

Farmer-Labor—Floyd B. Olson, 44,561; John Lind, 4,034.

Republican—Martin A. Nelson, 21,770; A. B. Gilbert, 2,959; Edgar B. Bernard, 1,795; Knute O. Sandum, 1,648.

Democrat—Fred Schilplin, 14,282; John E. Regan, 13,422; Oliver Skellet, 11,983; Albert Pfaender, 6,703; Joseph J. Mariarity, 1,968; Silas M. Bryan, 4,297; Mathew F. Eusterman, 640; James T. Hegland, 989.

Returns from 339 of 3,696 precincts for United States senator gave:

Farmer-Labor — Shipstead, 22,163; Shoemaker, 7,212.

Republican—Davis, 8,736; Holmberg, 10,569.

Democratic — Hoidale, 18,115; Lohmann, 5,328.

Communism Made Issue.

Cries of communism rang in voters' ears as they pencilled the consolidated ballots. The four Republican and eight Democratic candidates for governor concentrated almost to a man on the Farmer-Labor Coöperative Commonwealth platform with its sweeping provisions for public ownership and emphasized curtailed governmental costs and lower taxes.

WEDDING OF U. S. FILM STAR HELD UP BY RED TAPE

PARIS, June 18.—(AP)—The red tape of French marriage laws today forced Laura La Plante, American film actress, and Irving Asher, director of Warner Brothers' London studio, to delay their wedding until 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

The star and director, who flew here from London yesterday for a "one day honeymoon" spent the day sightseeing with James Walker, former New York mayor, and his wife, Betty Compton, who came over with him.

The two couples spent most of the time greeting friends while a perspiring lawyer rushed around in a temperature of 94 degrees in the shade complying with legal formality.

Immediately after the marriage the couple will return to London. Pierre Wertheimer, an old friend of Asher, will be best man while Mr. and Mrs. Walker will act for Miss La Plante.

COUNTY WORKER FALLS TO DEATH FROM CITY HALL

Edward T. Boissy, 55 years old, of 8412 Drexel boulevard, an employé of the county recorder's office, was killed yesterday when he either leaped or fell from the eighth floor of the city hall. His body struck at the bottom of the small air shaft between the banisters on the second floor level.

Boissy had undergone an operation recently for a malignant growth, according to fellow workers. His widow, Nellie, and a son, Edward T. Boissy Jr., 15 years old, survive.

Boissy long led in American Legion activities, staging benefits for the veterans at the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital, and others. He was president of the Midwest Baseball league.

Fines Sec. Ickes' Son $16 as Speeder After Delays

Raymond Ickes, 21 years old, 874 Grove street, Glencoe, son of Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, was fined $16 for speeding and passing a stop sign by Judge Harry H. Porter yesterday in Evanston police court. Ickes, arrested April 8, did not appear. A lawyer paid the fine. The case had been continued several times.

HALE IS LEADING IN MAINE PRIMARY FOR SENATOR; AMES AHEAD

Portland, Me., June 18.—(AP)—Alfred K. Ames of Machias, who once knew the feel of caulked boots and the riverman's peavy, held nearly a two to one lead for the Republican gubernatorial nomination as returns from one-third of the state were recorded tonight in Maine's primary election.

Gaining steadily as returns were tabulated, Ames held his margin in a four cornered race and seemed well on the way toward his aspiration to oppose Gov. Louis J. Brann [Dem.] in the September election. Brann was unopposed for renomination.

Senator Frederick Hale [Rep.] moved toward his third renomination with a better than three to one lead over Louis A. Jack of Lisbon.

CITY IS ALLOWED TO KEEP $700,000 FROM PHONE CO.

The Illinois Bell Telephone company yesterday formally released the city from any obligation to return to the company approximately $700,000 which the city received during the last 10 years on telephone rate collections recently held by the United States Supreme court to be excessive.

During the 10 years the city has been receiving 3 per cent of the telephone company's gross income, less certain deductions. The $700,000 represents the city's percentage on the excessive collections.

The company also gave the city yesterday a check for $69,590 to reimburse the city for all expenses of the phone rate litigation other than attorney's fees.

3,000 REPORTED SLAIN AS CHACO BATTLE RAGES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 18.—Bolivians and Paraguayans are again locked in combat in the Gran Chaco, with the latter throwing their best troops into the battle to break the Bolivian line, which is putting up the stoutest resistance since the last great rereat.

It is declared that 30,000 participated in the latest struggle. The Bolivians, now fighting nearer home, claim to have repulsed three attacks, killing 3,000, wounding 5,000, and taking 1,000 prisoners. The second Paraguayan army corps suffered greatly according to a Bolivian communique.

Two Women Shot to Death by Miner, Then He's Killed

Bluefield, W. Va., June 18.—(AP)—Two women were shot to death by a miner late tonight and the man, Walter Cheek, was in turn shot and killed as he leveled his pistol at Ken Harrison, husband of one of the women.

G. O. P. TO START MIDWEST FIGHT IN SPRINGFIELD

State Convention to Hear Fletcher on Aug. 9.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Henry P. Fletcher, recently elected chairman of the Republican national committee, will open the party's battle in the middle west at the Illinois G. O. P. convention in Springfield on Aug. 9.

It is said the national organization already has decided that the fight against continued transfer of legislative power to individuals selected by the executive must center largely in this section of the country. It is expected that Mr. Fletcher's speech in Illinois will show the battle line upon which he proposes to conduct the contest for congressional seats in the November election.

So far as is known now this will be the new chairman's first public appearance of importance at a large gathering and the Republican state organization intends to make the convention a big one. Representatives of other states are expected to attend and perhaps to participate.

Announcement from Johnson

State Chairman Justus L. Johnson of Aurora made the announcement that Mr. Fletcher's acceptance has been received. Mr. Johnson said that he looked forward to a discussion of some of the main issues that will be threshed out during the fall.

"Governmental policies that retard recovery and are destructive to American ideals," he said, "will receive full consideration. The Republicans will present a constructive policy for human betterments without the imposition of dictatorship.

"Subject matter pertaining to the welfare of the state of Illinois will be presented by leaders who have been on the firing line in the solution of these problems since the Democrats came into power. The living realities of current times will be met squarely."

Brooks to Make Address

C. Wayland Brooks, nominee for congressman at large, is to be the temporary chairman and is expected to make an address of importance.

The convention is to be held in the Illinois state fair grounds coliseum which has a capacity of 6,000. There will be 1,932 delegates entitled to seats, 775 of them from Cook county and 1,157 from the rest of the state. Every county is to be asked to send its full quota of delegates and alternates and also groups of equal size representing the Young Republican league and the service men's organization.

The Cook county organization has arranged for a "candidates' only" luncheon tomorrow noon at the Hotel Bismarck. Chairman William H. Weber and Secretary Edward F. Moore will discuss with the nominees a preliminary outline of plans for the local campaign.

HOUSE GROUP GIVES WARNING ON GEN. FOULOIS

Threatens to Hold Up Air Corps Bills.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—(AP)—A warning that army air corps legislation would encounter trouble in congress unless the corps were reorganized was given today by members of the house committee that recommended immediate removal of Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois as chief of the army's flyers.

The committee's unanimous report which urged that Foulois be relieved was transmitted to Secretary Dern. He said he had not had time to study it, and would make no recommendation to President Roosevelt until he had.

Issue Warning.

Meanwhile, committee members agreed unless Foulois were removed, air corps legislation would come to a standstill. Their attitude was expressed this way by Representative Goss. [R., Conn.], one of the eight military affairs subcommittee members who signed the report:

"The officials downtown must remember that they are working for us; we aren't working for them."

The committee today took official cognizance of a statement issued to newspapers by Foulois in which he expressed regret that the committee's hearings had been "secret." Chairman Rogers [D., N. H.], was authorized by the committee to say this on the house floor in answer:

"We did not want to besmirch anyone. Maj. Gen. Foulois has friends on the committee. We decided to get to the bottom of the proposition before we did anything, but in addition to that, Maj. Gen. Foulois himself came before our committee and asked that the hearings be kept executive and secret."

Declines to Quit.

In his statement Foulois said he had no intention of resigning, asserted the charges against him were unfair and unjust, and declared he was willing to meet his accusers before any court.

The house committee's report recommended Foulois be removed because of alleged "dishonesty," "gross misconduct," "incompetency," and "mismanagement" in connection with the army's purchase of planes by negotiated contract instead of by competitive bidding.

Senator Johnson Leaves for Home; Studies Party Tie

Washington, D. C., June 18.—(AP)—Senator Hiram Johnson. (Rad., Cal) left the capital for home late today, still undecided whether he would register as a Republican or a progressive in his campaign for reëlection. Johnson had expected to file on the Democratic, Progressive and Republican tickets with the hope of winning the three nominations and reelection at the primaries.

He was confident he could win the Democratic and Progressive, but if he should register as a Republican and lose the Republican nomination he would be eliminated from the final contest under California law.

GIVE BERMUDA TO U. S. FOR DEBT? 'NO, SIR!' REPLIES MACDONALD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 18.—Great Britain will not offer Bermuda or any other islands to the United States in settlement of her war debt. Such an arrangement, Prime Minister MacDonald told the house of commons this afternoon, would not be considered under any circumstances.

MacDonald made this assertion in reply to a question by Capt. Arthur Evans, Conservative. The latter wanted to know if the government would consider handing over Bermuda or other island territories adjacent to the United States which no longer are of any defensive use to the Biritish empire.

J. J. Lawson, Laborite, later asked whether in view of the fact that Great Britain had gone off the gold standard and defaulted on her debt, MacDonald could give assurance that the British empire would be left intact by the time of the next election.

Then Lieut. Col. J. Sandeman Allen, Conservative, suggested that Britain offer the United States the Irish Free State. F. A. Macquisten, Scottish Conservative, who speaks for the whisky interests, suggested that Bermuda would be specially desirable as a week-end resort for Americans who had learned to appreciate it during the prohibition period.

JOHNSON FIRES NRA WORKERS' UNION LEADER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson today fired John Donovan, a member of the NRA clerical staf, who has been the militant leader of a union formed among NRA workers for collective bargaining purposes.

Johnson insisted tonight that he had not fired Donovan because of his union activities but for "inefficiency, inattention to duty, unauthorized absence from duty, and insubordination."

Section 7-A of the NIRA is regarded as protecting workers under codes from being discharged because of union activities. Scores of cases where coded industries have fired union men on the same ground as those given by Johnson tonight have been taken to the national labor board by the unions with the complaint that the real reason for discharge was union discrimination.

The NRA union, most strongly organized in the clerical and stenographic forces, has been battling for improvement of working hours and conditions. The union representatives have had several brushes with Gen. Johnson in their effort to "bargain collectively" with him. A delegation of the union workers called on him today.

THIRD SUSPECT ARRESTED AFTER TORTURE HOLDUP

Clark Gallagher, 28 years old, 4254 North Whipple street, alleged to have been one of four bandits who tortured and robbed Mrs. Rose Vovesny, 5860 Forest Glen avenue, a school teacher, three months ago, was arrested last night by a squad from Capt. John Stege's office. He is the third of the four men to be arrested.

Because of the cruel method employed by the bandits to force Mrs. Vovesny to disclose the hiding place of $5,000 worth of bonds and jewelry, their pursuit has been pressed by police. The woman has not yet completely recovered from burns inflicted by the men.

The other two arrested are Harry Burns, 42 years old, 3231 North Clark street, and William King, 32 years old, 1034 Belmont avenue. They are being held on bonds of $20,000 apiece. Gallagher will be taken to the bureau of identification today.

Old Gold CIGARETTES
THE TREASURE OF THEM ALL
Old Gold

"Is it my imagination?"

asks— Bing Crosby

. . . "or are Old Golds really cooler and easier on the throat?"

Dear Mr. Crosby:—

When you changed to Old Gold cigarettes a few months ago, it was fact, not fancy, that gave your throat a thrill!

Many tests have established Old Gold's superior smoothness. A group of New York throat specialists, for instance, tested several brands and found Old Golds appreciably cooler and easier on the throat tissue.

"No artificial flavoring" . . . that's one reason. But the character of the tobacco . . . that's the BIG reason. It's picked from the heart of the stalk, where Nature grows her mildest and coolest-burning leaf.

That's why you can smoke Old Golds as freely as you please . . . without the slightest throat irritation.

Sincerely,

Exact Knowledge about Selling New York

which no man has ever before possessed

What New York likes, owns, buys and reads—a million new facts about the nation's largest market—are now available for the first time in the R. L. Polk Consumer Census of New York. This information, boiled down for clear and easy analysis, is offered by The New York Times to executives who want more business, more profits, from New York.

THESE IMPORTANT QUESTIONS AND THOUSANDS MORE ANSWERED!

Where is 60% of New York's spending power concentrated?

What group of New York families own 75% of the automobiles, 85% of the checking accounts, 83% of the mechanical refrigerators; two-thirds of the telephones, savings accounts and vacuum cleaners? How can they best be reached by advertising?

What are the preferred brands in New York of: coffee, bread, breakfast foods, soaps, canned goods, tooth-pastes, shaving creams, cigarettes? How large is the remaining market for such preferences?

What are New York's actual price-paying habits... dresses, millinery, coats, shoes, men's hats and other clothing items?

What is the automobile replacement market in New York? How old are New York's cars; what did they cost; were they bought new or used? What are the favored tires, gasolines, oils... and how large a market still has no preferences?

What refrigerators, radios, vacuum cleaners, lead in New York today? What is the probable existing replacement market?

Checked against this new and accurate information, are your present sales plans as efficient and economical as they might be?

NEW PROOF OF THE SELLING POWER OF THE TIMES ADVERTISING COLUMNS

Note: All information about New York newspapers in the Polk Census is on the basis of Home-Effectiveness—that is, only circulation regularly received in New York City homes, as reported by the women buying-heads of families.

Homes of New York's best buying families are reached at a cost per home 15% below any other newspaper . . . 80% below the average for all. On Sundays, the economy is equally great.

More families with checking accounts—61% more—are reached in their homes by The Times than by any other newspaper.

To reach purchasers of clothing above the lowest price range, The Times is by far New York's most economical advertising medium.

The Times goes into 53% more homes of families carrying over $10,000 insurance than any other newspaper.

The Times reaches more New York automobile buyers per advertising dollar than can be reached by any other newspaper.

The sales building power of The New York Times—so many times demonstrated—is now precisely defined, and measured for your use.

There are many "surveys" but—

This is something more than a "survey". It is a true picture of a $5,500,000,000 market. This Consumer Census was conducted by R. L. Polk & Company independently, impartially, thoroughly, by interviewing one family in twenty throughout the city—a perfect cross-section. When it was undertaken, the Census had no sponsor other than the Polk Company. No purchaser, or even probable purchaser, of the results was in view. The New York Times acquired these valuable facts only after the investigation was complete and tabulated. Executives who want to study New York sales problems in new light will find the Polk Census an important aid. A letter or telephone call to The New York Times Advertising Department will place pertinent facts from the Polk Census before any interested advertiser or advertising agency.

VALLEE ON STAND BUT LAWYERS DO ALL THE TALKING

Case Then Put Off Until June 27.

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Rudy Vallee was in the courtroom of Supreme Court Justice Salvatore A. Cotillo again today for another hearing in the suit of his estranged wife, Fay Webb Vallee, to set aside her $100 a week separation agreement.

Rudy was called to the witness stand and sworn, but had little opportunity to say anything because of the wrangling of the lawyers.

His counsel, Hyman Bushel, repeated that Fay's suit was "a holdup, a stickup and a blackmail." Mr. Bushel first sought an adjournment of eight weeks on the ground that his associate counsel, Samuel Gottlieb, was going away on his honeymoon.

Wants Similar Period.

Benjamin A. Hartstein, attorney for Fay, then demanded a similar period in which to file motions, saying a stipulation between counsel permitted him this leeway in case the defendant sought a delay.

Mr. Hartstein indicated that what he wanted to do was to place both Mr. Bushel and Mr. Vallee on the stand to submit to examination regarding the affairs of the Rudy Vallee Orchestra Unit corporation.

Mr. Bushel is president of the corporation. Mr. Hartstein said the corporation was the mother hen, under which all the Vallee dollars ran to hide after Rudy earned them. He calls it a blind to conceal Rudy's real assets and earning power, which has been estimated as high as one million dollars a year.

Agrees to Short Delay.

The court finally agreed to put the case off until June 27, by which time depositions are due from California, and the Appellate court may have ruled on certain points.

Meantime, Rudy expects to go to California to make a movie and he asked the court to protect him from legal annoyances while there. He produced a contract which he said his wife had signed, agreeing not to molest him. The judge scanned the document and then turned to the wife's lawyer and said:

"I must be assured that you are not going to interfere with this young man earning his livelihood, and I'm going to see that he gets peace and tranquility when he sets foot in California, and not be harassed and made the object of ridicule."

There the matter rested. Mrs. Vallee was not in court.

MRS. KEMLER 95 TODAY; KIN TO CELEBRATE

Spry, blue eyed Mrs. Lena Kemler, 5425 Ellis avenue, will raise her 4 feet 10 inches to their fullest height today as her children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren gather around to help her celebrate her 95th birthday.

MRS. LENA KEMLER.

Mrs. Kemler was born in Alsace-Lorraine, but when she was 7 years old she came to Chicago with her family. Their first home was in New Strausburg, now Chicago Heights. It consisted of a log cabin, and was on a site which the Indians had deserted less than a year previously. Friends in a two-horse covered wagon met them in Chicago for the trip overland to their new home.

With the passing of the years Mrs. Kemler has seen her New Strausburg become part of Cook county, has seen her children grow up to be Chicagoans. She is one, too, and is proud of it.

"I feel fine," she said yesterday. "I can get around the house fine. I can work as hard as any one."

She has one son, one daughter, six grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren, all of whom will be present at the celebration today. At the time of her marriage, in 1865, she lived in a house on 22d street near Wentworth avenue. She now resides with her son, Charles.

Gets Year in Bridewell for Mistreating 2 Girls

Herbert Weisner, 24 years old, 4238 North Irving avenue, was fined $200 and sentenced to one year in the bridewell by Judge Howard Hayes yesterday for contributing to the delinquency of two sisters, 12 and 8 years old. Weisner was charged with having taken the girls to a Wisconsin cottage.

"PRINCE" SEIZED AS SEDUCER OF POET COMPANION

Girl, 18, Is Held in Detention House.

New York, June 18.—[Special]—Louise Krist, 18 year old girl with leanings toward poetry and music, whose disappearance with "Prince" Childre de Rohan d' Harcourt had occupied police for more than two weeks, was held at the House of Detention today pending arraignment tomorrow as a wayward minor.

With the "prince," she was arrested in Greenwich Village and the "prince," listed at police headquarters as the possessor of a criminal record, was booked on a charge of seduction.

When arrested they insisted they were "Mr. and Mrs. Robert White." Detectives found a card with the name "D'Harcourt" in Miss Krist's handbag and forced them to admit their identity.

The girl said she was "over 18" and the "common law wife" of "Count Dear," as she called her companion.

Disappears After Party.

The interval since June 1, when Miss Krist disappeared after a "poetry party" at which the "prince" also was a guest, had been spent at the homes of friends and in cheap hotels, the couple said. At the time they were discovered, they said, they were debating whether to go to a police station and announce their identity, and then journey to the municipal building for a marriage license.

Both appeared surprised when informed that they were to be arrested. The "prince," who had just delivered himself of a "prayer" announcing that he was the "supreme self," was trying to borrow the cost of a marriage license from reporters when informed that the seduction charge was being lodged against him.

"She's My Ideal."

"You know she is my ideal," the "prince" declared. "I've dreamed of her for ten years. I had almost given up, but at last my scientific prayers have been answered. Now if she is taken from me I will kill myself."

Miss Krist declared D'Harcourt's police record made no difference to her. Her parents were said also to favor an immediate marriage.

Three Are Selected

Northwestern university yesterday announced the election of three new members to its board of trustees. They are Bertram J. Cahn, who succeeds the late Melvin A. Traylor; Bishop Ernest L. Waldorf, who replaces Charles H. Schweppe, resigned, and Harold H. Anderson, who becomes representative of the alumni association.

Mr. Cahn and Mr. Anderson are alumni of the university. The former, who is chairman of the board of B. Kuppenheimer & Co., Inc., was graduated from the law school in 1899. Mr. Anderson, who is a partner of Publishers' Syndicate, was for two years president of the alumni association. He was graduated from the college of liberal arts in 1923. Bishop Waldorf is head of the Methodist church in the Chicago area.

State Refuses Approval of Bransfield Contracts

Members of the county board were notified yesterday that officials of the state department of highways had refused to sanction the awarding of three contracts totaling $93,043 to John M. Bransfield, paving contractor, who is now under indictment on conspiracy charges in the Criminal court. The contracts were let by the board over the protest of State's Attorney Courtney.

MOVIE OFFICIAL SAYS HIS FILMS WILL BE CLEAN

RKO Began Crusade Last Fall, He Declares.

RKO-Radio never has produced and never will produce pictures offensive to a Catholic prelate, a Presbyterian intellectual, a federated clubwoman or a mother of seven, in the opinion of Ned S. Depinet, president of the RKO Distributing corporation, who is in Chicago for the annual convention of RKO-Radio sales managers.

"We are definitly committed to a policy of clean pictures, and will make every effort to continue to please the family audience," Mr. Depinet said. "We have slipped occasionally in the past, from certain viewpoints, but we plan to watch this carefully in the future."

Mr. Depinet hastened to deny that RKO-Radio has "dedicated its existence to a round of Little Lord Fountleroys or namby-pambies."

Tells What Makes Drama.

"If you're going to have drama," he said, "you have to touch upon delicate matters. They are what make drama. All we say is that if we touch upon them, we shan't dwell upon them.

"We regret that the church is attacking us. The only way we know of to meet the situation is to see that our pictures contain as little of the distasteful as possible.

"As early as last fall, long before the cleanup movement was widely known, we realized that greater care must be taken in motion pictures. Every picture planned for next year is clean and wholesome. We probably made one of the most wholesome pictures ever produced when we made 'Little Women,' and we're planning others equally good for this year."

When questioned about the RKO-Radio production, "The Life of Virgie Winters," starring Ann Harding, over which the Chicago Board of Censors is now hesitating, Mr. Depinet expressed surprise.

"I don't see why they should hesitate," he said. "It has been passed by the New York and Boston boards."

RKO-Radio believes that "dirty pictures are not good business pictures," Mr. Depinet said, "and that a dirty picture never yet has sold well." He admitted, with some hesitation, that Mae West was an exception—but he didn't know why.

Approximately 200 RKO-Radio distributors and sales officials are attending the three-day convention. Europe, Canada, South America, Australia and every American state are represented.

2 DOCTORS FIGHT TO HEAD CHICAGO MEDICAL SOCIETY

Ballots cast yesterday and today will be counted this evening to decide the winner of the most controversial election in some years over the presidency of the Chicago Medical society. The candidates are Dr. Austin A. Hayden, who is defying custom by attempting to succeed himself, and Dr. Julius H. Hess, regular nominee of the powerful council of the society.

Ballots not mailed in by the 3,200 members wil be cast at the 15 branch headquarters.

PROTESTANTS OF OHIO JOIN FIGHT ON FILTHY FILMS

Will Present Petition by Pastors to Censors.

Columbus, O., June 18.—[Special.]—Coöperation by the Protestant churches of Ohio with the "Legion of decency,' 'a Catholic organization fighting for the rejection of indecent motion picture films, was seen today in a letter addressed to all pastors by B. F. Lamb, secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches. Lamb urged ministers to secure signatures to petitions protesting against "salaciousness" in films.

"You are no doubt aware of the campaign of the Roman Catholic church through the Legion of Decency in behalf of clean pictures," the letter says. "The motion picture committee of the Ohio Council of Churches has agreed that the best method of coöperation is to focus public sentiment on the board of censors, demanding that bad pictures be completely rejected."

Says Correction Is in Production.

Lamb pointed out that the cutting of films and eliminating of single scenes does not change the tone of the picture. Correction in production is the solution, he said.

The petitions will be sent to B. O. Skinner, head of the Ohio board of censors. Conviction that the board would welcome this evidence of public opinion was expressed in the letter.

It is claimed that more than 500 exhibitors in the state have indicated their desire to coöperate in the movement.

The petition accompanying Lamb's letter to ministers protests the board's accepance of pictures where "licentiousness, crime and debauchery are shown in attractive form with little or no reference to the penalties that must inevitably follow evil."

Denounces Immorality.

The immorality of the film world in Hollywood was denounced by the Rev. E. A. Rager, pastor of a United Brethren church, in his sermon following his return from a 6 weeks' visit to southern California. Describing the film industry as "all glitter, tinsel and gaudiness," the pastor told his congregation that "it is gall and bitter, and that is why we have pictures in our theaters that include licentiousness and debauchery with no penalties following."

"Virtue is vice and vice is virtue," he declared. "Many of those people live that way and it is natural for them to picture their own way of living. Christian people should demand clean pictures, and if the present producers cannot give them to us, let us get a new group who can."

"Newspapers are the sentinels of the liberties of our country."—Benjamin Bush.

THE ATTACK ON GEN. FOULOIS.

An investigating committee of the house of representatives has recommended the immediate removal of Maj. Gen. Benjamin Foulois from his position as chief of the army air corps. The committee accuses the general of dishonesty, gross misconduct, inefficiency, etc., etc. The testimony on which these charges are based has not been disclosed.

Gen. Foulois has issued a statement challenging the finding of the committee. He asserts that he does not fear the outcome of a fair and impartial investigation of the facts and in asking for such an inquiry he undoubtedly has the support of public opinion generally. On his side the general has something more than the presumption of innocence which any accused person is entitled to. In this instance the accusers themselves, being a congressional committee of inquiry, are open to the gravest suspicion.

The motives and procedures of such committees are notorious. This committee may properly be suspected of seeking a scapegoat in the army rather than in politics for the army's disastrous failure in carrying the mails. That fiasco shocked the country. A dozen pilots lost their lives, and in consequence the administration which ordered the army, without preparation, to fly the mails, suffered a severe loss of prestige. The fault may or may not have been the army's but there is no doubt about what the politicians would like the country to believe.

As is well known, committees of inquiry commonly observe no rules of evidence and adopt no procedures calculated to produce the truth. Their aim is generally to smear those who may be the object of their dislike. If this is true of committee inquiries conducted in public, it may be presumed to be doubly true of investigations conducted behind locked doors.

Gen. Foulois was the first man in the United States army to learn to fly. That was in 1909. His teacher was Wilbur Wright. The general made one of the most important contributions to airplane design when he mounted the plane on wheels instead of skids. He was also a pioneer in the application of the radio to airplane requirements. It is not easy to believe that a man whose career has been so intimately bound up with that of the army air service would at this late date betray his trust and in so doing bring his own organization into disrepute.

In view of his distinguished record, and in view of the political character of his accusers, Gen. Foulois is entitled to a good deal more than the ordinary presumption of innocence before trial.

A FAMOUS VICTORY FOR THE PLANNERS.

The enforced limitation of the cotton crop will cost southern labor this year a hundred million dollars, Mr. Arthur Evans reports. Less cotton has been planted and, therefore, there will be less work for field hands in cultivating it. Less cotton will be ginned and, therefore, there will be less work at the gins and compressors. Less cotton will be moved on the railroads and in ships and less will be warehoused, with the inevitable result of decreased employment. There is no reason to think that the hundred million dollar figure is high; if anything it is too low. It takes no account of the hundreds of thousands and perhaps millions of tenants and share croppers who have been or will be deprived of their livings.

The planned economy and the New Deal can share the credit for this superb achievement in job and wage destruction. There is little evidence to suggest that the planners and New Dealers deliberately sought to deprive the forgotten men and women of the south of their jobs and livelihoods, but if the effort had been a deliberate one it could not have been more successful.

The sharpest reproach that can be directed against a free or unplanned economic system is that it entails some technological unemployment. This fact has obscured in many minds the far more important one that over the years the unplanned society, so-called, has provided employment and a rising standard of living for increasing numbers of people. In the long run the unplanned society has not destroyed jobs but created them and it has led not to lower living standards but to higher ones. Few workmen forty years ago could have dreamed of possessing a horse and buggy, but millions of them today own automobiles. Their families are better dressed, better housed, and better fed. Housekeeping has been relieved of many of its most unpleasant tasks.

The achievement of the unplanned economy may be profitably contrasted to the achievement of the planned economy in the cotton belt. The planners have destroyed jobs, reduced wages, and raised living costs, without profit to any one except landowners and cotton speculators. The social compensation for technological unemployment is cheaper and better goods; there is no compensation for the hundred million dollars of lost wages in the south. It promises less and more costly cotton goods and, therefore, a narrower distribution.

DRIVE FOR WIDER MARKETS—NOW.

TRIBUNE correspondents and investigators during the last six months, canvassing the prospects for American exports, found eager buyers of large quantities of American goods in every corner of the earth. Millions of families in South and Central America, Europe, Asia, and Africa want our automobiles, washing machines, plumbing fixtures, and refrigerators, and have the means with which to purchase at fair prices. Foreign industry prefers American machinery. Old customers can use a great deal more of our agricultural produce, particularly pork products.

We know from experience what effect a revival of exports can have upon our domestic conditions. The signal for recovery from every previous trade depression has been an increase in the sale of goods abroad. To produce and ship the extra amount of goods which can conceivably be exported under proper conditions at present would provide employment, it has been reliably estimated, for one million additional persons.

The persistence of a low state of our foreign commerce is not due to more depressed conditions abroad than here. A chart published recently in the financial section, based upon data from impartial sources, showed that improvement from the depths of the depression had been more substantial elsewhere than here.

What is holding back American sales abroad is a system of prohibitive tarifs and restrictive quotas directed against our commerce. Partly the discrimination arises from a desire to retaliate against some alleged discrimination on our part, partly from the operation of most favored nation clauses in treaties entered into by governments desirous of fostering the business of their natives. Other nations have felt perfectly free to discriminate against us whenever they desired, without suffering reprisals from us as consequences.

Congress has just enacted a law placing the widest powers of discretion in the President's hands in negotiating for the revival of our foreign trade. The chief executive has been clothed with the authority to make deals with other nations, opening up the markets of the world to our products.

The time to drive hard for wider markets is at hand. The need is great. The power to take the steps necessary to bring the result about is concentrated. If exports do not now increase substantially and promptly the responsibility for failure cannot be avoided.

MUSIC AND FLOWERS.

One can say for the Mae West tradition, so well illuminated by Philip Kinsley of THE TRIBUNE in his articles on the moving picture industry, that it is the conventional tradition. A full bower of it can be confidently looked for in almost every career of prestige. When a person acquires a large public and a favorable press there is a build up of characteristics the charm of which is found in the seeming contradiction in the careerist's nature and profession.

Miss West, who pitches the swiftest curves in the movies and is an almost certain cure for bankruptcy, is to be discovered as a rather prudish and almost narrow minded lady, far from the world which is hers on the screen. Her publicity department is said not to care for this. In reality she is Beth in "Little Women" and her publicity must keep her as Diamond Lil. The press agents are crazy. Why, do they suppose, do the greatest commanders of armed men in bloody wars always find themselves framed as simple country gentlemen by nature, loving flowers and children, petting the dogs, and meditating in the twilight?

Human liking is for the soft and sentimental side. The hard boiled egg has his place, but it is a better one if he will help a blind beggar across the street and press a five dollar bill into his hand. Virtue is admired even by persons who don't care to be bothered with it. Miss West's story is a better one than her press agents'.

THE CAMEL'S NOSE UNDER THE TENT.

[Peoria Transcript.]

Extension of the relief program to include government operation of two underwear factories at Boston was worked out yesterday, with a strong possibility that other idle factories will be utilized along similar lines.

Up to date, job making activities of the federal government have been limited to canneries in rural sections for the preservation of surplus vegetables and fruits.

Mr. Hopkins says there will be no return "to the old plan of relieving those without jobs," but that instead the government will make jobs. Under the new plan, relief authorities in the various states will supply funds for the purchase of raw materials and will pay workmen when necessary. In some instances, it is said, goods made in one factory operating on a relief basis will be exchanged with others for supplies needed by their workers.

Thus the national government takes another step in the direction of socialization of industry. Government operation will lead inevitably to government ownership. No private concern, burdened with taxes and hamstrung by regulations having the effect of law, can hope to compete with government. The Boston underwear factories, revived for the ostensible purpose of creating jobs for the unemployed, will be continued in operation for the same purpose. It will be up to the government to make certain that these factories are successful. If they are not, however, federal appropriations will be sought and granted to make up deficits.

Moreover, opening of the Boston underwear factories is a covert threat directed against every private business in America. It amounts to a declaration by the national government that if jobs cannot be found they will be created—not by a demand for goods or services, but by administrative fiat. Government factories are not less government factories because operated in the name of emergency.

Despite obvious objections to doles, they are not half so destructive of business morale as fresh invasions of government into the field of private enterprise. Obviously, a shore factory or an underwear factory which has been closed because private capital could not make it pay, cannot be successfully operated by government unless the federal treasury supports its pay rolls, and that would not be successful operation. Moreover, if a government operated factory is exempted from taxation, the tax burden is merely shifted to private enterprise.

The proposal to "create" jobs probably will appeal to the unthinking, but in reality no jobs are "created" unless there is a demand for goods or services and a market therefor at a price insuring wages for labor, profits for capital and sufficient surplus to meet taxes and other operating costs.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

DEAR LITERARY DIGEST, New York, N. Y. Dear Sirs: Please change the ballot which I have sent in and on which I voted that I thought the New Deal was all wet and that Gen. Johnson looked like something that the cat brought in. Mark my ballot one hundred per cent for the New Deal and the general. I find since voting that a hundred thousand people are going to be given jobs by the administration next fall as census enumerators and I don't want any of those nosey brain trusters to have a look at my ballot and give me a kick in the pants when I or my relatives ask for a job. I know that the ballot is absolutely secret; however, I would feel better if you changed it. I don't know that I will want a a job taking the census next fall, but you never can tell these days. A millionaire clipping coupons on Monday may be hanging around and trying to get a job washing automobiles on Thursday. And while I hope that I will not have to ask for one of those hundred thousand jobs, I may be begging for it with tears in my eyes within a couple of months.

Besides, I am sure that come next fall my Uncle Bill will want a job. No, that isn't exactly stating the case right. It isn't that my Uncle Bill will want a job, but I am extremely anxious for him to have one. He will be abundantly satisfied to stay right where he is in my house listening to the radio and eating three square meals a day, but I am determined, come what may, to get him a job as census enumerator. I have tried to get him every other kind of job from washing dishes in a restaurant to punching holes in the cheese for a Swiss cheese factory, but Uncle Bill never seems to get on very well; they always fire him the first day he works.

And then there's Aunt Laura. The government will save money if they hire my Aunt Laura to take the census, that is, if they put her to work right in this neighborhood. Aunt Laura already knows the name, age, and income of every human in the block and up and down the street. She knows who drinks too much, and whether or not they have paid the last installment on the automobile. She can also tell you offhand how many fights a week the family down on the corner have and how many times the man across the street starts in to break up housekeeping with an ax. She knows to a dollar just what Mrs. Hiroller paid for the fur coat she got last winter and where the Cutadashes really went last winter when they gave it out that they were cruising on their yacht in the Mediterranean.

Oh, yes indeed, Aunt Laura would be a marvel to take the census for the government. She could fill out all the blanks for the people living on this street without going outdoors. So you see why I want to vote yes on that New Deal proposition. I voted no, but now I want to vote yes. That thing of turning loose a hundred thousand new jobs hits me right where I live. And where Uncle Bill and Aunt Laura live, too, as they both live off of me. You get the idea. Well just fix up the old ballot I sent in to make it fit my change in sentiment and everything will be all right. Thank you in advance. I remains, yours truly, Fuller Prunes.

OUTER DRIVE.

The road goes racing down in shining white,
A slender target for the morning light,
The ice-blue of the lake, the emerald green
Of trees and grass, the slate-winged gulls on lean
Gray rocks—this is a right and holy way
To solemnize the opening of day.
The fog lifts up moist fingers, one by one,
And in the distance, sharp against the sun,
The towers stretch inquisitively high
Into the shifting loveliness of sky.
The great boughs bend and sway, content to take
What winds may offer; blue waves rise and break.
Through this day's every hour let me swing
Rhythmic, serene, with all that moments bring!
God loves His world or why would He send down
So much of heaven on the road to town?

KELLY HARPER.

THE LAW OF COMPENSATION is always inexorable and is always working. Just when we were cheering that the outbreak of the bike craze would put hundreds of men to work making the darn things, we are immediately confronted by the stern fact that the skirt and stocking manufacturers are just out of luck and if this bike craze keeps on they'll have to close down before the summer is over.

THE HARD WORK that the congressmen did who supported the administration down in Washington this last session is going to count against 'em when they take the stump this fall. They've probably got the habit so strong now that their speeches will read like this: "Friends and Voters of the Umpty Steenth District. Yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes. And in conclusion I will say yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes. I thank you. Yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes."

YOU CANNOT HOLD A MAN.

You cannot hold a man with tears or sighs,
He'll look for rainbows if you cloud the skies.
You cannot hold a man with kiss or smile,
Devotion palls in such a little while—
You cannot hold a man with looks or youth,
Time sees to that. And if you want the truth—
You cannot hold a man with anything!
When love needs holding—See? 'Tis on the wing.

I'LL BET the government printing plant has got to put a lot of new line dots on their typesetting machines. This last congress has just worn out every dot they had by signing on 'em.

DOES THE HEART DO WORK?

THE fatalistic conception of heart disease of an earlier generation has given way to a hopeful, forward looking attitude that has robbed the term "heart disease" of much of its terror. During recent years the laboratory has shed new light upon the reserve force of that powerful muscular organ—the heart. We now know that heart disease is preventable; also that patients who have suffered fairly severe damage to heart valves may, with proper management, live comfortable and fairly active lives. What has been done for sufferers from tuberculosis can and will, no doubt, be accomplished for those afflicted with heart disease. More public information is needed. Patients may be taught to recognize symptoms of heart disease and thus be placed early on a proper life saving régime.

Hearts are damaged by disease and by overloading. Any infection, even a mild sore throat, may under certain circumstances damage the heart. Many persons call upon the heart to do work beyond its capacity. If the legs become fatigued we stop to rest. We may not be conscious of the fact that the heart muscle may be just as tired as are the muscles of the legs. Overloading a tired heart frequently results in stretching the muscle to the point where elasticity is lost and recovery becomes a serious problem, just as a rubber band may be stretched until it will no longer contract to its original size.

Few of us understand what heart rest means. The heart begins to beat in the fourth week of the life of the human embryo [eight months before the child is born], and continues without cessation until death. The only rest that the heart obtains is that fraction of a second between beats. It is obvious that the more rapid the heart the shorter will be these rest periods. In a normal heart beating seventy-five times per minute each beat occupies eight-tenths of one second. Of these eight-tenths, three-tenths of a second is required in the contraction of the heart muscle; that is, the time required to force the blood into the circulation. The balance of the period, namely, five-tenths of a second, is a period of rest when the chambers are filling with the returning blood.

In 24 hours the heart is contracting nine hours and resting fifteen hours. Unfortunately, this rest cannot be taken at one time, for these fifteen hours are made up of one-half second periods throughout the entire day. Whenever we speed up the heart through emotion or as a result of an increased load the periods of rest are shorter and complete fatigue may occur. If an individual is at rest in a reclining position the number of heart beats per minute usually decreases. This is quite common during sleep. In fact, on waking in the morning the heart may be found to be beating only sixty times per minute, whereas during the active hours of the day the rate may be seventy-five or even eighty.

At each beat the heart drives from two to three ounces of blood into the arteries. This blood must be propelled with sufficient force to reach the most remote cell of the body. Physiologists have learned that the work performed by this powerful muscle organ is sufficient to lift a weight of nearly eighty pounds one foot from the ground each minute.

One need not be heart conscious, but every one should have, for health's sake, a clear idea of the importance and power of this essential organ. It needs rest just as does the balance of the body.

HALITOSIS.

Mrs. K. writes: What is the cause of halitosis and how can it be stopped?

REPLY.

Most cases are due to digestive conditions. A diet that is overrich in fats, greases, and meats and contains too little cereals, bread, vegetables, and fruits may be the cause. As you know, onions and some other vegetables may flavor the breath. Prolonged alcohol drinking may be the cause. Other dietary errors may be responsible. Constipation may be the basis of the trouble. Some cases are due to foul mouth, bad tonsils, or ozena. The cure depends on the cause.

PROBABLY FROM SINUS.

Mrs. H. C. writes: For some time I have been bothered with hot water running from my nose. This happens when I stoop down or bend over. This is very uncomfortable as well as embarrassing. What is the cause? I am 38 and otherwise healthy.

REPLY.

My guess is that this water drains from a sinus.

POLICY AS SECURITY.

Chicago, June 3.—[Friend of the Insured.]—I am considering accepting a life insurance policy as additional security for a loan, but have been told that in many instances it does not furnish first class security. Will you kindly let me have your opinion?—G. T.

Despite the fact that life insurance policies are commonly accepted by individuals and banks for the policyholder's indebtedness, they can often prove to be a very unsatisfactory form of security, the main reasons being that the face of the policy, rather than its cash value, is often taken in determining the security it affords. When accepting a policy as security the cash value should first be considered and if it is substantial, an analysis of the loan provisions should be made to determine whether there is an automatic premium loan request on file at the office of the company which may cause the policy reserve to be used up by premiums in the event they are not paid by the insured. It is also necessary to make sure that there is no beneficiary whose release has not been obtained. If you contemplate having yourself named as beneficiary, it then becomes necessary to see that the policy does not reserve to the insured the privilege to change the beneficiary. Even after acceptance of this type of security, care should be taken to see that the future premiums are kept up or if the insured is not capable of paying the premiums or he does not care to do so himself, immediate steps should be taken to surrender the policy provided he is entitled to do so, before the cash value runs out.

EXPERIENCE IN A SMALL TOWN MOVIE.

Columbia City, Ind., June 13.—It is my bet, and I speak from experience, that not 5 per cent of those that are so rabid against the moving pictures have been in a cinema theater in the last two years or seen any of the pictures that they are panning.

All our criticism, and that is not much, comes from the sit-by-the-fires. This is a small town, and our patronage is much the same the year round, and after fourteen years in the business I have yet to have one criticism of a picture from the theatergoing public because of an objectionable scene.

Not a word is being said about the lurid magazines that are on every news stand that reek with sex.

The public will support a picture that has a little spice and give the picture that is as clean as a hound's tooth the runaround. This the producers know from experience; so do the theater owners. So, what's the answer?

A. E. HANCOCK.

HOUSING.

Chicago, June 14.—I assumed that the government is giving 25 million dollars to put up apartments as a housing project. Now I am informed that Chicago is expected to provide 20 millions of this amount. Who is Chicago? The taxpayers that are struggling to make ends meet, that have numerous vacant apartments and many defaulting tenants? Are they to pay still heavier taxes to put up more buildings when their own are vacant? Is the present administration seeking to help the people or utterly ruin them? It is time for the property owners to rise in a body and demand just treatment.

J. M. B.

RUINOUS TAXES.

South Boston, Va., June 9.—When you purchase Virginia made cigarets at $7.50 per thousand just make a mental note of the fact that only $1.21.2 is left to the entire tobacco industry after paying the excessive taxes, and that if they got a reasonable share of what you paid they would be your customers for your products.

It has come to the point where we must let live if we expect to live ourselves.

Arise and demand the reduction in expenses of government as promised.

HENRY PRESCOTT WILDER.

THE GREATEST OBSTACLE.

Homewood, Ill., June 12.—Yesterday a friend of mine quoted Secretary Wallace as saying that THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE is the greatest obstacle he has encountered in the middle west.

My highest praise to THE TRIBUNE! May it continue to be an obstacle, and ever a more formidable one, to the brainstorms of the all-wise dictators in Washington whose slaughtering of cattle and pigs, reducing crop acreage and insane squandering of money are about as sensible as our ancient ancestors sacrificing their sons and daughters to their gods of seed time and harvest.

Keep up your good work! Nothing can be more worthy than your great fight to wake up the American people from this terrible nightmare of rubber stamp congressmen, brain trusters, and would-be dictators.

May your heroic efforts, multiplying into thousands of other "obstacles" throughout the middle west, hasten the day when the highest positions in the greatest nation on earth will be occupied by men with the ideals of liberty and the common sense of Washington, Lincoln and Coolidge—men who have wisdom enough and humility enough to profit by the past experience of our ancestors and not trade our glorious heritage for a mess of pottage.

G. H. WATKINS.

REPUBLICAN PROSPECTS.

Chicago, June 10.—The Republican national committee has come and gone. The good old G. O. P. is sadly reminiscent of other and happier days. The same bunch of boodlers and bunglers. America has not gone to the dogs yet while these relics of our former glory are amongst us. I see where they have even recognized the fact that there is a "changing social order." Give them time and they'll realize that the war is over.

With such potent names as Hoover, Mills, and that indomitable Pennsylvania gang of Mellon-Reed, etc., leading their forces, Democracy has been made safe for another four years. Hale and farewell.

KARL KRAVITZ.

AIRPLANE VICTIMS.

Evanston, Ill., June 11.—Seven killed in airplane crash, and the U. S. army flyers are not carrying the mail. I am waiting for some pictures of the victims' funerals.

J. C. CRAIG.

WITH INTEREST!

Chicago, June 14.—I would suggest that your correspondent Newell C. Knight send another telegram to President Angell of Yale and demand a refund of his tuition, as he profited nothing by going there. Might I also suggest that our government be lenient with Mr. Knight by considering the source and letting him stay in this country a while longer.

LADDIE C. PECHOUS.

REFORESTATION.

Chicago, June 12.—Ordinarily a tree growing on a river bank is not news, but when the river bank is concrete and in downtown Chicago it is news. There is a small tree growing on the east bank of the river about two hundred feet south of Van Buren street.

DANGEROUS STAIRS.

Chicago, June 14.—[Friend of the People.]—Will you please have some one look into the condition of the stairs of the building we live in? The landlord has lots of property but refuses to fix the railing and rotted steps. There are a number of children here who are likely to be badly injured if the railing gives way. The landlord has been asked to fix it time and again but he claims he has no money. He gets his rents and owns a fifteen story building next door. Several people have come close to toppling down.

K. L.

The owner of the property in question has been notified to repair the steps and put same in good and safe condition.

JOHN E. ERICSSON,
Commissioner of Buildings.

PROBATE.

Chicago, June 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is government insurance subject to probate? Father and mother, who were beneficiaries, died, and now there are six children remaining, all of whom are of age. 2. What are the fees of the lawyer? 3. What are the court fees?

H. B.

1. Yes, if it is payable to the estate of deceased. No, if it is payable to named beneficiaries.

2 and 3. We are not in a position to say.

PLAYS CHIEF OF POLICE; CALLS, SHOOTS OFFICER

'Masked Marvel' Fires as Policeman Enters.

Matawan, N. J., June 18.—(AP)—A white masked stranger in a hunting coat and cap seated himself at the chief's desk in police headquarters early today, pressed the button of a signal light that summoned Patrolman John Flood from his beat, and as the rookie policeman entered, opened fire on him with a revolver.

The first bullet hit the wall behind Flood. Startled by the suddenness of the attack and the odd appearance of the man at the desk, Flood drew his service revolver and began shooting.

It was all over in a few seconds. The white masked man emptied his revolver and fled through a rear door. Flood, wounded in the head, dropped to the floor. Then with a mighty effort he dragged himself to a fire alarm box and sounded a call for help.

Find Him Conscious.

When Police Chief Edwin C. Sloat and a fireman reached headquarters they found Flood, who is 35 and married, lying near a telephone booth, still conscious. They took him to Matawan hospital, and there he related the sketchy story of the attack.

He had no idea who the masked man was, he said. He had been patroling his beat—the lone policeman on duty at that hour—and had seen the red signal flashing. He had hurried to police headquarters in the borough hall. He had received no warning of the attack.

Sloat, aided by county detectives and state police, began an investigation. They concluded the intruder had entered the office through an open window. Whether he pressed the signal button intentionally or accidentally is still to be determined.

Recalls Threats.

Whether the intruder had come there to shoot Flood or to rob the office safe also was undetermined. Sloat recalled that shortly after Flood went on the force two months ago a Staten Island man he had arrested had threatened him. He recalled also the recent robbery of safes at Perth Amboy and New Brunswick city halls.

The red signal may be flashed by button or may be connected with the telephone switchboard. In the latter case it flashes when the phone goes unanswered. The telephone operator on duty in the town at the time the signal flashed could recall no telephone call to headquarters.

At Matawan hospital it was said the bullet had split into two parts. Flood's condition, however, was reported fair after an operation.

2 FORMER UNION HEADS SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY

CRIMINAL COURT.

Emilio Nora, larceny, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell by Judge Harry B. Miller.

John Jilson and Herbert Arnold, conspiracy, sentenced to 1 to 5 years each in the penitentiary and fined $2,000 each by Judge Benjamin Epstein.

Dan Dissio, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Joseph Trivigno, larceny, 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Michael Feinberg.

Leon Williams, assault to rob, sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary by Judge Francis B. Allegretti.

Overruling a motion for a new trial Judge Benjamin P. Epstein in the Criminal court yesterday sentenced two former officials of the Handbill Distributors' union to one to five years in the penitentiary. They were found guilty by a jury on June 1 of conspiracy to terrorize department stores.

Those sentenced are John Jilson, 44 years old, former president of the union, and Herbert Arnold, 39, former business agent. Their bonds were raised from $5,000 to $10,000 by Judge Epstein, who allowed the defense ten days in which to perfect an appeal.

The charges against Jilson and Arnold followed a murder trial in which two other officials of the union John Rooney, former secretary-treasurer, and Henry Berry, business agent, were found guilty of murdering Stanley Gross, department store watchman. Both Rooney and Berry are serving life sentences. Rosalie Rizzo, 20 years old, Rooney's sweetheart, was sentenced to twenty years in prison for her part in the crime.

Police Lieutenant Reports to Self: My Car Stolen

When Lieut. Samuel Peterson of the Fillmore station is off duty he relaxes completely, so yesterday while he and his wife were in a motion picture theater a thief stole his car. The lieutenant carried the loss report back to the station when he went back on duty and then, on duty, officially accepted it from himself.

THREE VICTIMS OF 'RIDE' FOUND SLAIN IN CAR

Legs Bound with Rope; Mouths Taped.

New Brunswick, N. J., June 18.—[Special.]—Plodding along a lonely dirt lane that runs past an abandoned farm in East Brunswick township a laborer noticed a man's feet sticking out of the door of a car parked off one side of the road.

As he peered in he saw the bodies of three men hunched together in the back of the car, from which the rear seat had been removed. Their lips were sealed with 2 inch adhesive tape—about two yards of it to each victim—that was wound all around the head. Their feet and hands were bound with weathered clothesline, twine, and tent rope. The bodies were torn with bullets.

Petty Racketeers.

When state troopers came from Milltown barracks they recognized the bodies at once as those of three petty hijackers, small time racketeers and holdup men, all out on bail in connection with a robbery in Flemington, N. J. The three were Henry Teel, 24 years old; Peter [Sam] Georgianna, 25, and Isadore Gutman, 27, all of New Brunswick.

Teel, sprawled against the left window of the coach, had been shot in the chin four times, at close range. One of his hands was bored, too, as if he had tried to shield his face with his bound wrists. Beside him was Georgianna, his head resting on Teel's shoulder. He had five wounds in the lower part of his face. Gutman, who owned the car in which the bodies were found, was on the floor. There were nine bullet wounds in his back.

Speculate on Raid.

Absence of the rear seat of the automobile led authorities to the theory that Gutman and his pals must have left New Brunswick with the intention of loading up a quantity of alcohol at one of the numerous moonshine stills in the district.

In trying to reconstruct the crime, investigators reasoned that the three men were frustrated in their hijacking raid, were subdued and trussed up by moonshiners, driven in Gutman's car to the farm, and murdered there.

AUTOMOBILE THEFTS.

Automobiles stolen, 47; recovered, 24; stripped, 1 [from police records for 24 hours ending at midnight Sunday].

Plank Guillotines Girl, 3, Crawling Into Corn Crib

Violet Louis Johnson, 3 years old, attempted yesterday to crawl between the boards of a corn crib on the farm of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guilford Johnson, five miles south of Aurora. The child managed to push her head over the solid wood base of the crib, and the guillotine effect was completed by a heavy loose board above. It fell and broke her neck, killing her.

SHIFT HARRIMAN DEFENSE; BLAME FIVE OFFICIALS

Drop Old Tactics in a New Tack.

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Counsel for Joseph W. Harriman and his Executive Vice President, Albert M. Austin, shifted their defense today in summing up the evidence introduced during the last five weeks of their trial in Federal court.

Until today each defendant had placed on the other the responsibility for $1,713,000 of false entries and $600,000 misapplication of assets of the Harriman National Bank & Trust company, for which both were indicted after the bank closed last year. During four days on the witness stand, Mr. Harriman had said he did not concern himself with entries and collateral and that the government would "have to ask Mr. Austin." In turn, for the next two days, Mr. Austin replied that Mr. Harriman would have to do the answering, because it was he who made all decisions and insisted on having them obeyed.

Today, counsel for each defendant abandoned the attempt to confine responsibility to the other defendant, and attempted instead to extend it to five additional officials of the Harriman bank, as well as to C. C. Francis, chief national bank examiner.

George S. Leisure, counsel for Mr. Harriman, and Thomas E. Kerwin, counsel for Mr. Austin, said the responsibility of the chief national bank examiner, through not having been more alert in discovering and criticizing irregularities, was so great that "Mr. Francis is a moral defendant in this case," and that his story attributing these irregularities to Mr. Harriman could not be relied upon.

Among those whom Mr. Leisure named as open to blame were James A. Turner, another vice president of the Harriman bank; William A. Burke, its controler; Arnold Colombo, cashier, and Louis Klein, head of the bond department, together with Bertram Kraus, attorney for the bank.

If the $300,000 loan to Sidney Bernheim is a misapplication of bank funds, as the government contends, Mr. Leisure pointed out that the government has shown Mr. Kraus drew the agreement for the loan. Furthermore, he said, Mr. Burke admitted on the stand that he received the disbursed proceeds of the Bernheim loan for Mr. Harriman, as well as distributing for Mr. Harriman the Standard Oil stock which Dr. Preston Satterwhite maintains he left with the bank as part collateral for a separate $300,000 loan. Messrs. Colombo and Klein admitted recognizing that the $1,713,000 transactions later found to be false entries, were booked under their direction in an obvious departure from routine.

When the defense summations were concluded, Assistant United States Attorney Jacob Rosenblum had only three quarters of an hour before his summation was adjourned until 10:30 tomorrow for completion.

"When the case was adjourned, Mr. Rosenblum was denouncing the blaming of the national bank examiner by the defense as "a dastardly attack on a public official."

Mrs. Florence B. Hilles Speaks for Equal Rights.

Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles of Wilmington, Del., vice-chairman of the National Woman's party, declared yesterday afternoon in the Illinois Host house at A Century of Progress that legislation assuring equal rights to women in all fields, law, economics and politics, should be the party's next objective. The party coöperated with the equal rights council of the Business and Professional Women's clubs in sponsoring the program.

"Make Hair Grow while the sun shines"

"It is a well known phenomenon that in the summer the growth of hair is more rapid," says Dr. Arnold Lorand, Vienna Dermatologist.

THAT Hair grows faster in the summer than at any other season is an established scientific fact. You can take advantage of this seasonal peculiarity by starting Thomas' hair and scalp treatment at once.

Your hair will respond more quickly to this famous proved method of treatment now than at any other time. Within an unusually short time your dandruff will disappear, hairfall will stop, and new hair will actually be visible on the thin and bald spots. Call at the Thomas' office and talk your problem over with the specialist in charge. He will gladly examine your scalp without charge or obligation and frankly tell you what Thomas' treatment can do for you.

FIND INCREASING AUTO DEATH TOLL THROUGH ILLINOIS

33 Counties Pass Chicago in Mortality Rates.

An analysis of 1933 automobile fatalities in Illinois, showing that 33 of the state's 102 counties had higher death rates than Cook county, was made public yesterday by the Chicago Motor club. The report is to be employed in a state campaign to reduce accidents through adoption of drivers' license and financial responsibility laws.

The 1933 death rate in Cook county, with 1,179 fatalities, was 29.6 per 100,000 population, according to the report. The rate for the state as a whole was 28.5, for the state exclusive of Chicago 28.8, and for Chicago 28. The total number of accidents in the state in 1933 was 2,177 as against 2,104 in 1932, when the rate was 27.5 per 100,000 population.

County Death Rates Listed.

One county, Kane, had the same death rate as Cook county. The downstate counties whose death rates in motor vehicle accidents were greater than those in Cook county are:

County.	Rate.	County.	Rate.
Alexander	36.3	Lake	46.1
Boone	40	McLean	52
Coles	37.8	Madison	34.2
Crawford	38	Marion	54.2
Cumberland	30	Massac	35.7

At a recent meeting of the Illinois Conference on Highway Safety Legislation, which is sponsoring the drivers' license and financial responsibility laws, J. S. Baker, engineer for the National Safety Council, estimated that accidents of all descriptions have increased about 50 per cent in the first few months of this year as compared with the corresponding period of 1933. He also declared the number of accidents is growing faster in rural than in urban areas.

Annual Loss 140 Millions.

"Our analysis supports Mr. Baker," said Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club. "The annual economic loss in Illinois from auto accidents is estimated at 140 million dollars and the downstate areas are in many cases suffering more than Chicago.

"In the past rural areas have opposed the changes suggested in our laws. Now that auto accidents are as great a problem downstate there is every reason to hope the next legislature will adopt the reforms."

The proposed responsibility act would suspend the driver's license of any one found liable for damages in an auto accident suit who failed to pay the judgment within thirty days and to give proof of ability to pay damages for any further accident before his license would be renewed.

The Drivers' License Act

The drivers' license act, while designed primarily to enforce the responsibility act, would also curtail reckless driving, driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident and similar offenses. These would be punishable by revocation or suspension of the license.

The highway safety legislation conference is composed of civic organizations throughout the state. A session of the conference will be held in Chicago within the month to map a campaign of public education to effect passage of the reforms.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Will Osborne and his orchestra, heard throughout the past season over a W-G-N-WOR-WLW hookup, expect to have a busy day on Thursday, June 28. In the morning they will leave New York by plane to play an afternoon's engagement at the Chicago Fair. Shortly after 5 o'clock they will take a return plane for the east which they hope will land them in New York in time to play a dance assignment the same evening.

Revised plans for Mrs. Roosevelt's new commercial series call for an orchestra under the direction of Josef Koestner to support her in her first broadcast to be made July 9 from the Globe theater at the Fair. The program will go on the air over the basic blue network of NBC [17 stations] including WENR.

Merlin H. Aylesworth, president of NBC, arrived in Chicago yesterday for the RKO convention. Niles Trammell, local NBC chief, returned to his desk yesterday after a vacation in Montreal. Principals in the "First Nighter" cast are taking their vacations in relays. Charles P. Hughes, who produces the show, is taking his ease at Hot Springs now. Don Ameche, who plays the romantic lead, will sail with Mrs. Ameche on the Bremen June 29. They will have five days in Europe. June Meredith, leading lady, will take her rest at a dude ranch in the southwest beginning July 22.

Will Rogers was late at the Hollywood studios for his broadcast on Sunday. The red lights were against him, was his laconic explanation. . . . George Givot, radio's "Greek ambassador," wrenched a hip the night of the Baer-Carnera tiff while doing an impersonation of Eddie Cantor. Next day he received a check for $15,000 for having bet right on the fight. His manager, Herman Bernie, brother of the vocable Ben, was accorded a third of the winings for his sound advice on the California fighter.

Edwin Franko Goldman and his famous band will be back on the air for his 14th season of broadcasts at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening over KYW-NBC. Mayor La Guardia will take part in the official opening ceremonies in New York's Central Park.

A scene from the "Pageant of Parliament," a colorful review of Britain's governing body, will be shortwaved to American listeners over NBC at 5 p. m., Monday, July 2. Rudyard Kipling will contribute a new poem to the broadcast.

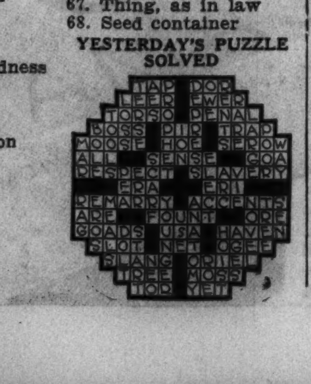
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



BOTT GIRL GIVES DEPOSITION FOR SUICIDE INQUEST

Miss Margaret Bott, 22 years old, of Highland Park, who last Wednesday survived a suicide pact into which she and her mother had entered, left yesterday for Des Moines in the company of her aunt and uncle, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Pearson.

Both Dr. John L. Taylor, coroner of Lake county, and Chief of Police Edward Moroney of Highland Park said there was no necessity of the young woman's appearing at the inquest into her mother's death which will be completed tomorrow at 4 p. m. Before her departure Miss Bott gave a deposition for the inquest.

The body of the mother, Mrs. Alice King Bott, who was drowned after she and her daughter agreed to end their lives in Lake Michigan, was cremated Friday, and the ashes are being taken to Des Moines.

In her deposition, Miss Bott declared that she had been responsible for the suicide attempt. She had first suggested it, she said, when she learned that she would have to undergo a seventh mastoid operation. Both she and her mother feared she would not survive the operation, and decided to die together.

MRS. A. M. KURTH RITES TO BE HELD ON WEDNESDAY

Milwaukee, Wis., June 18.—[Special.]—Funeral services for Mrs. Amanda M. Kurth, 57, widow of the late Christian Kurth, former head of the malting firm bearing his name, who died yesterday at her Pine Lake summer home, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at her home, 3026 North Marietta avenue. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery.

Mrs. Kurth had been in poor health for several years but according to members of her family her death was unexpected. She was a native of Columbus, Wis., and came here about 25 years ago. She was a member of St. John's Lutheran church.

Surviving are her son Herbert; two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Hoebler and Mrs. Leona Moore, all of Milwaukee, and four brothers, Otto, Charles, Fred, and Albert Martens, all of Columbus.

JOHN DRENNAN'S WIDOW DIES ON VISIT IN CAPITAL

Mrs. Margaret S. Drennan, widow of John G. Drennan, general counsel of the Illinois Central railroad, assistant corporation counsel and veteran Chicago attorney, died yesterday in Washington, D. C., while visiting a daughter, Mrs. W. R. Gruber.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Drennan, who was 75 years old, is survived by two sons, Walter R. Drennan of Chicago and Maj. Leonard H. Drennan of Baltimore. Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Hyde Park Methodist church. Burial will take place Thursday in Taylorville, Ill., where Mr. Drennan is also buried. The Drennan residence was at 5000 East End avenue.

Dr. Abraham Bass' Burial Rites to Be Held Today

Dr. Abraham A. Bass, an optometrist with offices at 17 North Wabash avenue, will be buried in Jewish Waldheim cemetery today, after services at 2 p. m. in an undertaker's establishment at 3125 Roosevelt road. Dr. Bass, 56 years old, died Sunday in his home, 1242 South Albany avenue. He practiced in Chicago for 25 years. His widow, Dora, two sons, Oliver and Sharl, and a daughter, Rosalie, survive.

Mortimer Buel Skinner, South Bend, Dies on Farm

Mortimer Buel Skinner, president of the M. B. Skinner company in South Bend, Ind., died suddenly yesterday of heart disease on a farm near South Bend. Mr. Skinner, who formerly lived in Wilmette, was the father of Mrs. G. Ross Stewart, 830 Ashland avenue, Wilmette, and Mrs. Thornton S. Adams, 10 West Elm street. Services will be at the farm at 10 a. m. tomorrow, with burial at Milburn, Ill.

Effingham Bank Head Dies Following a Stroke

Effingham, Ill., June 18.—[Special.]—W. H. Engbring, 74, president of the Effingham State bank and Effinham's oldest business man, died last night at his home. He suffered a stroke earlier in the day and failed to regain consciousness. Mr. Engbring had been associated with the bank for 52 years, most of which were spent as its president. His wife, two sisters, five children, and eight grandchildren survive.

Quincy Campbell Funeral Will Be at 8 P. M. Today

Funeral services for Quincy F. Campbell, for 24 years in the passenger department of the Chicago Great Western railroad, who died Sunday, will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in undertaking rooms at 5203 Lake Park avenue. Burial will be in Adrian, Mich. Mr. Campbell was 61 years old.

J. A. Curtis, 50, 'Green Pastures' Manager, Dies

New York, June 18.—(AP)—J. Archie Curtis, 50, stage manager of the play, "The Green Pastures," died last night. He was stricken in January while the company was playing in Springfield, Mo. He was a native of Newark, N. J., and lived in Maplewood, N. J.

FUNERAL TODAY FOR DR. MORTON OF STANDARD OIL

Funeral services for Dr. Frank R. Morton, medical director and chief surgeon since 1915 for the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, who died of heart disease Saturday night in Joliet, will be held at 2 o'clock today at the residence, 3500 Lake Shore drive. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery.

Dr. Morton was visiting his brother, Edward E. Morton, in Joliet, when he was stricken. He had been ill for several months. Mrs. Morton and two daughters, Mrs. Raymond A. Healy, 2842 Sheridan road, and Miss Frances M. Morton survive.

Mr. Morton was born in Philadelphia in 1880. After receiving his degree in medicine from the University of Illinois in 1901, Dr. Morton served two years as interne in the county hospital, studied for two years in Breslau, Germany, and in Vienna, and began practice in 1904 in Chicago. He married Mabel W. Edwards of Chicago.

Dr. Morton was a fellow of the American College of Surgeons, a past president of the Illinois State Medical society, and president in 1928-'29 of the Chicago Medical society. He was a Phi Rho Sigma, a Mason, and a member of the Evanston Golf club.

E. H. SCHWARZ'S FUNERAL TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Funeral services for Ernest H. Schwarz, 50 years old, for 25 years with August Schwarz, Inc., a dry cleaning concern at 109 West Illinois street, will be held tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock in Rosehill cemetery chapel. Mr. Schwarz died Sunday after a long illness. His widow, Mrs. Pauline H. Schwarz, and two daughters, Pauline and Helen, survive. The family residence is at 1310 Elmdale avenue.

Mr. Schwarz entered the firm, which was founded in 1856 by his grandfather, and one of the first in Chicago, upon returning here from school in the east. He succeeded his father, G. J. Schwarz.

Mapmaker's Masterpiece! Beautifully printed in five colors on strong, durable paper, the Chicago Tribune's new 1934 Chicagoland Map is the finest road map of this area ever published. Though larger in spread, it folds more compactly than previous editions. In use or folded, it is always pocket size. Its unique accordion fold makes it unnecessary for you to open more than one-eighth of it when driving. Many new features have been added, including separated 2- and 1-lane pavements, wooded areas other than forest preserves, state and county institutions, names of metropolitan Chicago golf courses printed on the map at their locations. For safe, pleasant motoring every driver needs a 1934 Chicagoland Map. Get your copy today at any one of the three Chicago Tribune Public Service Offices: 1 South Dearborn Street, Tribune Tower, and the Hall of Science—A Century of Progress. Price, 25c; by mail, 30c.

Two Hospitals to Hold Novel Furniture Sale

Children's Memorial and St. Luke's Benefit.

BY JUDITH CASS.

IF some one says to you this summer in a sweet voice, "Your room is charming, but do you think that empire sofa quite fits in with your Italian pieces?" or suggests that your French chairs aren't just right with your modern things, don't be angry and think aforesaid friend is being entirely too presumptous in offering unsought advice. For the friend probably will be trying to persuade you to add to the collection of furniture a group of women are making to be auctioned for the benefit of the Children's Memorial and St. Luke's hospitals.

Mrs. Frank Hibbard it is who had the brilliant idea of collecting antique and modern furnishings from friends of the hospitals and disposing of them at a gigantic sale next fall, and her idea was seized upon with glee by the women's boards of both hospitals, always anxious to add an honest penny to the funds that provide free or partly free care for the patients of the hospitals and clinics. The sale is to be held in November with a preview on the 12th and a small percentage of the proceeds will be given to the donor of each article, so if you do decide to part with that empire sofa and make your drawing room entirely Italian, you won't be giving the sofa away.

Not Competitor of Rummage Shop.

The auction will not interfere in any way with the White Elephant Rummage shop, conducted by the woman's board of the Children's hospital, for the things to be sold at the former will be articles that wouldn't be donated to the rummage shop, at least not just now. A group of women from both hospital boards will be working all summer at home and at resorts securing the promises of stock for the auction, but the actual work of collecting the articles will not commence until fall.

Mrs. Hibbard is chairman of the committee in charge and the presidents of the two boards, Mrs. John W. Gary, who heads the St. Luke's one, and Mrs. Joseph H. King, chairman of the children's board, are vice chairmen. Working with them are Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed, Mrs. I. Newton Perry, Mrs. A. Watson Armour, Mrs. John A. Stevenson, Mrs. Huntington B. Henry, Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, Mrs. Clarence F. Glore, Mrs. George A. Ranney, Mrs. Paul D. Hamlin, Mrs. Sterling Morton, Mrs. Henry Faurot Jr., Mrs. Edwin W. Ryerson, Mrs. Raymond Ashcraft, Mrs. James R. Offield and Mrs. William L. Hodgkins, representing St. Luke's, and Mrs. James Ward Thorne, Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine, Mrs. Samuel T. Chase, Mrs. Charles W. Dempster, Mrs. John P. Wilson, Mrs. Oren E. Taft, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, Mrs. A. Harris Whiting, Mrs. Donald R. McLennan, Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, Mrs. Oscar W. Johnson, Mrs. Edward F. Carry, Mrs. John A. Spoor, Mrs. Augustus K. Maxwell, Mrs. Bruce Borland, Mrs. F. Hampden Winston, and Mrs. James C. Hutchins.

Dinner Parties Will Precede Concert.

There are very few things that interfere with Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Swift, week-ending on their farm near Mundelein, but on Sunday, July 1, there is something happening for which they are very happy to stay in town. The opening concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra on the Swift bridge at A Century of Progress is the important event.

Invitations to it were received yesterday from Mr. Swift and Charles H. Hamill, president of the orchestral association. Mr. and Mrs. Hamill are giving a large dinner party before the concert, which will be from 8 to 10 o'clock at the Century club, later taking their guests—the Swifts among them—to the concert.

Both the Swifts and Hamills plan to spend all summer in town, visiting the Swift bridge very often and entertaining several times each week at dinner and symphony parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kelly of Winnetka are discussing debut plans for their eldest daughter, Marjorie, who will be presented to society either at a tea in the fall or at a party during the Christmas holidays. Miss Kelly is at home from her first year at Sarah Lawrence and she will not allow her debut to interrupt her college career.

The many friends of the Eugene Van R. Thayers bade them final farewell with reluctance last night, for the Thayers are leaving for New York today. They plan to make their home for the time being in the Hotel Pierre.

Mrs. Harry M. McIntosh is disappointed that she is not in Boston today for the marriage of her nephew, Harry McIntosh McLeod, to Deborah Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene B. Jackson of Brookline, Mass., but she will be seeing her nephew and his bride within three weeks. They are going to live in Lake Forest in the cottage on Mrs. McIntosh's estate, coming here directly from Bermuda, where they will have a two weeks' honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McIntosh of Denver have gone east for the wedding, for Mr. McIntosh is to be best man for his cousin.

Graham Aldises to Sail from Montreal Friday.

The Graham Aldises are sailing Friday from Montreal on the Duchess of York for a vacation abroad. Until they return to Lake Forest about Aug. 1 their four children will be in the east with relatives.

Mrs. Aldis' sister, Mrs. Luther S. Hammond Jr., is planning to go to California soon to make the acquaintance of her new nephew, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Cabot Brown of San Francisco. The baby was born about ten days ago. Mrs. Aldis and Mrs.

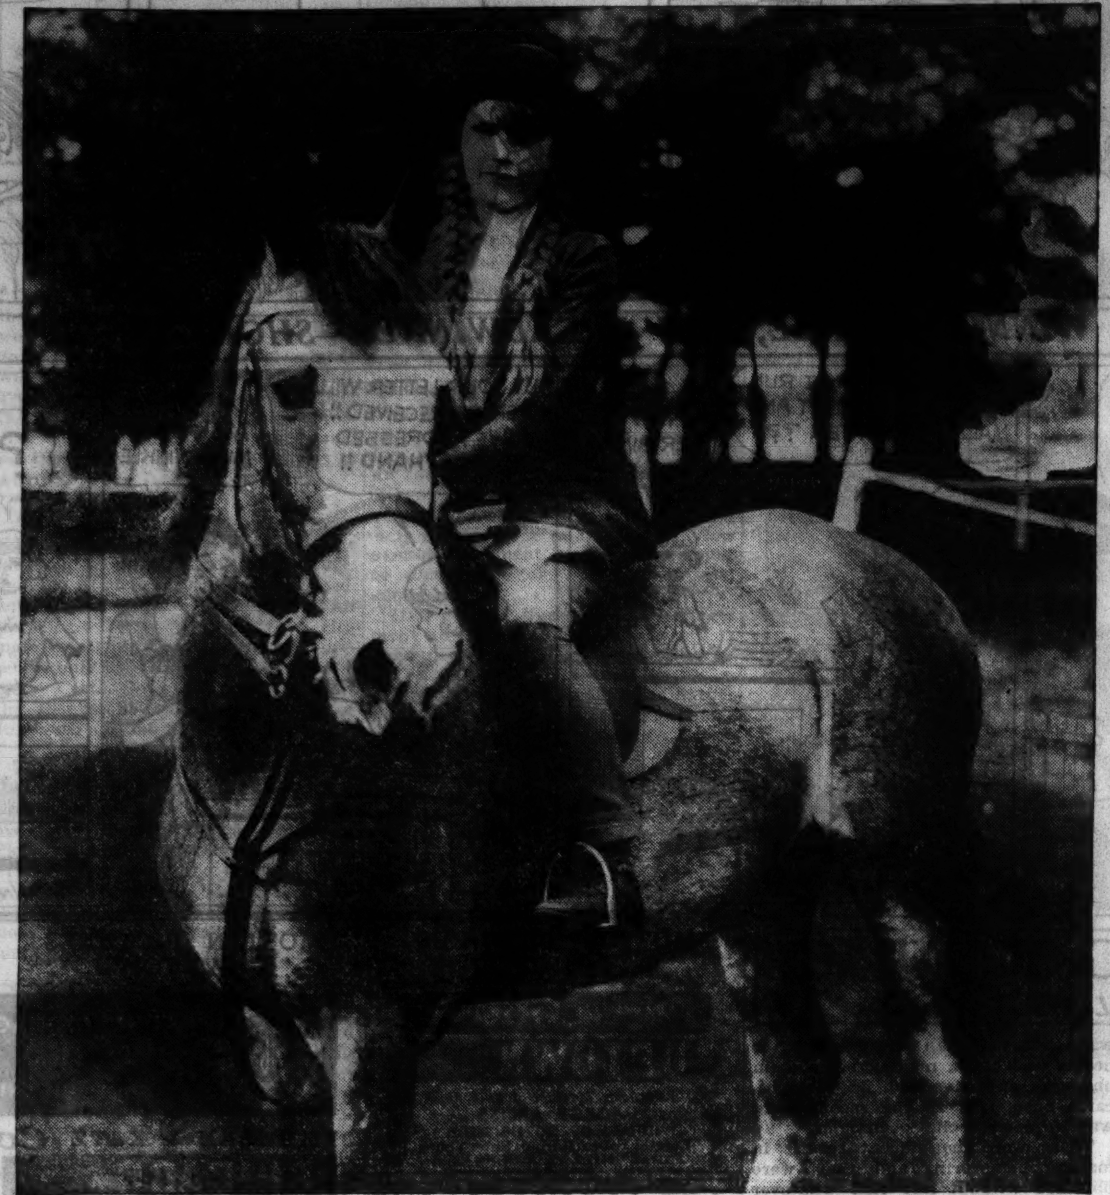
Practicing for Lake Forest Horse Show



With her red hair in two fat braids Elizabeth Hubbard and her pony are practicing every day to ride in the Lake Forest horse show to be held next Friday and Saturday at the Onwentsia club for the benefit of the Alice Home hospital of Lake Forest. Elizabeth, or Betty as she is called usually, and her elder sister, Marie Merrill, are the children of Mrs. Merrill Hubbard, one of Lake Forest's most versatile sportswomen.

Requisites of Youth's Camps Are Discussed

Ten Characteristics Mark the Really Good One.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Camp is a wonderful experience for most children. All they know about it is that they have a glorious time. What we parents know in addition is that they gain in health, often in character and in ability to get on with other children in a group, and that there is in it for them physical and intellectual and manual education.

All this, provided it is a good camp. And the country is filled with good camps—private, or maintained by contributions or run at cost. In the last two decades much has been learned about the running of a camp—as to the health and education and pleasure of the children.

If you are planning to send your children away to camp this summer, learn everything you can to assure yourself that the camp is a good one.

What constitutes a good camp—or rather, what should you look into to assure yourself that the camp is a good one?

First, I believe, there should be a meeting with the director of the camp, to find out whether he seems the right person for you to trust your children to—as to personality, and also as to his ability to carry such responsibility.

Next, you should talk with several parents who have sent children to this camp. Every fine camp is willing to give you references.

Personally, I should not want to send my child to a camp I had not seen. But many people do or have to, in which case they must make inquiries as to the following important things:

[a] How is the camp located? Is it in a sunshiny, high, well drained spot?

[b] Where does the food supply come from?

[c] Is the menu well balanced, with milk and fresh vegetables?

[d] Does the milk come from clean, tuberculin tested cows, and is it pasteurized? What can the camp show you to prove this?

[e] Water must be most carefully looked into—not only drinking water but that used for bathing and swimming. There must be no possibility of contamination. If there is any doubt the water should be analyzed before camp starts and during the summer.

[f] How many children are allotted to one councillor?

[g] Where do the children swim? What measures are provided to safeguard them during the progress of that sport? Are they watched for reaction to cold and the exertion?

[h] Is there a nurse in camp and a good doctor either with the organization or within close call?

Not one of these factors should be overlooked by parents who are sending their children away for this new and important adventure of camp life.

ONCE, when we were playing a wishing game, Princess Rostislav said that if she could have any wish of hers granted she would like to live in the mountains, eat onion soup daily, and hear Horowitz play every day. This came to mind when we heard that Dr. and Mrs. Maurice H. Cottle—Mrs. Cottle is the famed Chicago pianist, Gitta Gradova—are leaving shortly to spend the summer in the Alps, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Vladimir Horowitz. Horowitz and his bride of a year, Wanda Toscanini, are spending the summer at their place at Sils Maria, near Saint Moritz, to await an interesting family event of early autumn. The summer really will be a sort of congress of colleagues, for the Cottles also will visit Rachmaninoff, who is spending the summer near Lucerne, and Nathan Milstein also will be close enough so that all four famous musicians will get together frequently. When Gitta Gradova gets back in the autumn she will give a concert at Town Hall in New York, the first except radio concerts since the birth of her baby six months ago.

THE Gossip Shop. Marc Connelly was in town yesterday, visiting Ernest Byfield on his way to Hollywood for six weeks of cinema writing. . . . The only story we could discover that he told was about H. L. Mencken's tie. Seems Mr. Mencken turned up in New York recently looking pretty snappy and when Mr. Connelly admired his tie he said he was glad he liked it because he had bought it at the undertaker's. . . . Percy Hammond, formerly dramatic critic of THE TRBIUNE, also was in town over the week-end and returned east Sunday. . . . The sartorial novelty of the moment is Helen Hughes Dulaney's hat, collar, and cuffs loosely woven from tiny strands of varicolored lether. . . . George Wharton, raconteur par excellence, complains about the air cooled dining cars on trains. You can't find any waiters in the dining car because they're all in the kitchen trying to keep from freezing to death, he says. And the soup, steaming hot when it leaves the kitchen, has an inch of ice on it by the time it gets to the table.

THE most exotic dinner menu that has come to attention is one that recently was served in a unique Florida restaurant. Irving Eastman, the young Russian who did the décor of the French Casino—formerly the old Rainbo gardens—tells about it. The night before he flew to Chicago to get here in time to complete the task before the opening of the Folies Bergere he was told by his host to be ready at a certain hour and that he would be picked up, along with the other guests. They were driven in the direction of the Everglades and finally they came to a narrow dirt road overlooking a dismal swamp. Here the horn was brought into play. Finally, in answer to the signaling, a dim light appeared in the far distance and a flat scow manned by two husky Negroes appeared. In another fifteen minutes the party found itself aboard a half submerged scow. It proved to be a dining room. The owner, who is the chief chef, charged $7 a plate for the dinner. This was the menu: A cocktail made of dozens of tiny clams—the kind you can dig on any Florida beach. Heart of palm salad followed by a serving of grilled rattlesnake meat. The main dish was chicken cooked and stuffed with fresh coconut. In leaving, Mr. Eastman looked over the guest book. J. P. Morgan's and John D. Rockefeller Jr.'s names were inscribed in it.

Wells Urges Writers of World to Defend Freedom of Speech

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

EDINBURGH, June 18.—H. G. Wells urged 400 representatives of the writers of the world, assembled here today for the twelfth International Congress of the Pen, to unite in a common action for freedom of speech and pen.

After Prof. H. J. C. Grierson, president of the Scottish Pen, had welcomed the distinguished men and women of letters, representative of thirty nations, Mr. Wells hurled the challenge that is to be the keynote of the three days' discussions.

"If we could we would avoid politics altogether," he said, "but what if politics, police and soldiers lift up their hands against literature? Can Pen still remain serene and have nothing to do with politics?"

Mr. Wells said the congress had to choose between becoming a mere tourist agency and becoming a vital international force. He asserted that it was asking too much to expect Pen to look on quietly while writers were being "waylaid and beaten up" at official instigation in certain countries. Pen, he indicated, would not be found "disregarding the mutilated bodies lying on the threshold."

The assembly, which had been listening in tense silence, burst into applause when Mr. Wells declared: "I submit we cannot ignore it when politics reaches up and assaults literature."

Referring to the German situation, Mr. Wells said that the Berlin Pen had expelled pacifists, Jews and communists.

"But we cannot do without the German mind," he declared. "That is a riddle we are still trying to solve."

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—The ambassador to Belgium, D. H. Morris, has arrived for a short stay. Later he will go to Bar Harbor, Maine, with Mrs. Morris and their daughter, Alice, who are in New York.

Capt. Joseph F. Battley, deputy administrator, NRA, is back from Chicago, where he was best man at the wedding of his brother, Halson R. Battley, to Miss Myrtle B. Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur N. Martin of Minneapolis, on Thursday.

Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue and Mrs. Eldon P. King go to New York tomorrow preparatory to sailing the following day for Europe.

NowHollywood Turns to Dumas, Dickens, Balzac

Avoids Stories That Might Be Found Objectionable.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Hollywood, Cal., June 18.—[Special]—The motion picture studios are steering away from all kinds of stories they think exception may be taken to in scheduling stories to make for the next year. They are going back to Dickens, Balzac, Dumas, and the adventures of pirates with a grand rush. Three studios are rushing Dickens stories onto celluloid.

Besides Radio's "Three Musketeers," Producer E. R. Small of Reliance films is doing "Count of Monte Cristo" at United Artists. Majestic [an independent] schedules Balzac's "A Bachelor's Apartment." The list of pirate and sea stories is almost too long to enumerate. We shall have Sir Henry Morgan, Capt. Blood, John Silver, and a dozen other adventurers drenching the movie houses with synthetic spray all autumn.

Francis Faragoh, Radio-R.K.O. scenarist, is at work fixing Alexander Dumas into sound film form for "The Three Musketeers," which will star Francis Lederer in the autumn. Announcing herself a newcomer in the profession of managing actors and actresses, Hedda Hopper answered the question why she gave up acting by saying: "I didn't. Acting gave me up. The movies have brought so many Broadway stage players out lately that they forgot all about many of us who are of the Broadway stage originally, but devoted years to acquiring screen technique and experience."

Kent Taylor has played with Evelyn Venable in every motion picture which the sweet-faced Cincinnati student of the classics has made. He was with her in "Cradle Song," in "Death Takes a Holiday," in "Double Doors," and even was borrowed by Fox studio from Paramount to play with her in "David Harum." Now they're working together again at Paramount in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

It was something of a jar to the artistic sensibilities to watch Evelyn, as stylish Miss Lucy, bringing her Thanksgiving basket to the tumbledown shack of the Wiggses, hear Miss Lucy address Mrs. Wiggs, and then listen to the booming voice of Director Norman Taurog, impersonating Mrs. Wiggs with her lines as best he could. Pauline Lord really plays Mrs. Wiggs, but she wasn't needed for that scene. She'll say the same lines Taurog did when she comes to the studio tomorrow, and they will piece them into the sound track, and when you hear the dialog it will be Evelyn Venable chatting with Pauline Lord, not Norman Taurog.

The only thing the family of the late Dorothy Dell asked from the movies to remember her by was an enlarged photograph of Dorothy at a piano which was framed and used as one of the "props" in the story "Little Miss Marker," which was one of the beloved Mississippi girl's last films. The studio prop department sadly built a crate for the picture and expressed it to her mother, Mrs. Lillian Goff, at Gulfport, Miss. Dorothy Dell's father, Elbert Goff, has wound up all the family's affairs in Hollywood, which is too tragic a place for them to remain. They are moving back down south.

Shirley Temple's next movie will be "Angel Face" with Jimmy Dunn and Alice Faye at Fox's, and Shirley will be the principal in the cast. Richard Wallace is the director.

Girl from La Salle Wins Lip Reading Tournament

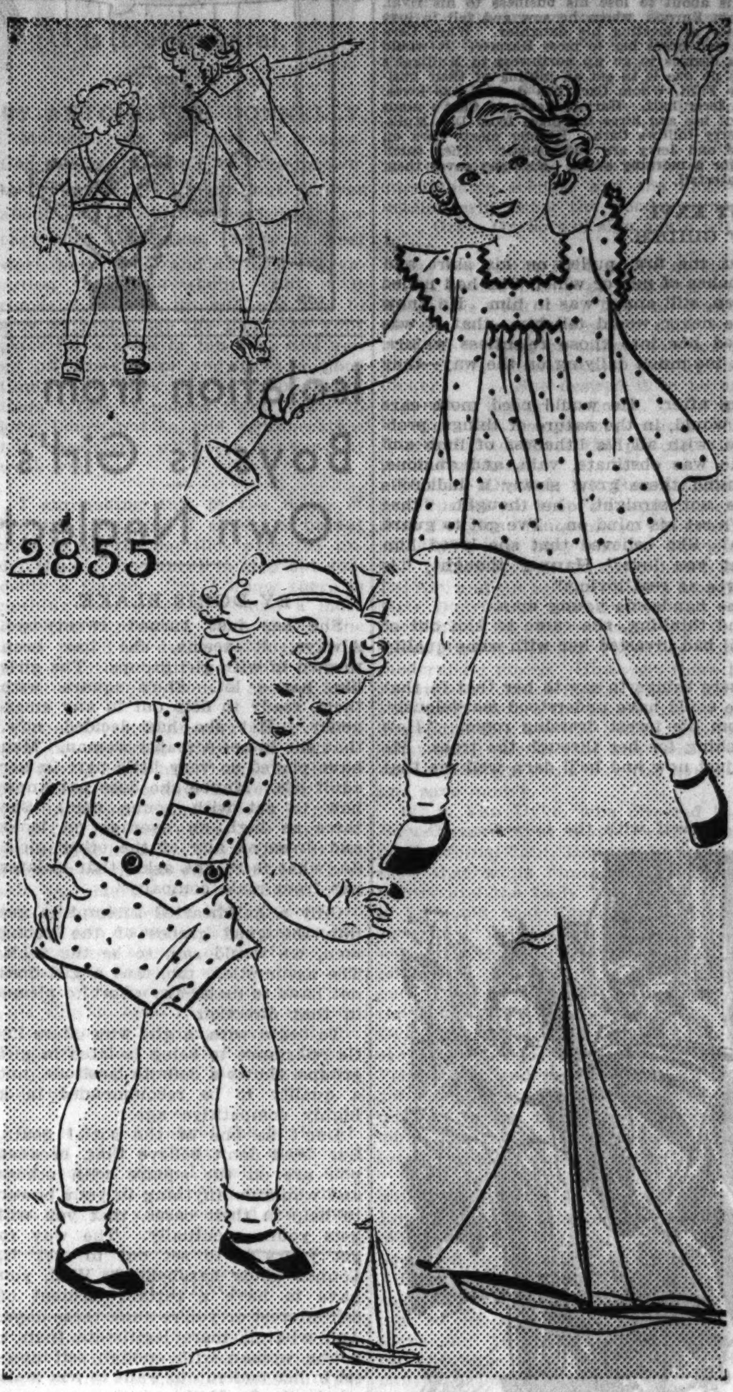
Miss Lillian Johnson, 20 years old, 705 Wright street, La Salle, will represent the Chicago area in the national lip reading tournament of the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing, at the 14th annual convention in Washington on June 26. That was announced yesterday by the Chicago League for the Hard of Hearing, after Miss Johnson placed first in each of three lip reading contests sponsored by the Chicago league.

For Tiny Lady's Party



CHILD'S ENSEMBLE.

Isn't this a darling outfit for a tiny girl? The little dress is a one piece affair, with slightly circular sleeves, and an inset at front with soft gathered fullness. Then there is the sun suit. Just stitch waistband and shoulder straps that cross at the back to the one piece panties with opening at each side. A blue crinkled crêpe, with white dots, made the ensemble, and it needs no ironing.

The pattern, No. 2855, comes in sizes 2, 4, and 6 years.

Preventorium Opens; Protects Children from Tuberculosis

The Preventorium, summer colony for children sponsored by the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium, Bryn Mawr and Crawford avenues, formally opened its fourth year yesterday with 144 children enrolled. The children, who are not necessarily tubercular although they may have been exposed to the disease, will sleep outdoors on the sanitarium grounds, be fed the proper foods and generally taught how to care for themselves.

The colony will continue throughout the school vacation period.

This Triangle Has Setting in Irish Battles

William Powell Dashing as Army Officer.

"THE KEY."

Produced by Warner Brothers.
Directed by Michael Curtiz.
Presented at the McVicker's theater.

Capt. Tennant	William Powell
Norah	Edna Best
Andrew Kerr	Colin Clive
Homer	Hobart Cavanaugh
The General	Halliwell Hobbes
Dan	Henry O'Neill
Young Irishman	Phil Regan
Conlan	Donald Crisp
O'Duffy	J. M. Kerrigan
Lieut. Merriman	Arthur Treacher
Pauline	Maxine Doyle
Kirby	Arthur Aylesworth
Barmaid	Gertrude Short
Flower Girl	Dawn O'Day

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

"Why should one woman make any more difference than another in a man's life? Be polite and say, 'Thank you!' Be smart and say, 'Good-by!'"

The sentiments are those of that carefree British army captain and soldier of fortune, Capt. Tennant, BEFORE a certain episode in his life. . .!

"The Key," adapted from the London stage play, has for its background the Irish rebellion of 1920, and it recalls to memory stories of the tumultuous times when Black and Tan troops and revolutionists fought gory battles, patriots turned into snipers and Michael Collins, seeming a ghost in very fact, influenced political affairs from one hideout after another.

During the rioting in Dublin Tennant encounters an old friend, Andrew Kerr, a British intelligence officer, who is now married to Nora, with whom Tennant had once been in love.

The story forthwith takes on triangular proportions.

The distraught lady finally decides which man she prefers and Tennant, after a beau geste that gestes him out of the army, goes debonairly forth to imprisonment, leaving Norah in the arms of the husband he has saved from death in most extraordinary fashion.

Mr. Powell makes a dashing officer. Mr. Clive wins much sympathy as Kerr. J. M. Kerrigan is outstanding as O'Duffy, a noncombating go-between who contacts the Black and Tans and the revolutionists. Edna Best [Mrs. Herbert Marshall], whose American film debut this is, is rather wooden in an unremarkable rôle.

You will, I think, be pleased with the rest of the cast, and consider the direction adequate to the story which, so far as the love stuff goes, is just conventional grindings from an old mill.

There is considerable suspense and the rioting scenes are atmospheric and pulse quickening.

See you tomorrow.

Grace Abbott Returns; Plans Trip to Nebraska

Miss Grace Abbott, who recently resigned as head of the Children's Welfare bureau in Washington to take a professorship at the University of Chicago, arrived in the city yesterday, and spent the day at the university. She will not take up her duties until the fall quarter, however. At that time she will be professor of public welfare administration, and will teach classes on child welfare, as well as being editor of the Social Service Review. She will leave for Nebraska tomorrow, and spend the summer there with her father, at Grand Island.

THE WRONG MAN

BY MAY EDGINTON

SYNOPSIS.

Cara Follette, only daughter of a Canadian business man, anticipates becoming her father's partner. While traveling in Europe she meets Jerry Flint, a poor young English singer. She stakes him to Toronto, where she can get him auditions impossible for him to gain abroad. Benjamin Follette and his wife, Anny, had grown apart in the years he was busy becoming successful. Now Follette is about to lose his business to his rival, Redman Harmer. Harmer recently returned from Europe, where he saw and fell in love with Cara. He asks Follette for an opportunity of meeting his daughter. When Cara returns home her father tells her of his failure and urges her to meet Harmer. It would mean much to him and he likes Harmer. Cara decides to go up northwest to Mulligan's camp for a month to think it over. Meanwhile no one is to get an inkling of their business troubles. Anny will find friends for Jerry Flint, whom Cara has decided she loves. Cara sells her car for expense money and gives Jerry half. Harmer hears of Cara's plans from her father. He flies to Mulligan's ahead of her and hires the place from Dan Mulligan for a month and the use of his name. Jerry follows Cara. Harmer meets Cara on the way, introducing himself as Mulligan. He and Jerry are antagonistic. They camp for the night near a lake. Jerry and Cara go for a morning swim. Mulligan saves them from drowning in the strong current under a waterfall.

INSTALMENT XXVI.

A PRINCE OF GUIDES.

The hunter rubbed himself down at the fire, pulled on his shirt and trousers, had a quick shave at the few inches of mirror which Otis had nailed up on a tree, and lighted his pipe. A deep, still anger was in him. He knew as well as if she had told him—and she never would tell him—that it was Jerry Flint who had tempted or taunted her into those relentless waters. Well, tonight—if they pushed on without too much dallying on the way—they would be at the camp. What then?

The young man would want looking after. He would need more care than a child or a woman, both of whom would, in the nature of things, probably be obedient. Under his sun bronze, with all his litheness of limb and quickness of eye, he knew nothing. He was obstinate, vain, and anxious. Anxious for Cara! And in Harmer's mind there grew slowly a ludicrous and yet unamusing realization. "He's not straight," he thought, "that fellow. He'd go any way to get what he's set his mind on. I've got to guard her. She love Jerry Flint? Yes or no? She believed that she loved him very much indeed. And believing that you love," Harmer thought, "is almost as strong a temporary motive force as real loving."

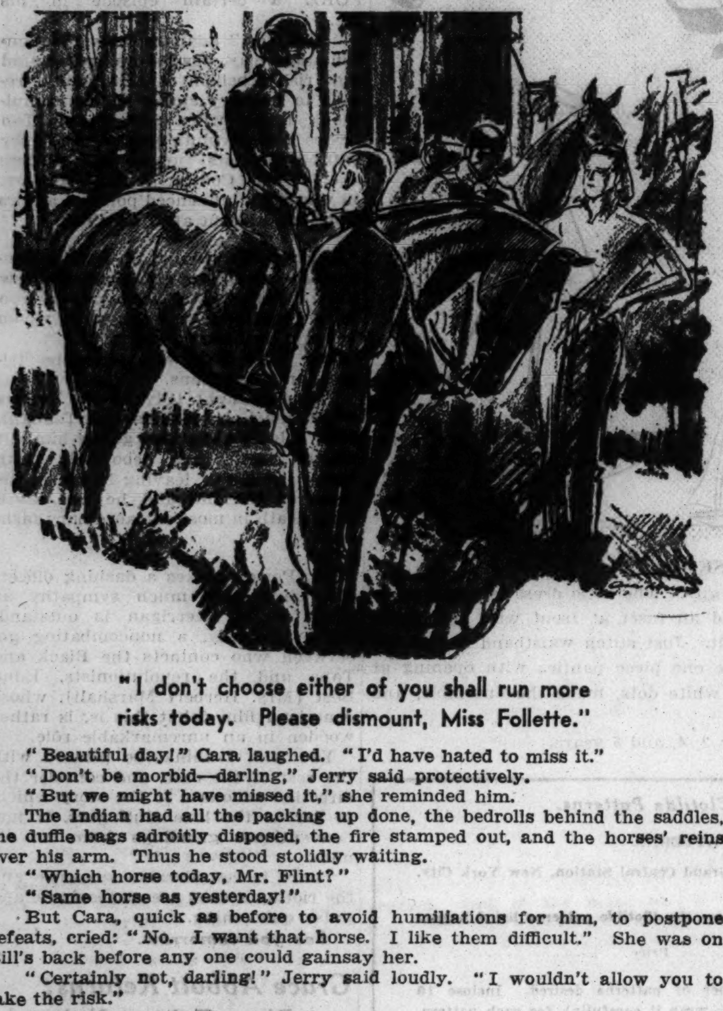
Perhaps, though, she really loved the handsome young man.

As he stood by the fire, smoking and thinking, she came to him out of her tent, pale and soft eyed. Deadly peril had invested her with some quality that seemed strange and lovely.

He felt in that moment that there were things to say to her that in that exact moment he could have said and she could have understood marvelously, but immediately Jerry Flint stepped from his forest dressing room. "He's been watching," Harmer thought, "watching for her through the trees. He doesn't much want to be alone with me just now and he'll darn well see that she isn't." Aloud he said easily:

"Well! Breakfast!"

While they ate the red man busied himself with the horses.



"I don't choose either of you shall run more risks today. Please dismount, Miss Follette."

"Beautiful day!" Cara laughed. "I'd have hated to miss it."

"Don't be morbid—darling," Jerry said protectively.

"But we might have missed it," she reminded him.

The Indian had all the packing up done, the bedrolls behind the saddles, the duffle bags adroitly disposed, the fire stamped out, and the horses' reins over his arm. Thus he stood stolidly waiting.

"Which horse today, Mr. Flint?"

"Same horse as yesterday!"

But Cara, quick as before to avoid humiliations for him, to postpone defeats, cried: "No. I want that horse. I like them difficult." She was on Bill's back before any one could gainsay her.

"Certainly not, darling!" Jerry said loudly. "I wouldn't allow you to take the risk."

And then he saw Harmer smile.

"You find that funny?" he demanded.

"Very funny," said the hunter, "after what has already happened. But, anyway, I don't choose that either of you shall run any more risks today. My question was just chaff. Please dismount, Miss Follette."

She slipped off the horse instantly.

"Jessie is for you always," he added.

"Very well," she said.

"He-who-must-be-obeyed," Jerry muttered. No one noticed him. Otis was holding Buck's stirrup and he mounted rather awkwardly, as he had done last night.

They rode off very quietly, Harmer leading on Bill, the trail seldom being wide enough for three abreast.

They made the camp about sunset and came into the clearing in the heart of these wilds, blue smoke going straight up into the still air from the big chimney in the center shack, two halfbreeds coming forward to take and corral the horses and an Indian maiden, slim and hard as hickory, to maid Cara.

Cara protested: "I don't want waiting on."

The hunter answered: "I like to make a lady comfortable."

"The more he can put between Cara and me, the better he'll be pleased," Jerry thought, climbing slowly off Buck.

The center shack was the living room, roughly comfortable, and it divided two groups, each comprising three bedrooms. The Indian girl led Cara to one on the left, the hunter nodded Jerry to an open door on the right. When the young man had entered the room and Otis had bestowed his slight baggage Harmer came and stood in the doorway.

"I'm very near you," he said.

"The hell you are," Jerry answered with a smile. The smile was wicked with mischief and Harmer knew it.

"Supper when Miss Follette is ready," Harmer added.

Jerry Flint saw with surprise that the hunter was host at that meal. He had imagined the camp to be used as a sort of backwoods hotel by its patrons, with this guide fellow as obsequious manager in the background. Not at all! This man presided, as the host of any country house, eliciting good service, pressing them to dishes whose ingredients and sequence, if simple, were unexceptionable. A prince of guides! And Jerry stole sharp looks at Cara to see how all this impressed her.

With his intuitions of a woman he noted at once that she had made a toilette. Indeed, the Indian girl had prepared a real hot bath. Cara had put on one of her white cotton frocks. In those surroundings even such a garment had its sartorial value. There was a blue leather waistbelt about her thin waist. She was sleepy eyed from the long hours of riding, and yet radiant and fresh.

"For me?" Jerry thought. He exerted himself to good humor, to talk, to be charming. "I'm not going to fight this fellow," he thought. He could be very charming indeed when the mood took him. So now he disciplined his mood. All he said was allusive. He reminded her constantly, by word or look or inference, of all they had already done together. She was very happy, putting all thought of the burdened future from her. No one had ever made her so happy as Jerry could. No, not even her father. The young man had the reward of his endeavor in that they withdrew farther and farther from the hunter even while they still sat with him at table. They withdrew into a perfect companionship such as they had known in Germany, and then in London, and then, traveling steerage on a ship. They talked sailing and music and art in old cities, and of the future.

But Cara was both shy and sad when Jerry pressed the future towards her. She became at once overconscious of the presence of this man named Mulligan. She wondered if he would let Jerry stay here—though she thought he would since Jerry's departure would mean, uncompromisingly, her own. And he respected Benjamin Follette and therefore his daughter, didn't he?

Need he guess that her father knew nothing of Jerry's presence here? Had he guessed? What was he thinking?

He leaned toward her as Jerry paused and said:

"Pity your father isn't here, too."

Jerry answered.

"Well, Mr. Follette is quite happy to have me looking after Cara."

She sat quite still. Lies always appalled her. Bluff was often good business. "That was bluff," she thought excusingly. Jerry went on:

"It was a last minute idea."

"So it was," she thought. "A very last minute idea——" And she recalled the thrill of seeing him in that hotel at Edmonton. Gloriously reckless, gloriously happy, divine madness by all prudent reckonings—such were their reunions and anticipations of each other. And something seemed to flow from Jerry's heart to hers: this hunter Mulligan, fine as he was, shouldn't to the least degree frustrate their happiness of being together.

Doris Blake Answers

"Dear Miss Blake: I was refused a date by a girl living in my neighborhood. Should I forget about her?
"E. C."

Why not try again, E. C.? It's possible she had other plans and couldn't accept. Let her name a time that will be convenient.

"Dear Miss Blake: How can I show a fellow I'm in love with him?
"MERRY LIPS."

Usually when a girl is in love it tells on her itself. If you have to overwork to show the state of feeling, well, the question is whether the man would be convinced anyway.

Isolation from Boys Is Girl's Own Neglect

BY DORIS BLAKE.

She has just turned twenty-two. Always, it seems, she has been thrown in with girl groups. The girls like her a lot. She's square with them, ready to help out in any emergency. But she has decided, now, that she is not a man's woman. Men have played so very little part in her adult life. Maybe she does not know how to act with young men. She rates as high an average on looks and dress as any of the other girls. So, what is it, she asks, that isolates her from male company?

Only a half-hearted attempt to get into the good graces of the young men, we would say, to be the fault. The assumption, too, that a girl does not have to make any effort to please in that direction.

To begin with, a girl who offers little resistance to being isolated in girl groups, shows a definite lassitude, not a quality to be recommended in a highly competitive age.

Don't be one of the social goats, Lu. And don't believe that, because you are on the square with others and would do anything in your power to help in their cases, that you will gets yours eventually. The way to get yours is to set out to get it. Sounds kinda hardboiled? Well, you have to have a certain element of self-interest or you're sunk these days. And what is more legitimate than a young woman with enough self-interest in her makeup to want to win male admiration? Nothing that we can see. If you want this, then, don't go looking for it in overcrowded girl groups. Go where you'll meet boys.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Named after the generalissimo of one of the greatest fiascos that ever excited the American people, this is a quilt block with odd historical associations. The "Coxey's Army" block was made by one of his ardent admirers near his home in Massillon, O., in patriotic colors of red, white, blue, and gold. The quilt is extremely easy to piece and measures twelve inches square when completed.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

In yesterday's article I said that I would not mention a five-card minor suit if the hand as a whole contained a little over two tricks spread over three suits, even with a singleton. The first reason I gave was my reluctance to give any information to the opponent who will have to make the opening lead.

2. The second point embraces the same reason from another angle. I do not wish to induce my partner to bid on the second round, a concealed long suit, and thereby reveal it unnecessarily to our opponents. Or, rather, I wish to make it clear at once that I consign the hand to three no trumps and so make is unnecessary for him to show a concealed suit, if he has one. If its existence is not proclaimed in the bidding, the enemy is likely to misplay the defense not so much in making a bad opening lead, but in switching to that suit when they see its weakness in dummy and in failing to get an early count or picture of declarer's hand.

The following hand came up in a recent pair championship. North was dealer.

              N.
          Sp. K x
          Hts. A K Q x x x
          Di. K x
          Cl. Q x x
     W.                    E.
Sp. A 10 x x x        Sp. x x x
Hts. J 10 x           Hts. x x
Di. A 9 x x           Di. 10 x x x x
Cl. A                 Cl. 10 8 x x
              S.
          Sp. Q J x
          Hts. x x
          Di. Q J x
          Cl. K J 9 x x

The old fashioned folks bid the hand in the old fashioned way. One heart, two clubs, three hearts, three no trumps—or, one heart, two no trumps, three hearts, three no trumps. Some also played it in four hearts to tie for the bottom score.

From either side diamonds was the natural opening after the club takeout. The defenders duly cashed in their three aces—quickly against the four hearts declarers. Four odd in hearts or no trumps.

With the Sims players it went differently. One no trump by north, two no trumps, three no trumps. Some got a club lead, others were allowed to win a diamond lead with the king and then went after the clubs. In either event West, when in the lead, could not resist dummy's weak doubleton in hearts. Having still two aces in his hand, hearts never having been bid, he led the jack. Declarer won with the ace and reasoned that the opponent holding the ace of spades might hold off once if the king were led. He was right. Where diamonds had not been led, he made the same play with the king of diamonds, and it held. Now the party was over. He ran the rest of the hearts and clubs, making six odd (in one case only five odd, as West became suspicious as the second king was led after a club opening).

These were magnificent results in match-point scoring and they were obtained without any risk whatever of losing anything by bidding these holdings in this way. This particular hand is a somewhat extreme example, but the principle is right and it wins many points in overtricks and extra trick points, in addition to the doubtful games it brings off through opponents misjudging the holdings and misplaying the defense where the bidding has not been fatuously transparent.

BY MARY MEADE.

The trick of blowing hot and cold is looked upon with disfavor when practiced by a friend. But when the same stunt is the work of a chilly-hot, two-temperature dessert, we swallow our gum in surprise and cheer lustily. And if you're puzzled whereof we speak, know that ice cream pies, baked Alaskas, and now a new manner of cold-and-hot prune whip will set the tempo for the cheers this summer—and send us gamboling off on another cool kitchen adventure.

To give the new youngster a break, we'll use him as the opening act. The start is simply a prune whip, but it employs a few ingredients which, perhaps, you aren't so used to lining up with our now aristocratic prune. The way of it—

CHILLY-HOT PRUNE WHIP.

1 cup chilled, unsweetened evaporated milk.
2 tablespoons lemon juice.
1 cup strained prune pulp.
¼ cup sugar.

Let the milk become very cold in a bowl, then whip it with a chilled beater until stiff. Add the lemon juice, continuing to whip until very stiff. Add the sugar to the prune pulp, stirring until dissolved. Fold the prune pulp into the beaten milk and turn all into a shallow baking dish. Cover the cold whip with the following meringue and brown quickly under a hot broiling flame. The whip will remain chilled and the dish should be served while the meringue is still hot.

MERINGUE FOR PRUNE WHIP.

3 egg whites.
1-3 cup sugar.
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar.

Whip the egg whites with a rotary beater until frothy. Add the cream of tartar and continue beating until almost stiff. Then add the sugar, a tablespoonful at a time, and continue beating until the meringue is very stiff. Pile all over the top of the prune whip and brown as directed above.

Of course, if one waxes really technical, the little plan above hardly could be said to be frigidly cold or spankingly hot. So, if you wish to prove truly that the combination can be accomplished, all in the same dish, then bake yourself up a brick of ice cream! Some know it as Ice Cream Pie, while others hold that it is Baked Alaska. To keep friends in both camps we will label it—

BAKED ALASKA.
[An Ice Cream Pie.]

1 brick any ice cream.
Layer of sponge cake.
3 egg whites.
1-3 cup sugar.
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar.

For this you will need a wooden board [the conventional broiling plank will be ideal]. Cut a layer of sponge cake ½ inch thick and 1 inch larger all the way around than the flat side of a brick of ice cream. Be sure the cream is frozen very hard. Turn it out onto the center of the sponge cake which has been placed on the board. Have ready the meringue which has been made by beating the egg whites until foamy, beating in the cream of tartar until nearly stiff, and then gradually beating in the sugar until the meringue is very stiff. Spread this mixture over the whole brick of ice cream, thickly covering all exposed sides and bringing the meringue carefully down to the edge of the sponge cake. The top may be modishly swirled with a spatula or a little of the meringue may be kept out to force in flourishes through a pastry tube, over the blanket of meringue. Slide the board into a hot oven [525 degrees F.] and brown quickly before the ice cream has an opportunity to feel the heat. Remove and slip off onto a platter. Slice to serve.

Ice cream pies which really are pies turn up when we prebake a pie shell, pile into it a layer of vanilla ice cream, then a layer of chocolate ice cream [both frozen very hard] and finally top it thickly with this same meringue. Bake as directed for Baked Alaska.

The Stage

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

"All the King's Horses," now at the Grand Opera house in its sixth week, will end its Chicago run next Saturday night. This musical comedy will be staged in London next fall. The Grand has no immediate prospect for a succeeding booking, and probably will not reopen until the arrival of the "Ziegfeld Follies" early in August.

"I Loved You Wednesday," with Edna Hibbard in the central rôle, has faded out of the Chicago stage picture, and the Studebaker theater is closed, with no prospects. Thus when "All the King's Horses" departs, the legitimate theater in Chicago will be represented only by "Big Hearted Herbert," at the Cort. However, it is likely that the Blackstone will reopen early in July with a dramatic production.

This week's chief entertainers on the stage programs at the leading cinema houses are Ben Bernie and his orchestra at the Palace, and Molly Picon at the Chicago. Beginning next Friday Lupe Velez, the film star, will be the leader of the Palace's bill, and the complete bevy of "Wampus baby stars" from Hollywood will be featured personalities at the Chicago.

Summer theatrical colonies, so prevalent in the east during July and August, are developing in the Chicago suburban area. Orson Welles, brilliant young Chicago actor, will lead a group that plans to stage its productions in the opera house at Woodstock, Ill. A group of North Shore little theater actors, headed by Brent Wrenn, will occupy an old inn near Lake Zurich, and promises eight or nine plays. Each of these ventures announces a school of acting and stagecraft.

"The Eunuch" is a one-act opera with a libretto in English.

Metropolitan Will Produce New Opera by American Author

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—A new American opera "The Eunuch," by John Lawrence Seymour, a composer comparatively unknown until now, has been selected for performance next season by the Metropolitan Opera association. It will be the sixteenth native work given at New York's ranking opera house.

Mr. Seymour's opera was chosen from several that were submitted for consideration. One of the most important of these was "Malibran," with a score by Robert Russell Bennett and a book by Robert A. Simon. This work is now expected to be presented in Philadelphia in an opera season under the auspices of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

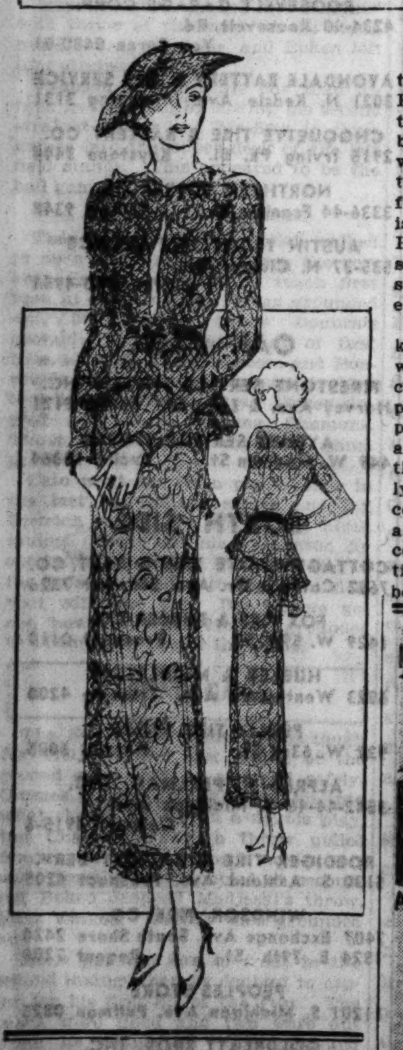
Paris Fashions Fragile Nets Into Simple Tailored Frocks for Hot Weather Wear



BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—A follow-up to the net suits and dresses that the Paris dressmakers showed early in the spring is the tailored dress of black or beige lace to wear in torrid weather. Dilkusha is responsible for this latest hot days style, and it is fresh and charming. Naturally lace is a dressy material, and though the Paris way of tailoring it makes it simple, dresses of this material are suitable for afternoon and even simple evening wear.

The model that is sketched is Dilkusha's frock of black lace, and it is worn over a simple slip of pale gray crêpe de chine, so it looks lots like a printed silk from a distance. The simple long sleeved blouse is collarless and has wing jabots of the lace down the front. Below the belt is a slightly flared hip length peplum that becomes ripply and considerably longer at the back, giving the effect of a tailcoat. A sapphire blue velvet ribbon tied in a knot at the front makes the belt.

Hammond are looking forward to a visit from Mrs. Brown in September.

Mrs. Walker Szukalska and her little daughter, Kalinka, have gone to Wyoming for a month's visit with her uncle and aunt, the earl and countess of Portsmouth, who are spending the summer on their ranch near Sheridan. The former Marguerite Walker of Chicago and her husband, who was Oliver Henry Wallop until he succeeded to the title nine years ago, now live in Devon, England, but they pay an annual visit to their beloved ranch. When Mrs. Szukalska and Kalinka return to Chicago it will be to spend only a short time in their Lake View avenue apartment, for they are going to Desbarats for the rest of the summer.

Miss Nancy Morse, whose engagement to Rodman Lent Hooker was announced last week, is planning to go to California late in July for a month's visit. Mr. Hooker left Saturday for his home in San Mateo, Cal., after a two weeks' stay in Lake Forest. He will come east again in November, for that is the month Miss Morse has chosen for their wedding. The ceremony will take place in Lake Forest, where she and her mother and stepfather, the George A. Richardsons, live.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Crane and their little daughter, Cathalene Crane, who spent the winter in Panama, have returned to Chicago and are occupying his mother's home on Lake Shore drive. Mrs. Crane's mother, Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., and the former Florence Crane and her husband, William A. Robinson, will leave Panama and go to Castle Hill, the Cranes' summer place at Ipswitch, Mass., as soon as Mr. Robinson is able to be moved.

George B. Harringtons to Visit Montana Ranch.

Shortly after their move to Lake Forest this week the George Bates Harringtons of East Walton place will be making arrangements for a visit to the E Bar L ranch in Montana. Accompanied by Miss Mary Harrington, debutante of the coming season, the Harringtons plan to leave for the west in July. Meanwhile they will be deciding upon the date for Mary's debut and a dinner dance to follow later in the winter.

John L. Patten and William Wiseman are about to set sail on the former's yacht, the Ajax, for a month's cruise that gives promise of being a very interesting one. They are sailing from Miami, where Mr. Patten had the yacht taken from New York, and they plan to visit the West Indies and later the Galapagos Islands. Mr. Wiseman flew to Miami to meet his host.

The hundreds of miles of waterways in the colorful provinces of Sweden will be explored by President and Mrs. Robert Maynard Hutchins of the University of Chicago this summer. Mr. Hutchins has some business to attend to in England the first part of July, and after that the adventurous couple will charter a tiny boat and begin their travels in Sweden. They have been studying all kinds of maps and receiving suggestions from friends who have visited the Scandinavian country.

The young daughter of the family, Mary Frances Ratcliffe Hutchins, will spend the summer with her grandparents in Kentucky, Dr. and Mrs. William J. Hutchins, of Berea.

Robert Howells Return Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Howell, who were married last May 26 at the home of Frederick T. Hoyt, 1120 Lake Shore drive, have returned from their wedding trip into northern Michigan. The former Evelyn C. Meeter and her husband will be at home at 23 East Division street after July 1.

Two Chicago boys were members of the senior prom committees for the fashionable dances held in Princeton and Yale last night. Ralph H. Poole Jr. of Lake Forest was on the Princeton committee, and Frank Ellis Pierce Jr. was a Yale committee member.

There was a surprise in the Weymouth Kirkland family when Mrs. Kirkland and her daughter, Miss Eleanor, who attends Vassar, returning from New York, descended from the train in Chicago to find that Weymouth Stone Kirkland had boarded the same train for his return from Hotchkiss.

The Kirklands, who have had the John Payne Kellogg home in Lake Forest for the last two summers, are following in the Kelloggs' footsteps again and will spend the summer in the Ezra J. Warner house, which the Kelloggs rented this spring from Mrs. Warner.

Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed is opening her home in Lake Forest today from 9 to 5 o'clock for a sale of the exquisite things for which the Chicago Woman's exchange is noted the country over.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Mabel Albertson of the radio wearing the smart hair style created for her by a Chicago expert.

See the pretty hair style?

It's a grand example of what a skilful hair stylist can do to give the illusion of shortness to a fairly long face and while, heaven forbid, it isn't fluffy, it does have flattering softness.

For dress up it can be worn as pictured here, with the curls coming out on the forehead and the waves brought forward over the ears. When she's in the mood for something more tailored, the wearer of this bob can brush the hair back over both ears, leaving the short curls to soften the forehead line. Either way it's stunning and an artistic triumph on the part of the Chicago hair stylist who created it.

This year more than ever before it's essential for hair to have luster and highlights. Being brunette, we couldn't experiment for ourselves with the product this young lady uses, but after seeing her hair and that of one of our stooges on whom we tried it we feel you blonde women might like to know about it. It's a liquid, to be brushed in before the shampoo as a touchup. It isn't a dye, nor a strong bleach, but it brightens blonde hair miraculously, with no trace of the brittleness or straw color that usually follows the home job of bleaching.

You can use it yourself or tote it along when you go for your shampoo. It isn't expensive and several Chicago shops carry it. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Silken Nighties Trimmed in Red Entrance Girls

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Unless you have a well developed weakness for collecting nightgowns, whether you need them or not, certain new summer charmers may not cause the furore they do with some. But they are nothing to ignore. Until you have seen the new chalky white silk affairs trimmed with a luscious new coral red, you have missed a lot of excitement. These white and rosy red combines are cool looking heart breakers. Some have bows tied coquettishly high on the shoulders, others have rippling ruffles, while others have delicate pipings of this flattering new color accent around neckline and sleeves.

Some other white models have high swaddling necklines with half a silk hankie tied, bandana fashion, around the windpipe. On these 'kerchiefs is embroidered a white anchor. Will they ever stop this nautical racket? The hankie collars come in marine blue or coral, the anchors embroidered in white. Still more white nightgowns are decorated with appliqued bow knots, a new idea, in such colors as jade green, rose, scarlet, and blue. These are trim, slim, and tailored, with straps crossing at the back and are slick summertime sleepers for anybody. You should see the price tags. They'll put you to sleep with the shock of the very low price for all such smart silken glory.

Mother Should Go Vacationing for Her Beauty

Deadly Routine of Home Is Detrimental.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Mothers, you hold out for a vacation this year! Don't let those grown-up youngsters of yours put it over about how hard they work and how they need a vacation. Some of them work hard, true, and do need the vacation they talk about. But if it comes to a toss up and one has to stay at home, let the girl take your place for a week or ten days and you go off somewhere and have a good time. You work harder than any of them when it comes right down to long hours put in and remuneration not consistent with the amount of work you do.

I am asking this in the name of beauty. Not that I expect a parent used to all the sacrifice expected under the circumstances to step out suddenly a Garbo. But I know there is nothing that gives a woman a more hopeless expression than doing the same round of duties 365 days in a year, together with the usual lack of gratitude earned from a spoiled family.

Then, there is another thing. Dad and the working girls and boys of the family have had their labor hours cut. Mom has a shorter working year coming to her. And nobody is going to get it for her unless she ups and demands it herself. Then, there is the question of the parent who keeps herself up smartly so the young ones won't be ashamed of her. One has to get out and around a bit to gather the urge to keep abreast of the times, the clothes, the haircuts, and the new cosmetics. It's my observation that parents who do keep themselves up nicely are treated with more respect and kindness than the kind that doesn't care so long as the kids have what they want.

But it is more about the health argument, with a change of scene and environment, that I really am concerned for mothers. You need it more than does the youth around the house.

Hollywood

The Gossipel Truth.

BY SIDNEY SKOLSKY.

Hollywood, Cal., June 18.—[Special.]—Mary Pickford and Buddy Rogers, so the wise ones whisper, have already made an application for a wedding license. . . . And the place they are supposed to have done this is Canada. . . . Mae West's flicker, "It Ain't No Sin" was okayed by Joe Breen of the Hays office the second time he saw the picture. . . . They had two and three shots made of the questionable scenese and the okayed version will show the goody scenes. . . . Greta Garbo will sign again with Metro. . . .

The key to the RKO studio arsenal, which houses plenty of firearms, was stolen this week. . . . The real reason for the Lilian Harvey-Fox split was that she insisted on telling how much money they should spend making the flicker. . . . She desired it to be an expensive, big production. . . . Paul Martin, her companion, whom she fought for to direct the picture, also walked with her.

Marlene Dietrich left Brian Aherne and rushed to keep an appointment with Douglas Montgomery, which will show you how busy she is. Marlene has rented Colleen Moore's house in Bel-Air, and the rent is $1,500 a month. Miss Dietrich is redecorating and refurnishing the house, replacing Colleen's French period furniture with modernistic pieces. However, there is an unusual clause in the lease: Marlene must restore the house exactly as she found it when she leaves. So for what she'll pay in rent and two decoration jobs she could buy the house—and save money.

W. S. Van Dyke, who directed the Baer-Carnera fight movie, won $3,500 on the actual fight. Director Van Dyke says that while filming "The Prizefighter and the Lady" he asked Baer if he could beat Carnera. Baer answered: "Let me get in one clinch with him that isn't rehersed and I'll tell you." Baer and Carnera got together for a hot one that wasn't in the scrip. Then Baer reported to Van Dyke. "It's a cinch—I'll take him easy." Metro wants to reissue "The Prizefighter and the Lady" with the actual fight scenes for the fight sequences in the flicker, but Carnera's movie contract makes this impossible, for it states he can't lose the fight.

Elissa Landi's husband, a barrister, will file a counter suit against her in London. . . . Jackie Coogan and Toby Wing, who believe it is romance, have promised to wait for each other.

Eric Charrell waited two days for the famous Hollywood sun to come out so he could shoot an outdoor scene for "Caravan." This waiting for the sun to shine cost the company $7,500 a day.

Fair Will Provide Background Shots for New Cantor Film

Hollywood, Cal., June 18.—[Special.]—The movies have become Chicago conscious. With one troupe already at A Century of Progress, the Wampus baby stars and nine other players to appear at the Exposition in two weeks, and Chicago the center of attention in filmland because of its lead in the current agitation for cleaner fims, Producer Sam Goldwyn today sent a technical crew to Chicago to shoot background scenes for one of the year's big spectacles.

Goldwyn is producer of Eddie Cantor comedies and the opening scenes of Eddie's new one will show the Chicago Exposition. A panorama of the entire Fair will be shot. Production Manager Walter Mayo and a camera crew are on their way and Cantor and Ethel Merman, who plays with him, will go to Chicago later in the summer after finishing scenes here.

THE NEW Firestone
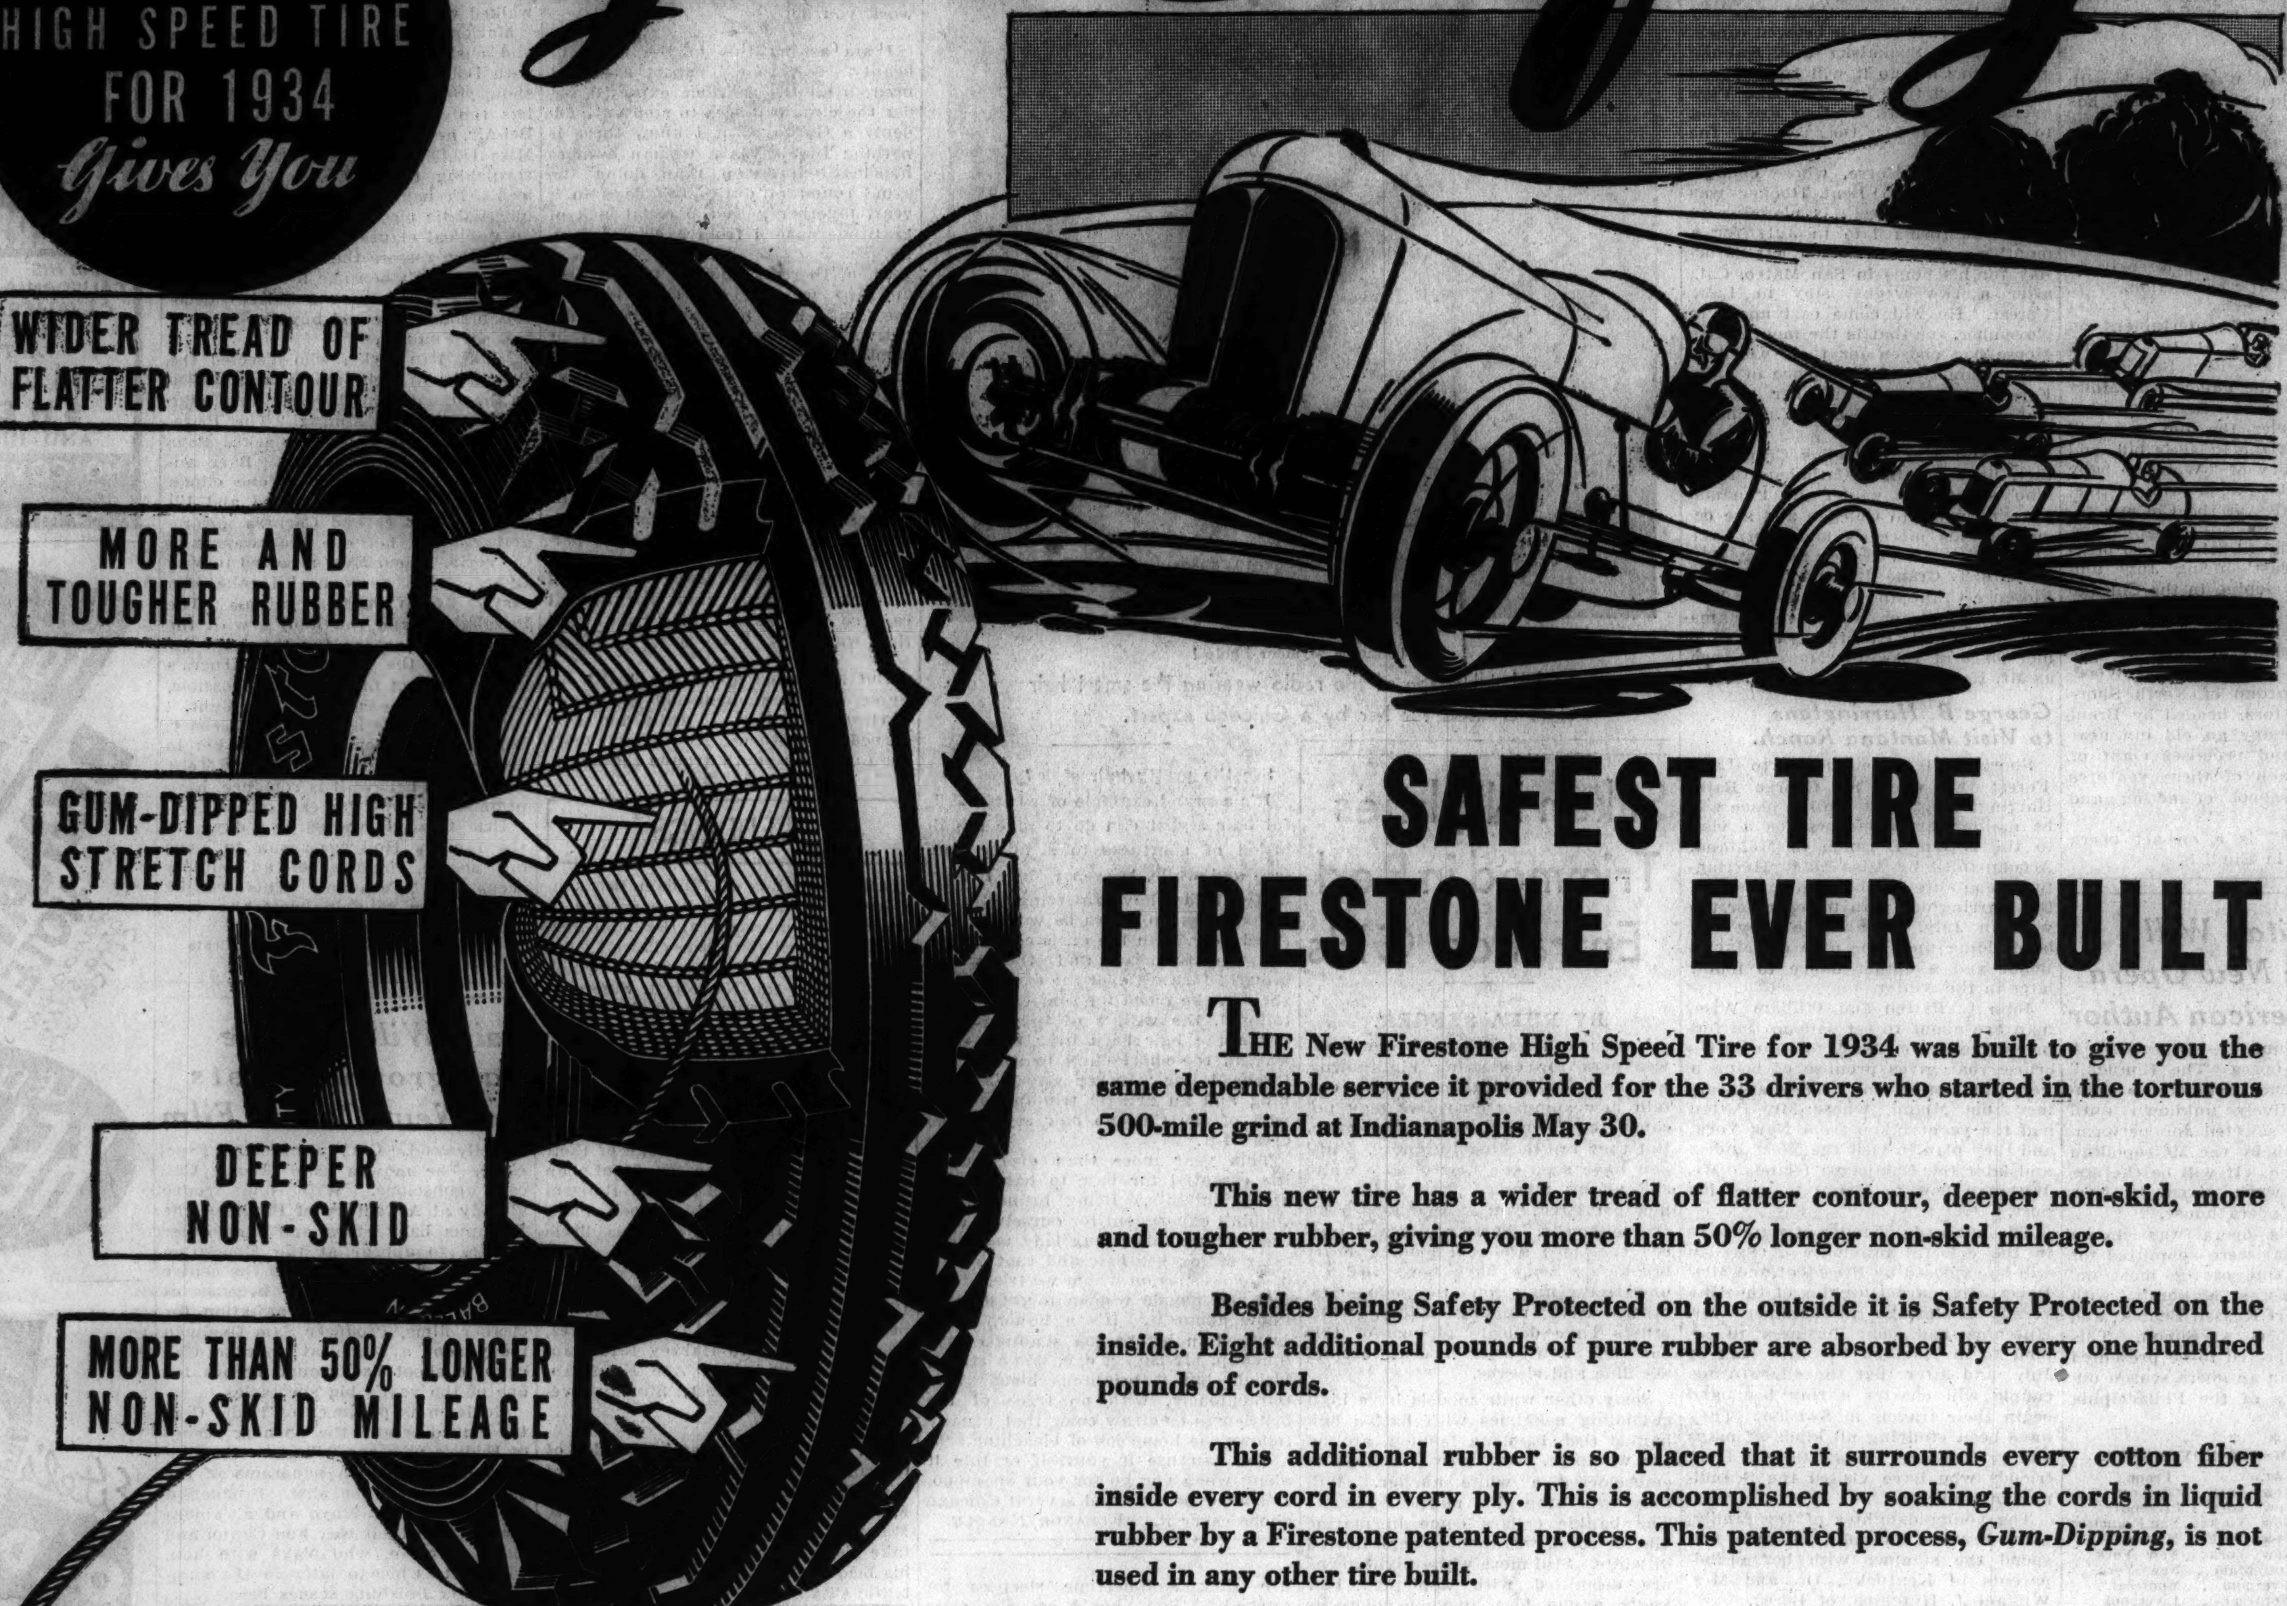
HIGH SPEED TIRE
FOR 1934
Gives You



WIDER TREAD OF FLATTER CONTOUR
MORE AND TOUGHER RUBBER
GUM-DIPPED HIGH STRETCH CORDS
DEEPER NON-SKID
MORE THAN 50% LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE

SAFEST TIRE FIRESTONE EVER BUILT

THE New Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 was built to give you the same dependable service it provided for the 33 drivers who started in the torturous 500-mile grind at Indianapolis May 30.

This new tire has a wider tread of flatter contour, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Besides being Safety Protected on the outside it is Safety Protected on the inside. Eight additional pounds of pure rubber are absorbed by every one hundred pounds of cords.

This additional rubber is so placed that it surrounds every cotton fiber inside every cord in every ply. This is accomplished by soaking the cords in liquid rubber by a Firestone patented process. This patented process, Gum-Dipping, is not used in any other tire built.

Heat caused by internal friction of cotton fibers destroys tires – causes separation and blowouts.

Gum-Dipping counteracts friction and heat—provides greater adhesion and binds the cotton and rubber together into one cohesive unit of greater strength, assuring car owners of the greatest Safety, Protection and Economy that it is possible for human ingenuity to build into a tire.

The most amazing proof of this extra strength, safety and dependability is the fact that every one of the 33 drivers at Indianapolis chose and bought Firestone High Speed Tires. Race drivers KNOW tire construction—they will not risk their lives or chance of victory on any other than Firestone.

When the gruelling race started, motors roared, crowds cheered, speeds increased to 105 miles an hour—yes, to 150 miles on the straightaways.

At these terrific speeds the cars plunge into the treacherous turns—tires are braced against the scorching brick track—so hot the tires fairly smoke at times—they give — yield and stretch — every conceivable force works to tear the tire to pieces, yet Firestone High Speed Tires "come back" on the straightaways. Not once during the entire race did a tire fail—not one of the 132 tires on the cars gave way to endanger the lives of the drivers.

Surely this is the most amazing proof ever known of Extra Strength, SAFETY and dependability. Call on the Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store nearest you TODAY. Equip your car with New Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934.

Protect yourself and family with this Extra Safety. Choose the tires that Champions Buy!

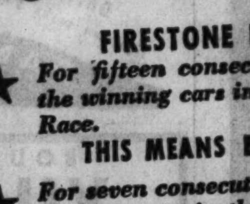
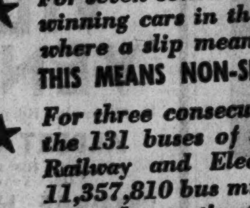
MAKE THIS TEST YOURSELF



Note how the rubber in a Firestone Tire clings to the high stretch Gum-Dipped cords. This greater adhesion and strength is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.



Note how the rubber pulls away from cords that have not been Gum-Dipped. Regardless of the number of cord plies in tires not built with Gum-Dipped cords, friction will develop intense heat, and heat will separate the plies —very often causing blowouts. Only in Firestone Tires are friction and heat counteracted by Gum-Dipping.

Your Firestone Dealer is prepared to let you make, for yourself, the amazing test illustrated above.

COOPER WINS WESTERN OPEN: 36 EXTRA HOLES

SOX TAKE DOUBLE HEADER FROM ATHLETICS, 3-2, 5-0

JOHNSON HITS NOS. 18 AND 19 OFF EARNSHAW

Rain Stops Second Game in Sixth.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 18.—[Special.]—Big George Earnshaw, young Les Tietje and kindly old Mother Nature combined today to give the White Sox a double victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. The scores were 3 to 2 and 5 to 0.

Earnshaw stopped the Athletics with six hits in the first game and Tietje shut them out with two hits for five innings in the second.

The Athletics got to Tietje for two runs and had two men on base with one out in the sixth inning when a drizzle, which started in the second inning, became a downpour and compelled Umpire Summers to halt the contest. This made the score revert to even innings and gave Tietje a shutout for his first victory of the year.

Earnshaw In Great Form.

Earnshaw turned in one of his best pitched games to win the opener. He had to be good to overcome the villainous machinations of Bob Johnson, who hit his 18th and 19th home runs to take the lead in that branch of big league activity.

These were the only runs Earnshaw allowed. He gave up only six hits and one walk and altogether was in excellent form as he achieved his fourth victory of the season.

The Sox scored all their runs off Sugar Cain in the eighth inning, with the aid of a tremendous wild throw by shortstop Eric McNair.

Tietje Stops Johnson.

Tietje, who had seen Johnson hit five homers in the last three games, had the right formula for winning. He stopped Johnson. And though his own wildness and unsteady fielding behind him caused him a little trouble, he came through successfully.

He won his own ball game with his first hit of the year, a rousing double to center with the bases loaded and two out in the second inning, when the Sox chased young Al Denton, the starting pitcher.

FIRST GAME

Double plays saved Cain in the first two innings of the first game. Uhalt doubled in the first and Haas' vicious liner was grabbed by Higgins, precipitating a double play. In the second Simmons and Boken singled. But Dykes' attempted sacrifice went straight to Cain, whose throw to third forced Simmons. Then Chamberlin hit into a double play.

Madjeski singled to center to start the third and went to second on Earnshaw's infield grounder. But there he died as Uhalt and Haas flied out. Simmons reached base in the fourth on McNair's bad throw, but could advance no farther than second.

Johnson Opens Up.

Earnshaw, meanwhile, had allowed only two hits and no runners had passed second. But with one out in the fourth Johnson cracked his 18th home run into the upper deck of the left field stands.

Haas reached second on Higgins' wild throw at the start of the sixth, but Bonura, Simmons, and Boken left him stranded there.

Johnson resumed his one man attack in the sixth by hitting his second straight homer and his fifth in three games into the upper deck of the left field stands. This appeared to be the ball game.

Sox Take Over Game.

Then came the eighth. Uhalt walked to open the inning. He was the seventh Sox leadoff man to reach first base in eight innings. Haas grounded out, but McNair threw Bonura's grounder to the seats back of first base, allowing Uhalt to score and Bonura to reach second. Simmons doubled to center, scoring Bonura. Dykes singled over third, scoring Simmons. Those three runs turned the game around.

Cain went out for a pinch hitter in the last half of the eighth and Bill Dietrich retired the Sox in the ninth inning. Earnshaw made Johnson fly out in the ninth, but Foxx put him in the hole by tripling to the right field wall with two out. Big George got out, however, when McNair grounded to Chamberlin to end the game.

SECOND GAME

The Sox infield made things tough for Tietje in the first inning of the second game, but he emerged safely. Cramer walked and Warstler hit into what should have been a double play, but Chamberlin's high throw pulled Bonura off first. Johnson struck out and Warstler was doubled at second, but Boken dropped Madjeski's throw. Foxx walked. McNair then grounded out.

Tietje put the Sox in front in the second inning when he doubled to center for his first hit of the year. The bases were filled and two were out when he connected. Simmons and Boken singled to start the inning. Dykes tried to sacrifice, but fouled out. Chamberlin walked and Madjeski fanned. Then came Tietje's dou-

ELEVEN SEEDED PLAYERS WIN IN WESTERN TENNIS

Coggeshall Files Belated Entry.

Eleven of the 14 seeded stars in the Western tennis tournament at River Forest advanced easily yesterday, only John McDiarmid of Fort Worth meeting unexpected opposition. He defeated Cliff Olson of Chicago, who although he never had the victory in sight, made McDiarmid, seeded No. 2, hustle to win 9-7, 8-6.

Karl Kamrath of Austin, Tex., who won the Chicago city championship Sunday at Beverly Hills; Hank Prusoff of Seattle, Wash.; George Ball, El Paso, Tex.; Milton Ruehl, Milwaukee, and Scott Rexinger, Thane Halsted, John Shostrom, and Frank O'Connell, all of Chicago, were the other victors.

Esteban Reyes and Angen Roldon of Mexico City and former members of the Mexican Davis cup squad, were the foreign seeded players who advanced.

Women Play Today.

Harris Coggeshall, who won the title in 1930, defeating Cliff Sutter, and again in 1931, defeating Marcel Rainville, was a post entry as was Mita Miethe of Berlin, Germany.

Miss Miethe ranked among the first ten in Germany two years ago. She has never played in tournament competition in this country and is the fourth seeded foreign player in women's singles.

Play in the women's singles will open today with Catherine Wolf of Elkhart, Ind., launching the defense of her title, against Martha Mendins of Chicago.

MAX BAER—THE FIGHTING CLOWN

Mother Is Champ's Sweetheart—She Won't Sue.

Always Acting, He Yearns to Return to Hollywood.

[This is the second of a series on Max Baer, new heavyweight boxing champion.]

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Copyright: 1934: By The Chicago Tribune.]

AMONG the things that Max Baer told interviewers immediately after he had become heavyweight champion was that he proposed to softpedal romance for a long spell.

"From now on my mother is going to be my only sweetheart and I've already made arrangements for her to come here and visit me," quoth the new champ.

But this talk of mother, sincere enough, was not an outcropping of the standard "good to his folks" touch, so routine whenever a pugilist wins a championship or a gangster gets shot. Max went on to explain that the reason his mother is to be his only sweetheart is because she is the only woman he can clasp in his arms without expecting to be sued shortly thereafter.

Score Is 7-6 with Dorothy Dunbar.

And since the matter of sweethearts has been brought up, right now, perhaps, would be the time to set down some items concerning a wide range of love matters, including something of the seven separations from six reconciliations with his former wife, Dorothy Dunbar; lingering to talk of Bee Starr, the lady on the flying trapeze; Shirley Le Belle, the Broadway chorine; Olive Beck, the schoolgirl chum, and a lot of others.

But we are not going to say a thing about these ladies until some later instalment, or instalments. Fifteen hours after he became champion Max went cruising on the private yacht Mermaid. We do not know whether there were any ladies on the Mermaid, but even if there weren't the craft probably passed near other yachts bearing beautiful guests, and Max is a strong swimmer. If anything comes of this potentiality, we think you are entitled to know about it before we start reviewing romances recorded prior to Max's becoming champion.

Max Baer's mother, Mrs. Jacob Baer, in Denver, listens to radio broadcast of his victory over Primo Carnera.

But before we pass on to other subjects in this immediate narrative we should tell you that in discussing the suing proclivities of ladies who love successful pugilists, Max carefully exempted Miss Jean Harlow. Max thinks the beautiful platinum blonde is gorgeous, sincere, perfect.

Wanted to Take Title to Hollywood.

Baer, backing up his reputation for a logical philosophy, has had something to say of how he thinks critics of his Asbury Park training activities for the Carnera battle were a bit inconsistent in their hooking up factors in his supposed playboy indifference to his training chores.

"They couldn't see that I realized I had to win, that I was determined to win, for more reasons than the athletic satisfaction and cash reward of being the champion," says Max.

"Wouldn't I have been the sap going back to Hollywood or Beverly Hills if I hadn't knocked over Carnera? Picture me going up to the portal of some fine home out there, rapping on the door, and saying, 'It's Maxie, the boy that took a licking before 50,000 people. May I come in?'

"It's all right to figure that you are loved for yourself alone, but don't think for a minute that I didn't know all along that the champion won't have to be knocking on any doors and asking if he can come in for a cup of tea."

Wants to Be an Actor Every Minute.

There is plenty of romance and plenty of acting to be done in New York, but it is generally thought by those who know Max Adelbert that he looks upon Hollywood as his best emotional habitat. In New York most of the acting is done on the stage. Life in Hollywood is an act morning, noon, and night, in the studios and out. And Max asks no time off in his acting.

What might be called the incident of the bath robe 's evidence of Max's passionate interest in the sphere of make-believe.

In his picture, "The Prizefighter and the Lady," Baer was, as you perhaps know, cast as "Steve Morgan." In the picture Max wore a silk robe, an orchid robe, with "Steve Morgan" in black letters across the back.

That same robe adorned the body that Max Baer loves so heartily every time he entered and left his training ring in Asbury Park. He wore it as he entered the ring as challenger on the night of June 14, and he wore it when he left that same ring as heavyweight champion of the world. And the letters on the back still spelled "Steve Morgan," the hero of the moving picture.

Willing to Fight if Folks Will Pay.

Before he became champion, Max's father, Jacob, was quoted as saying that his boy would heed his advice and retire forthwith. And his trainer, Mike Cantwell, told us on the eve of the fight that he had urged Max to quit.

But Max, as champ, said he would be a fighting champ if matchmakers can dig up opponents whom the fans want to see pitted against him.

Baer, however, is not unmindful of the ring dangers, fear of which brought about the retirement of Gene Tunney as undefeated champion. Max doesn't mind being called daffy, but he thinks being punch drunk would cramp his romantic style terribly.

"Fighting is going to be my business for a while," says Max, "but you can lay odds that I have no ambitions to get the toy balloon concession in any insane asylum."

BALLYHOO BEGINS FOR 2D CARNERA, BAER TITLE BOUT

The Law Suits Also Start for New Champ.

New York, June 18.—(AP)—The ballyhoo drums are thumping so definitly again that the faithful can almost prepare themselves now to see Max Baer, the new heavyweight champion, meet Primo Carnera in a return bout next October.

Shuffling scores of offers for Baer's services, his manager, Ancil Hoffman, promised today to appear at Madison Square Garden tomorrow and talk over the situation with Jimmy Johnston, director of boxing, and Col. John R. Kilpatrick, president.

Hoffman, Baer and Jack Dempsey, the triumvirate, all want the Garden to wind up the contract that calls for the new champion's first title defense. There is scarcely time to build up a fresh contender among Tommy Loughran, Steve Hamas, Art Lasky and Max Schmeling. Therefore the obvious thing to do, if there is to be another title bout this fall, is to justify another chance for Carnera.

Ballyhoo Points Good.

The Italian giant is groaning in a hospital with a plaster cast on an ankle in which a bone is chipped. The arguments in his behalf bring out that he was overtrained; that he suffered a secret attack of the grippe two weeks before the fight; that he had sinus trouble and a sore throat; that his chief advisor, Bill Duffy, was in jail on income tax charges; and lastly that he was still on his feet in the eleventh round when a technical knockout decision gave his championship to Baer.

This was the first time the title changed hands with a champion still on his feet, except by decision, of course, and a great deal of importance now is being attached to that point.

The Garden doesn't care for an October match, but must go along, under the contract, if Baer names that date. It would prefer to hold an elimination tournament this winter and pit the winner against Baer next June.

Baer for President!

Baer has received between 200 and 300 offers since the victory, ranging from the presidency of a razor blade factory, at $50,000 a year, down to radio, picture, vaudeville and night club work, his secondary specialties. So far none has been accepted definitly.

Mrs. Jacob Baer, mother of Max, arrived from Denver today for one of this city's tumultuous welcomes. Her son met her at the train and Jack Dempsey was there, too. With both a champion and an ex-champion prizefighter to look at, Pennsylvania station was in something of a turmoil.

A large, fresh-faced woman in a light gray coat and large black hat. Ma Baer appeared surprised and then pleased. She flung her arms around her younger son, Buddy, who got there first, and then about Max. Despite the impediment of an umbrella, her gloves, and a large white pocketbook, she managed a good convincing hug.

"Kiss her," yelled the photographers. Max smiled and obliged.

Shirley Bobs Up.

In the background hovered her husband, Jacob Baer. He beamed with pleasure, but remained in the background until someone shoved him into the family group.

Police cleared a way through the crowd for the party. Ma and Max, arm in arm, swung along with proud smiles.

Baer, who practically convinced himself last Friday that once he hits them they stay down, discovered today that a petite Broadway blonde is made of sterner stuff than Carnera.

Ordered last month to discontinue a $50,000 damage suit against Baer because she declined to reveal her address, Miss Shirley Labelle convinced Supreme Court Justice Aaron J. Levy today that the reason for the secrecy was that Maxie's detectives were always bothering her.

The upshot, after the heavyweight champion's attorneys had protested in vain, was that Miss Labelle was told to go ahead and sue if she still felt like it.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Peoria, Ill., June 18.—It took him four days, one of them unexpected, and 108 holes of golf, much of it incredible, to accomplish the task, but Harry Cooper of the Glen Oak Country club of Chicago today won the 34th annual open championship of the Western Golf association at the Country Club of Peoria by three strokes.

To bring back a title for which he had played several times without success, Cooper had to fight through 36 extra holes with 25 year old Ky Laffoon of Denver, Colo., who had tied him last night at the end of the regular four rounds with a 72 hole score of 274.

An 18 hole playoff for the title was ordered for this morning, but at the end of that added attraction to one of the wildest scoring shows in the history of golf, there was still no champion. Both Cooper and Laffoon shot 67s, five under par.

They were forced to repeat the 18 hole operation this afternoon before Harry shot a 66, one over the course record, to Ky's 69, giving the former a playoff score of 133 and Laffoon 136. Cooper had a total of 407 strokes, 25 under par, for the 108 holes played since Friday.

Laffoon Has Magic Putter.

Laffoon, who is one fourth Cherokee Indian, played the first nine this morning as though he had dipped his putter in some medicine man's brew before setting forth. Cooper, on the other hand, found his putter playing him false throughout the morning, and trailed Ky by four strokes at the end of the first nine, which the Coloradoan turned in 32 to Cooper's 36. Harry finally caught up at the 16th, however, and when they came to the 18th it was Laffoon who had to come through, on a none too easy five foot putt. But the nerveless young pro batted it home as though he were a dozen strokes ahead.

The witchery in Laffoon's putter during the morning round must have transmuted itself into Cooper's weapon during the intermission, for Harry dashed around the first nine, which had already undergone untold punishment for one golf course, in 30 strokes, seven under par. Laffoon in the meantime was struggling for a par 37, but was by no means through.

Cuts Down Cooper's Lead.

He shot a birdie on the 13th to cut Cooper's lead to six strokes. He was only five behind after the 15th, where he scored another subpar hole, and was four down after the 16th, where Cooper went over par. Harry was over again at the 17th and Ky went to the 18th tee down only three strokes. He kept on to the finish, matching Cooper's birdie on the 18th, even though he missed the green with his drive.

It seems almost impossible that a golfer who has broken 70 in six consecutive rounds of play should lose, but that was what happened to Laffoon, who happens to have been the only one in the entire field to do so. Cooper smashed it five times, and on his fourth round he took a par 72. During the four days of the tournament 70 was lowered 56 times, 14 on Friday and Saturday, 24 yesterday and four today.

An Old Timer at 29.

Cooper, who said after today's victory that it resulted from the best golf he had played in nine years, is an old timer in golf, even though he's only 29. He was born in Leatherhead, England, the son of Syd Cooper, a prominent professional, but came to America at an early age. He first attracted attention in Dallas, where his father was stationed. Harry won the initial $10,000 Los Angeles Open in 1926, the first of the big money tournaments in the United States.

The next year he tied with Tommy Armour for the national open title, only to lose in the playoff. He won the St. Paul open and in 1932 took the Canadian crown. Last year he won the Illinois state professional title. In the recent national open at Merion Harry made the best finish in the field, coming from away back to tie for third place, two strokes back of Olin Dutra, the winner. His victory today brought him $500 and the custody of the championship cup.

Ky Turns Pro Early.

Laffoon, who has become prominent only within the last year, is looked upon as one of the ablest of the younger professionals. A native of

Australia Wins Tennis Series from France

PARIS, June 18.—(AP)—For a few minutes today in Roland Garros stadium Jack Crawford of Australia was the Crawford of 1933 who swept all except one of the major tennis tournaments to be ranked the No. 1 player of the world. That brief spurt was enough to send Australia into the final round of the European Zone Davis Cup play.

Trailing Christian Boussus of France two sets to one and two games to four in the fourth set of the crucial fourth match of the series, Crawford put on a spurt to win 10 straight games, clinch the match and the series.

The scores were 2—6, 6—2, 4—6, 6—4, 6—0.

Australia Meets Czechoslovakia.

The victory gave Australia the necessary third match of the five and qualified the team to meet Czechoslovakia in the zone final. The winner there will play the United States in the interzone contest for the right to challenge England for the cup.

It was well that Crawford won, because young André Merlin, who defeated the Australian captain Saturday, also beat Vivian McGrath, 4—6, 6—1, 6—3, 6—0. McGrath, who played listlessly and got a booing from part of the crowd for it, might have done better if the match had meant anything.

Series One of Upsets.

The whole series was one of upsets. First Merlin beat Crawford, then McGrath upset Boussus and as a climax Crawford and Adrian Quist yesterday defeated the French veterans, Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon in the doubles.

The showing of France this year was the worst in 13 years of Davis Cup competition. They were in the challenge round in 1925 and 1926 before taking the cup from the United States in 1927 and were European zone winners in 1922, '23 and '24.

Walker Gets $25 Fine for Thumbing His Nose

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Gerald Walker, center fielder of the Detroit Tigers, was fined $25 today by President William Harridge for "ungentlemanly conduct" in yesterday's game with the New York Yankees. Walker stole a base in the seventh inning and then thumbed his nose at the Yankees, sitting in their dugout.

Rodak Whips Barry to Keep Record Clear

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Leo Rodak, Chicago lightweight, maintained his undefeated professional record last night at White City when he whipped Dave Barry of Springfield, Ill., in ten rounds. Johnny Coulon, promoter, announced that paid attendance was 1,800 and that the gross receipts totaled $1,600.

Rodak had no difficulty winning all except the sixth round. His superiority, however, was based on weight and strength more than speed or punching power. The match was made at 128 pounds, but Rodak weighed in yesterday afternoon at 129. Barry scaled 125.

Rodak's Hook Does Damage.

Barry rushed across the ring at the first bell and nearly caught Rodak unprepared as Leo turned around in his corner. But Rodak ducked just in time and proceeded to win the first round, employing a sweeping left hook to the body and a sharp straight right to the head as his weapon.

Rodak wrestled loose in clinches to throw both hands to Barry's body, but at long range the Springfield boxer, whose younger brother Tommy Barry is an intercity Golden Gloves champion, was a more elusive target.

As early as the fifth round Barry must have known he could not win the bout. However, he did win the sixth when Rodak eased up and let Dave do most of the leading. In the preceding round, the fifth, Barry went down from a push. Rodak also was warned by Referee Tommy Thomas for not stepping back from the clinch on his command.

Rodak finished with a spurt in the ninth and tenth, but Barry retreated and lasted out the storm.

Pat Kenneally, Rodak's manager, announced last night that he expected to post a forfeit today or tomorrow for the bout July 18 at Wrigley Field with Kid Chocolate. The forfeit will be 25 per cent of Rodak's guarantee, which is presumed to be between $2,000 and $3,000.

Knockouts In Prelims.

Last night's supporting card of four bouts gave the customers only 14 rounds. Gene Higgins defeated Scotty Sylvano, Chicago welterweight, in four rounds. Sylvano was out of condition and barely lasted the bout. Frankie Martin, middleweight, was stopped in three rounds by Johnny Liston after Martin had been on the floor in every round. Nestor Bruggman, Chicago welterweight, stopped Don Buck, Chicago, in two rounds.

Jimmy Christy, North Side featherweight, won a five round decision from Freddy Gravelle, Kankakee, Ill., in the most evenly matched bout of the evening.

Red Sox Crowds 65,000 Ahead of All 1933 Season

Boston, Mass., June 18.—(AP)—It begins to seem as if Tom Yawkey is going to get a dividend on his $3,000,000 investment in the Boston Red Sox. Attendance figures announced tonight showed that with only about half of the season completed, the team has drawn approximately 65,000 more fans at home than it did during all of last year.

To date the Red Sox have played before 365,000 spectators, including the 15,900 who saw today's twin victory over the St. Louis Browns. Last season the club drew a total of 292,000 to its home games. If this sort of attendance holds up Yawkey's baseball profits may hit $500,000.

INFINITY, 8, AND BLACK HELEN, 2, THRILL ON TURF

Bradley Miss Nears Track Record in Victory.

BY FRENCH LANE.

A young horse and another that is quite old gave the racegoers at Washington Park their thrills yesterday afternoon.

The youngster was a bay daughter of Black Toney-La Troienne from Col. Edward R. Bradley's stable. Her name is Black Helen and she won the West Pullman purse after running the fastest 2 year old race of the year in Chicago. Her margin of victory was four lengths, after she had skipped over the five furlongs in :59 3-5 seconds. This was a fifth of a second off the track record.

No. 32 for Infinity.

The old horse to win laurels was Infinity, an 8 year old son of Eternal-Polly Pennant. Beating selling platers is nothing new in the life of Infinity.

There are few more frequent winners in the whole big selling plater division than 8 year old Infinity. His legs often hurt him. Many times his dogs bark as he skims over the course. Yet he keeps on winning almost with the consistency of a stake horse.

If you don't think so, study these figures:

During his career on the race track Infinity has started 92 times. He has won 32 races, he has been second in 14 other struggles, and third in 16 other engagements. Only in 30 of these 92 races has he been out of the money. His earnings since he came to the races are approximately $22,500. Surely this big bay fellow who races for Clarence Davison of Chicago has earned his way. It isn't at all possible that he has devoured $22,500 worth of hay, oats and carrots.

Wins in Handy Fashion.

Infinity was entered to be claimed for $1,300 yesterday and he was ridden by Jockey Paul Keester. He dominated the running all the way and shook off Frisco and Westko in the final charge down the stretch to win in handy fashion by a length. He almost always is the favorite and held that post of honor yesterday, paying $5.32.

It was the second time Black Helen had paraded to the post and it was the second victory she had scored. Both times she won by the easy margin of four lengths. In this race she upset the highly regarded Kentucky juventile, Albuquerque, which never before had been beaten.

She whipped Albuquerque so soundly at the head of the stretch that this big long striding son of Monks Way was staggering the rest of the way home. He finished third. Hasty Glance, from the Widener stable of New York, showed some belated speed and beat Albuquerque out of the place money.

Just Waiting for the Word

Black Helen had trailed Albuquerque until the stretch run started, but she lost no time making up ground and passing him once Jockey Jimmy Smith gave her the word to go on.

Even the keen eyes and horse flesh judgment of Col. Bradley might have erred on Black Helen. Col. Bradley didn't regard this fleet miss as much of a horse early in the spring so failed to name her for any of the important juvenile stakes. As a result Black Helen will have to win her way to fame in overnight events, which is no easy task.

There was a terrific plunge on Albuquerque and he wound up as the favorite, but when the Bradley connections stopped betting on Black Helen she was at less than 2 to 1 and paid $5.94 on a $2 investment.

This miss will surprise some of the more highly regarded 2 year olds in the country before the season is much older.

Mata Hari to Decide Field in Illinois Oaks

Will Shelley, Washington Park racing secretary, is quite mystified as to the makeup of the field in the Illinois Oaks, the final stake of the Washington Park season, to be renewed Saturday afternoon.

Mata Hari, having failed to beat colts of her age, more than likely will be shipped from Detroit for the race. In the east the first four to finish in the American Coaching Club Oaks at Belmont Park are eligible. They are Lady Reigh, Dusky Princess, Hindu Queen, and Fleam. Fiji, winner of the Kentucky Oaks, already is on the grounds awaiting the engagement.

Should Mata Hari fill the engagement, the field more than likely will be small. Should she pass it up, ten or a dozen may go to the post.

Jocky Eddie Arcaro returned to Washington Park yesterday from Detroit, where he traveled rather slowly around the course on Bien Fait in the Detroit Derby. He doesn't think Cavalcade will be beaten very soon.

The purple and old gold jacket of Thomas D. Taggart, the boss of French Lick Springs, was carried to victory for the first time this season in Chicago yesterday by Kwamudi, a fast running son of Black Servant-Princess Rose.

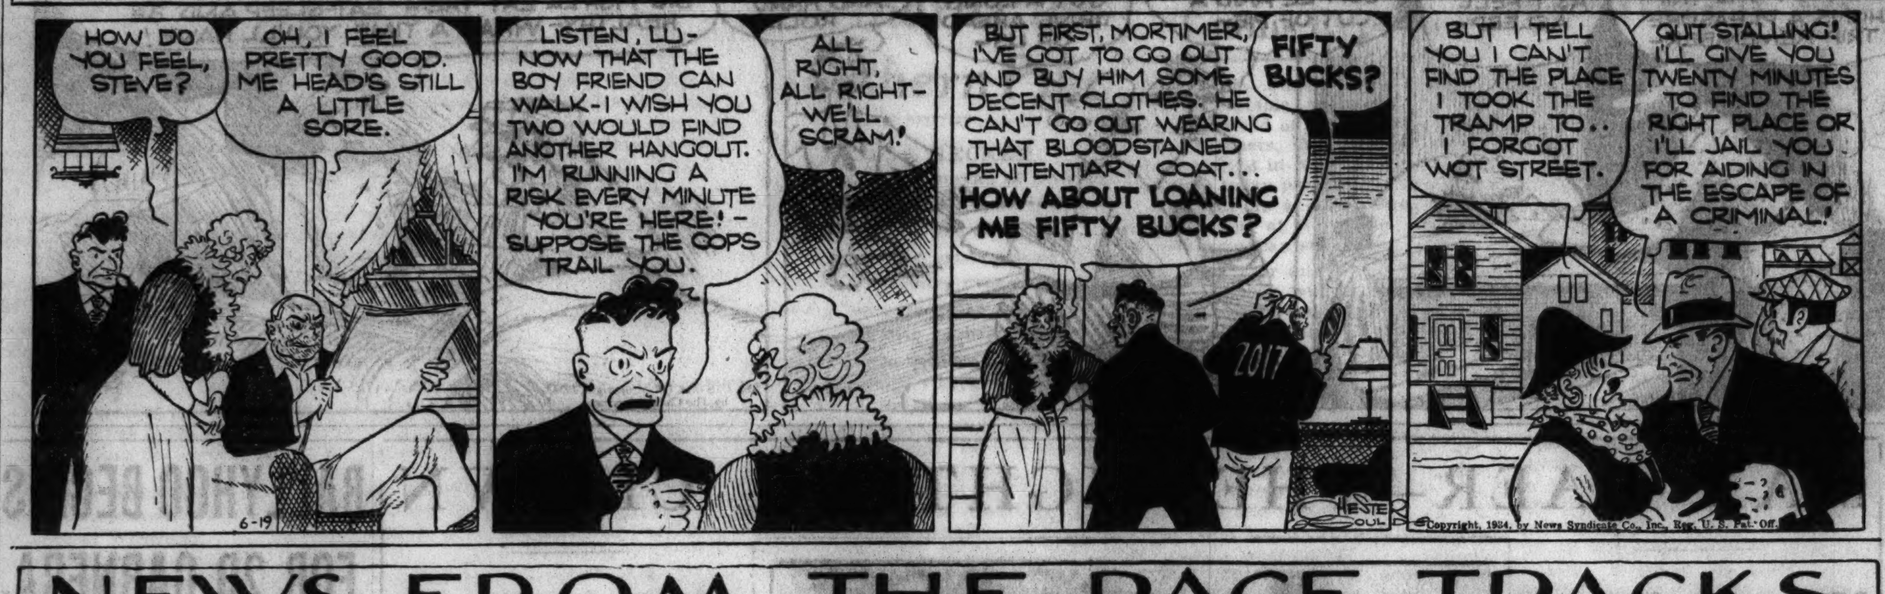
DICK TRACY—Walking Papers



HOW DO YOU FEEL, STEVE?
OH, I FEEL PRETTY GOOD. ME HEAD'S STILL A LITTLE SORE.
LISTEN, LU—NOW THAT THE BOY FRIEND CAN WALK—I WISH YOU TWO WOULD FIND ANOTHER HANGOUT. I'M RUNNING A RISK EVERY MINUTE YOU'RE HERE! SUPPOSE THE COPS TRAIL YOU.
ALL RIGHT, ALL RIGHT—WE'LL SCRAM!
BUT FIRST, MORTIMER, I'VE GOT TO GO OUT AND BUY HIM SOME DECENT CLOTHES. HE CAN'T GO OUT WEARING THAT BLOODSTAINED PENITENTIARY COAT. HOW ABOUT LOANING ME FIFTY BUCKS?
FIFTY BUCKS?
BUT I TELL YOU I CAN'T FIND THE PLACE I TOOK THE TRAMP TO. I FORGOT WOT STREET.
CUT STALLING! I'LL GIVE YOU TWENTY MINUTES TO FIND THE RIGHT PLACE OR I'LL JAIL YOU FOR AIDING IN THE ESCAPE OF A CRIMINAL!

JOEY KLEKO TO FACE DAVEY DAY IN WESTERN RING

Battle Tonight in Eight Round Windup.

One of the oldest boxing feuds in Chicago will be resumed tonight at Western stadium, Western and Devon avenues, when Davey Day, lightweight stable mate of Champion Barney Ross, and Joey Kleko, Cicero, meet in an eight round windup bout. The weight is set at 138 pounds, which may favor Kleko.

Day, who Ross believes will be the next lightweight titleholder, lost to Kleko in their first meeting, and won the second match. Both are clever boxers with power in their right hands. The Cicero fighter does not lack aggressiveness, and Day is no shrinking violet in the ring. Manager Art Winch will second Davey. Other matches:

Oscar O'Hanlon vs. Jimmy Eliopoulos [5]. 120.
Eddie Chinski vs. Frank Keevil [5]. 140
Davey White vs. Jack Lazar [4]. 135.
Steve Zene vs. Charles Russo [4]. 165.
Roosevelt Haines vs. Patrick Henry [4] 140.

The first annual Calumet district amateur boxing tournament will get under way Friday night at All Saints open air arena, 108th street and Wabash avenue. The tourney, to be presented under the auspices of the All Saints Boxing club and sanctioned by the Central A. A. U., will be held every Friday until July 27, when championships will be determined. Boxers from South Chicago, Whiting, East Chicago and Gary will compete. Entries have closed with John Meskis, business manager of All Saints club.

Verne [Battling] Nelson, North Platte, Neb., welterweight, and Mickey O'Shea of the north side have been signed to meet at Northwest stadium Friday. . . . Max Marek, Golden Gloves heavyweight runnerup, has been paired with Tom Kenneally in a windup bout Thursday at C. Y. O. stadium. . . . Andy Scrivani and Eddie Jackson, featherweights, will meet in the semi-final. F. M.

CAVALCADE WILL START NEXT IN $35,000 CLASSIC

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Trainer Rob Smith and Jocky Mack Garner returned from Detroit today singing the praise of the mighty Cavalcade, which won his third derby of the season Saturday.

Smith said Cavalcade's race in Detroit was his best so far and that the colt's next start will be in the Arlington classic on July 14, affording the son of Lancegaye an opportunity to avenge defeat of his stablemate, High Quest, by Peace Chance in the Belmont stakes. Smith will also run High Quest in the $35,000 Chicago Fixture.

"You never saw a horse turn it on in the closing stages of a race the way Cavalcade did Saturday," beamed the trainer of Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's stable. "He picked them up like a Man o' War, driving onward in a display of courage that thrilled me as I have never been thrilled before. It was a magnificent victory; and only a Cavalcade could win the race the way it was run."

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BAER AS MONEY MAKER.

PRIMO CARNERA was not a big money maker as heavyweight champion. Max Baer will be. Difference in their public appeal was well illustrated at their respective training camps before the fight.

Baer was given a bonus of $5,000 to train at Asbury Park, the sum being underwritten by hotel men and others who expected to profit from the influx of visitors to the public workouts. In addition, Baer received full proceeds of the admission fees to his training stunts, 50 cents on week days and $1 on Saturdays and Sundays, an extra 5 and 10 cents charged going to the government as amusement tax. On week-ends, attendance at the arena, specially reconstructed for the occasion without expense to Max, ranged from 1,500 to 3,000. Max put on a good show.

While in Asbury Park, Baer and his retinue were guests of P. Hal Sims, exponent of the "one over one" system of bidding in contract bridge. In Sims' 20 room mansion the party lived and spent their time when not on public exhibition.

Carnera trained at the Pompton Lakes health farm of Dr. Joseph Bier. He paid $75 a week rental for part of a large colonial type cottage said to be the first house erected in New Jersey back in 1694. It was comfortable and commodious rather than luxurious. He had his own chef and paid for his own food supplies. Carnera received half of the gate admissions to his workouts. On the Sunday before the battle, the best day of attendance, Primo's share was less than $350.

Pompton Lakes is a city of about 3,000 population, whose principal industries are one of the Du Pont plants and a large silk label mill. It had practically no resort visitors. Railroad connections with New York were not inviting. Most of the visitors went there by automobile. It was a good place to train, but not to be compared to Asbury Park as a mecca for fistic followers.

Dempsey as Promoter.

Aside from the details of salary and percentage of profits, one of the things said to be holding up appointment of Jack Dempsey as promoter for Madison Square Garden corporation is the ten per cent of profits of fight shows exacted for a New York charity.

Dempsey, according to his friends, does not object to this ten per cent for one big show or title bout per year, but feels on many secondary shows it is the difference between a profit, which he would be expected to show, and breaking even or perhaps a loss. The 10 per cent comes off the top from the net before paying any percentage to the boxers. It amounted to more than $36,000 in the Baer-Carnera bout.

Lather or Brushless
Which for YOU?
I'LL HELP YOUR FACE WITH MY FACTS
W. G. Mennen

I HAVE been studying the science of shaving for 26 years. And I know that one type of shave does not suit all faces.

Whether you should use Lather or Brushless depends on your type of beard and your type of skin.

That's why I make two shaves—Mennen Lather Shave and Mennen Brushless, America's fastest whisker wilters. Decide which is the right one for you.

For oily skin I recommend Mennen Lather Shave. It flushes out pore-imbedded oil and dirt deposits, cleanses the skin.

For dry, tender skin I recommend Mennen Brushless Shave. It's a cream—not a grease—that offsets a brushless dry skin.

If your skin is normal, then it's up to you to choose the brush. Either Mennen Brushless or Mennen Lather Shave wilts whiskers!

GOLFERS SWITCH TO IRON PLAY IN TRIBUNE SCHOOL

8,000 Men Open 3d Week of Lessons Tonight.

The free golf school sponsored by THE TRIBUNE in coöperation with the Chicago Daily Fee Golf association swings into its third week tonight when 19 courses are expected to play host to 8,000 men. With lessons on wood shots finished, the faculty of 61 professionals will focus attention on playing the irons.

Tom Walsh of Westgate, chairman of the professionals' committee, outlined the teaching plans for the week in a meeting of the pros last night.

"Teaching the golfer when to use a club," Walsh told the other pros, "is just as important as teaching him how to use it. The average golfer today is carrying a lot of clubs in his bag that are valuable and necessary, but are never used."

Get It Off the Ground!

Walsh outlined points to be stressed this week. How to get a ball in the air will be driven home at all courses. When confronted by the problem of getting height on a shot, the pros agreed, the average golfer becomes panicky and tries to hit up on the ball. A low shot always results.

The pros reported that most students admit ignorance on the selection of a club to be used on unusual shots. If this condition alone can be remedied, according to one of them, golf scores of the students will be cut down.

Jock Anderson of Techny Fields, brought up the fact that few golfers realize how important irons are to their game.

"The average golfer," Anderson stated, "would rather get up on a tee and send a long wood shot screeching down the fairway than cut down his score by concentrating on iron play." THE TRIBUNE Golf school, it was agreed, can do great good for the game if only the importance of iron shots is absorbed by the pupils.

Roll-up vs. Pitch.

Another thing that was brought out is the fact that golfers who become interested in irons and approaches are too apt to over emphasize pitch shots. Run up shots with a No. 4 and No. 5 iron will be demonstrated in order to impress the pupils with the folly of relying on pitch shots when an open green lies in front of the ball.

Walsh also suggested that the pros demonstrate the swing with a No. 2 and No. 5 iron to prove that a ball is hit just as hard with one club as the other, in spite of a difference of 40 yards between distances achieved by the two. The loft of the club makes the difference in distance.

Attendance Increases.

Still another point to be emphasized is the danger of over clubbing. Golfers have a tendency, according to the pros, to use a club totally inadequate to the task they set for it.

The professionals have been delighted with the fine attendance at the school as well as with the enthusiasm shown by the pupils. To an attendance of 23,500 the first week, in spite of uncomfortable weather every night, another 1,000 may be added for the second week, it has been estimated.

LEWIS FAILS TO APPEAR TO PLAN LONDOS MATCH

Although he has been demanding a match with Wrestler Jim Londos for the last week Ed [Strangler] Lewis failed to appear yesterday at a meeting of the Illinois state athletic commission, called to see what could be done about arranging the bout.

The meeting was called at Lewis' request. Londos was represented by his manager, Ed White. The commission waited a time, then decided Lewis must post a cash forfeit before further negotiations are undertaken.

Commissioner George Getz, who had indicated he would like to have Lewis and Londos meet in Soldiers' field, told Joe Foley of the Chicago Stadium Operating company, Lewis would have to prove he wants to meet Londos, by posting a forfeit. The commission had tentatively awarded Foley July 9 as the date for a Londos-Lewis match. When Lewis failed to show up today, a return match between Londos and Jagot Singh was sanctioned for that date.

YANKEE SAILS TO DECISIVE VICTORY OVER WEETAMOE

Newport, R. I., June 18.—(AP)—A greatly improved Yankee today tucked away in her locker the most decisive victory to date of any three candidates for the approaching defense of the America's cup against Tom Sopwith's British challenger, Endeavour.

Yankee beat Weetamoe 9 minutes 8 seconds over a 30 mile course, 15 miles to Windward and return.

While Yankee was turning in this impressive record, Rainbow, newly constructed entry of Harold S. Vanderbilt, beat Vanitie, cup candidate of 1914 and 1920, but now ineligible, by 2 minutes and 9 seconds.

Cooper Wins Western Open After Going 36 Extra Holes

Miami, Okla., he turned pro at 15. He has won the Utah, Phoenix, and Atlanta Metropolitan opens, and finished well up enough in the recent winter campaign to win more than $2,000. His average for 60 rounds of winter golf was 72½, second best of the pros in the winter gold rush.

Cooper made no secret of his championship intentions at the opening of the afternoon eighteen. He sent his mashie niblick second shot eight inches from the pin and had no trouble pushing it in for a birdie. Laffoon was also on in two, 14 feet over the cup, and took two putts for a par 4. Cooper nearly got a birdie on the second also, but took two putts from six feet, while Laffoon's 50 foot putt for a four hung on the lip of the cup, and both took par 5s.

Cooper had a chance for an eagle on the third when he dropped his second five feet to the right of the pin, but the putt was a hard one even from there, and the ball curled away. Laffoon matched the Glen Oak pro's birdie here.

Ky then startled the gallery by making a near ace on the 125-yard fourth, the ball halting four inches from the pin. Cooper also scored a deuce here, making a neat putt from eight feet short of the cup. Harry's putter was still clicking on the next green, and he ran home a difficult putt of more than 25 feet for his fourth birdie. Laffoon's chip shot was five feet past the pin, but he needed two putts from there for a par 4.

Both were in hot water at the 385 yard sixth, but Cooper escaped with a par. His iron shot turned up on the left bank of the green, buried in the scraggly grass, but he recovered beautifully and sank the putt of less than five feet which remained. Laffoon had to take a 5, when his putt of about six feet rimmed the cup.

Harry Makes It 30 for Nine.

Harry's second shot to the 250 yard seventh was only a yard over the cup, and he sank it for a birdie 3, while Ky took a 4, his tee shot burying the ball in a trap. Cooper's second to the 505 yard eighth was short, on the right corner of the green, but he ran it up and holed out for a birdie 4. Laffoon played his poorest hole on this, taking four to get on after an argument with the rough, and two putts to get down.

Cooper made it 30 for the nine with a deuce on the 155 yard ninth, driving about six feet past the flag and shoving the ball in from there. Laffoon's tee shot wandered a bit over the far edge of the green and he took two more.

Settle Down to Par.

The 10th, 11th, and 12th afternoon holes produced no especial excitement, both getting par 4s on the first two and a 3 on the 12th, in regulation fashion. Laffoon staged a rally at the 13th, scoring a birdie 4 to Cooper's 5. His pitch shot was only a yard past the hole. It was the first hole the Colorado pro had taken since he had brought down his eagle at the seventh in the morning.

Another pair of 4s came off the 14th, Ky reaching the green in two, 18 feet beyond the flag, while Harry's second was short. The former was down in two, and Cooper's chip rested two feet from the cup for an easy 4. Both reached the foot of the slope at the 15th, and were on in two, Ky four feet from the pin and Harry three. Cooper missed his try for a birdie, the ball halting on the edge of the cup, while Laffoon got his down, and trailed by five strokes. He was only four behind after the 16th, where Cooper three-putted for a 5, the first time he was over par during the afternoon. Laffoon drove into a trap, but exploded out and was down in two for a 4.

Laffoon Keeps Trying.

Laffoon was still battling at the 17th, driving within eight feet of the cup and narrowly missing the putt for a deuce. Ky's deficit was reduced to three strokes when Cooper took a four, one over par, by missing the green and taking two putts after getting on it.

Cooper drove the last green more than 20 feet to the right of the pin, and his attempt for a deuce halted within an inch of the cup after following the line perfectly. Laffoon was off to the right, just grazing a trap, but chipped nicely for a six foot putt and a birdie 3.

MAKO REACHES THIRD ROUND IN COLLEGE TENNIS

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Gene Mako, 18 year old sophomore from the University of Southern California, turned loose two brilliant exhibitions of tennis to gain the third round of the Eastern Intercollegiate tournament at the Richmond County Country club today. He first eliminated Bernard Freedman, City College of New York, 6-0, 6-0, and then disposed of Carl M. Rohman, University of Virginia, 6-2, 6-2.

Five others, E. Ramey Donovan, Fordham; Ralph Minnich, Princeton; George Stevens and Edward Mansfield, Yale, and Donald Morrison, Virginia, drew first round byes and wound up the first day in the fourth round.

The only upset was contributed by Morrison, an unseeded player. He defeated the No. 5 seeded player, Robert G. Husted, Dartmouth, 6-2, 7-5, and then went on to win from James Eder, Massachusetts Tech, 6-1, 6-1.

Let's All Call Northern Pike Northern Pike

BY BOB BECKER.

Is it time for the bureau of fisheries or some other recognized national authority to get busy and straighten out the confusion that exists among fishermen in this country over the scores of names given to game fish? Down east this question is being accorded some discussion because a New York fisherman authority says it's high time somebody launched a movement to standardize the names of game fish, so northern pike don't become pickerel when a state line is crossed.

There isn't any doubt that the many local names applied to American game fish cause considerable confusion. When a Missouri fisherman invites you down to do some fishing for jack salmon you are a little bit disgusted to find out that he hasn't any new species in mind. It's just the good old wall-eyed pike he calls jack salmon. And the same mixup may happen in dozens of states, and also in Canada.

A Canadian guide may tell you about the great pickerel fishing he can show you, and you have visions of big catches weighing 20 pounds. As a matter of fact, a pickerel in some parts of Canada again is the wall-eyed pike or pike perch. So it goes.

Scientific authorities do not even agree on the Latin spelling of the names of game fish. For example, when one writes about a muskie he finds one great authority putting it down as Esox Masquinongy—another writes it Lucius masquinongy.

Alfred Weed, the well known authority of the Field Museum, who spent a long time studying pike, has, after going into the question of names very thoroughly, decided that our middle western muskie should be known as Esox immaculatus, and the St. Lawrence form as Esox masquinongy. We have followed this scientific characterization for a number of years.

More than seven years ago this department began to stress the fact that all fishermen must keep their ears open to figure out just what species of fish a fellow angler may be discussing, because there are so many different names for each fish. For example, there are more than 35 names for pickerel, or northern pike.

Helen Moody Goes to Wimbledon as Tennis Reporter

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—With a portable typewriter in her luggage instead of the customary two dozen racquets, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody arrived in New York from San Francisco today preparatory to sailing at midnight as a correspondent covering the play at Wimbledon for British and American syndicates.

But next year and the year following Mrs. Moody will be back in the lists in quest of the world supremacy which she surrendered at Forest Hills last August, when, suffering from an injury to her back, she defaulted to Miss Helen Jacobs in the third set of the championship match.

Just as soon as Mrs. Moody feels that her back injury has mended sufficiently to permit of the resumption of play without jeopardizing her health she will take up her racquets again. She has no thought of laying them down permanently.

"I intend to play in small, local tournaments, where my father [Dr. Clarence A. Wills] can be near to watch my condition, and gradually work up to the big events in 1935," she said. "There is still a little stiffness in my back, but it is disappearing gradually, and if I do not overdo it and am patient I am sure I will be all right for next year."

Nine Groups Admitted to A. A. U. Ranks

Nine organizations were admitted to membership to the Central Amateur Athletic union last night at the regular quarterly meeting of the board of governors of the central district A.A.U. at the Morrison hotel.

Clubs admitted were Midland A. C. and Stoney's A. C., Milwaukee, Wis.; Beaver A. C., Beaver Dam, Wis.; Chicago Amateur Hocky association, Northwest Lions A. C., Spencer Coal Girls' club, Lifschultz Fast Freight club, Polish Youth organization, and the Swift A. C., all of Chicago.

George Donoghue, president of the Central A. A. U., presided at the meeting, at which plans for a more uniform and comprehensive basketball season were discussed.

Avery Brundage, national A. A. U. president, reported on work being done by the United States Olympic committee. He said a new method of selecting the team may be instituted, in that tryouts for all sports will be held at one time in one place.

GEHRIG PLAYS IN 1,404TH STRAIGHT GAME FOR YANKS

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Lou Gehrig, "Iron Man" first baseman of the New York Yankees, played his 1,404th consecutive game today despite the handicap of a chipped bone in the big toe of his right foot.

Gehrig suffered the injury when he was struck by a foul ball in Sunday's game, but it failed to slow him up much today. Lou handled 13 chances at first base, and contributed his 17th homer and a single to the Yankee attack.

Bathers Wear as Much as Baer; so Judge Clears 'em

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—In the eyes of Magistrate William O'Dwyer a man is decently covered as long as he wears as much clothing on a bathing beach as Max Baer wears in the ring.

Shocked policemen, industriously protecting the morals of 600,000 people at Coney Island, took 21 men before Magistrate O'Dwyer today on charges of indecent exposure because the bathers lowered the tops of their bathing suits to take sun baths.

Dismissing the charges, the magistrate said:

"Sixty thousand people paid admission to see the Baer-Carnera fight and the principals were togged in much the same fashion as you bathers. That was not indecent and in my opinion your acts were not indecent.

"I am not finding fault with the police, however. I am not trying to discourage the police. I am one magistrate who believes that it is all right to bathe shirtless. But you want to watch your step. Some judges don't agree with me."

HADDOCK FACES HART TONIGHT AT WHITE CITY

Frankie Hart, a native of Holland, and Dale Haddock of Alabama will meet in the 90 minute windup of Mique Malloy's wrestling show at White City arena, 63d street and South Park avenue tonight.

Karl Von Lehman will wrestle Toots Estes of Dallas, Tex., in a 30 minute bout. Jack McAdams of Georgia faces Phil Grueber of the Postl Health club and Ed Van Herrick and Bobby Burke of Boston meet in a 30 minute match Lou Talaber of the north side and Jack Zaravich of Serbia meet in a 30 minute bout.

COAST ALUMNI TO GREET BIG 10 TRACK ATHLETES

Los Angeles, Cal., June 18.—[Special.]—Southern California alumni from the ten western conference universities will be hosts Thursday noon to all athletes from the Big Ten gathered in Los Angeles for the National Collegiate A. A. meet Friday and Saturday.

Forty Big Ten varsity stars will compete in the two day meet, with Indiana having apparently the strongest aggregation to oppose Louisiana State, last year's national collegiate champion, and Stanford and Southern California, which are team favorites. Kansas, with seven athletes entered, is another of the stronger teams.

Indiana Boys See Track.

Two stars of Indiana's six-man squad, Charley Hornbostel and Ivan Fuqua, flew here in 23 hours from Philadelphia, and were out looking over the track at Olympic stadium this afternoon. With them were four other Hoosiers, besides Jack Fleming, George Farley and Oliver Duggins, Northwestern, and six University of Illinois entrants, including co-Captains Albert Kamm and Dave Cook.

Notre Dame's team and Ralph Metcalfe, Negro star from Marquette, who rates favorite in the sprints, are due tomorrow, as are the Wisconsin and Iowa boys.

Torrance Checks In.

Louisiana State, with Jack Torrance, a giant who throws the shot more than 55 feet, and Glenn Hardin, quarter miler, came in today with ten men. Nelson Metcalf of the University of Chicago; A. A. Stagg and Willis Hunter of the University of Southern California comprise the meet committee.

C. R. Jamison of Purdue is president of the Big Ten club. Those Big Ten schools which will not compete in the meet will be represented in the cheering, as the Big Ten alumni agreed to learn all school yells for the occasion.

WHEN IS A GOOD 5¢ CIGAR not a good 5c value?

Bayuk's Guarantee

In 1929—a peak sales year—the Bayuk Philadelphia Perfecto (Familiarly known as "Philadelphia Hand-made") was the largest-selling 10-cent brand in America.

Bayuk guarantees that this cigar today—at 5 cents—contains the same fine Imported Sumatra wrapper—the same fine ripe Domestic and Havana long-filler. It's the same identical cigar.

The answer is . . . when you can get a former outstanding 10c value for 5 cents. And that's exactly what Bayuk "Phillies" now offers smokers in Chicago.

When "Phillies" was reduced in price to 5c—we did NOT reduce its quality or size. The "Phillies" you buy today for 5c is the same identical cigar that outsold every other 10c brand for years. Bayuk guarantees it.

This greater value for 5c is why more millions of men are smoking "Phillies" than any other cigar in America. Ask your own dealer what he thinks of "Phillies". He knows tobacco—and he knows good cigars.

When you first try "Phillies" —don't compare it to any other cigar selling for 5c. Compare it to the best cigar you've ever smoked—regardless of price.

If you don't see a box of "Phillies" on your dealer's counter ask for it . . . and insist on getting this former outstanding 10c value for 5c.

CUBS PROMISE REFORM TODAY AGAINST BRAVES

Malone Is Named to Pitch Against Brandt.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

After a day of rest the Cubs will return to their work shop this afternoon to prove they have turned over a new leaf. They had better, because after the Boston Braves depart this evening the champion Giants will drop in for a four day visit, and the competition is going to be pretty tough. The Giants, to all appearances, are headed toward a pennant, thus fooling a lot of the experts who figured the heading would be done by the Cubs.

For what may appear to some to be an unknown reason the Cubs, at least for the time being, have lost the knack of being invincible on their own Wrigley field. They have dropped six of ten games since opening their present home stay. The reason for this is neither unknown nor strange. The team simply isn't clicking because of bad pitching, and unless there is a marked improvement in the near future the Grimm boys will find their heels on the brink of the second division.

Can't Hit Good Pitchers.

There's another thing about the team that can be pointed out for those who might want to put all the blame on the pitching staf. Despite all the fancy stuff written about the Cubs' power house attack the records show that they don't beat the good pitchers. They hammer the second raters, but when one of the good men steps up in front of them their power house attack fades down to a spark from a cap pistol. This defect has been noticeable all season and has resulted in more than a few trimmings where the Cub pitchers have turned out low score performances.

Some of the blame for the light attack can be placed on Chuck Klein's doorstep. The big Hoosier has been of considerable value with his homers, but his hitting as a whole in the ten games played at home since June 8 has been negligent. His totals over this stretch are 9 hits in 41 times at bat for an average of .219. Three of the nine hits were homers. In the same ten games Babe Herman has produced 16 hits in 41 times at bat for a mark of .390.

Brandt Opposes Malone.

For this afternoon's performance the Cubs will tempt the Braves with the pitching of Pat Malone and for an opponent Pat will have the kind of a thrower his teammates don't favor—Ed Brandt, a southpaw. Brandt is one of the two pitchers equal to the task of slipping the Cubs a shutout this season. He did it on two hits when the Braves were visiting here early in May.

So far the acquisition of Don Hurst from the Phillies hasn't worked any miracles in the attacking power of the team, but in the event the big boy doesn't do things in a big way he will lose his first base job to Manager Grimm. The latter is gradually recovering from sciatic nerve trouble and expects to be ready to go to work in a few more days if necessary.

Guy Bush, who was out for two weeks because of a torn side muscle, slipped into a uniform Sunday despite the doctor's orders that he refrain from exercise until today.

HEINIE MANUSH HAS FIRST PLACE IN BIG 6 STANDING

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Heinie Manush, Washington outfielder, has the leadership of baseball's Big Six all to himself today. Although the Senators were idle yesterday, Manush's .403 average remained three points above that of his closest pursuer, Charley Gehringer of the Detroit Tigers.

Gehringer, at the start of yesterday's game with the Yankees, was only a fraction of a point behind Manush. The Tiger made only one hit in four times at bat, however, and his average slipped to .400.

14 Year Old Boy Dies After Injury in Game

Omaha, Neb., June 18.—(AP)—Alex Mruz, 14, of Omaha, was fatally injured today when struck under the heart by a foul ball during a corner-lot ball game. Mruz staggered away from his catcher's position and collapsed. He died a short time after being taken home by a passing motorist. Physicians said muscular contraction following the blow caused death.

Jones to Pitch Athletic Final for Sox Today

Philadelphia, Pa., June 18.—[Special.]—Sam Jones will try to win the series' final for the White Sox tomorrow. Sam, despite his 42 summers, has the best record of any Chicago pitcher, having achieved six victories against three defeats. He has met the Athletics once this season, at Chicago. He won, though he was unable to finish. Joe Cascarella is Philadelphia's most likely choice.

President Comiskey ducked today's double header and took Mrs. Comiskey and daughter Dorothy to Atlantic City. Mrs. Comiskey joined the party Sunday night.

Dutch Fehring, Purdue's rookie catcher, works out daily in the bull pen under Muddy Ruel's watchful eye. If he can learn to catch like Ruel he'll be all right.

Shibe park is the only major league ball park where the peekers across the street have to pay. The thrifty landlords across the street from the right field fence have erected bleachers on the roofs and charge two bits a seat. But even their patronage is slim this season.

RULES OF CONTEST—Pick the nine players who you think will be in the starting lineup for the American league when the inter-league game is played in New York July 10. Then do the same for the National league. Send your selections, accompanied by a 300 word letter explaining the reasons for your choices, to the All Star Game Editor, Chicago Tribune. The winner will receive $250 in cash. Players must not be switched from their regular positions. The two major league baseball writers and the sports editor of The Tribune will decide the winner. Points considered will be accuracy of the selections, neatness and soundness of reasons. In case of a tie a duplicate award will be given. Entries close July 4.

White Sox Win Double Header from Athletics

ble, which scored three runs. Uhalt beat out a slow bounder to McNair. Coleman tried to make a shoestring catch of Haas' drive to right and it went past him for a triple, scoring Tietje and Uhalt. Bonura and Simmons walked and Mahaffey relieved Benton. Boken flied out.

Dykes Fools the Boys.

Dykes reached base on a peculiar play to start the third. He swung at a wild pitch and reached first before Beary could recover the ball. Mahaffey was charged with an error and was not credited with a strikeout. Chamberlin hit into a fast double play and McNair made a great play on Madjeski's grounder back of second to end the inning.

Boken's fumble on Cramer's grounder and Warstler's single put the first two men on with none out in the Athletics' third, but Tietje made Johnson foul out, got Foxx on a hopper to the mound, and retired McNair on an infield grounder.

Boken and Dykes singled in the fifth with one out, but Chamberlin fanned and Madjeski popped out.

Rain Stops Game.

A steady drizzle had been falling from the second inning on, and Connie Mack apparently thought the umpires might call the game after the fifth. He sent Bing Mille into bat for Mahaffey, but Bing fanned. Cramer then walked, and Tietje made Warstler and Johnson fly out.

Uhalt gave a fine demonstration of speed when he beat out a bunt to Kline in the sixth, stole second as Haas struck out, and went to third when Catcher Hayes' throw got past McNair. But Bonura's liner to center left him stranded.

Tietje fanned Foxx to start the sixth. Then the drizzle, which had developed into a heavy rain by this time, made it difficult for him to control the ball. McNair singled off Dykes' glove and Finney doubled off the left field wall. McNair scored on a wild pitch and Higgins singled to score Finney. Hayes walked, but as Kline came to bat Umpire Summers called time.

A. A. U. TO SEEK EARLY APPROVAL OF 4 NEW MARKS

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—A special effort will be made by the Amateur Athletic union to have four world's records made by Americans this year approved by the International Amateur Athletic federation at its biennial congress at Stockholm in August. In the ordinary course of events, these new marks would not come up for recognition until after the next Olympic games.

It was revealed today by Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the A. A. U., that Avery Brundage in his capacity as chairman of the record committee of the I. A. A. F., would offer as new marks Glenn Cunningham's mile of 4:06.7; Ben Eastman's half mile of 1:49.8; Jack Torrance's shotput of 55 feet, 1½ inches and Walter Marty's high jump of 6 feet, 9⅛ inches.

TIGERS FIGHT OFF YANKEES' RALLY; TRIUMPH, 6 TO 5

Detroit Scores Twice in Ninth to Win.

New York, June 18.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers defeated the New York Yankees, 6 to 5, today to draw up within three percentage points of the league leading New York team. A double by Pete Fox in the ninth, scoring Mickey Cochrane and Joyner White, accounted for the Tiger victory.

The Tigers fought off a ninth inning rally, stopping Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, Yankee siege guns, when two were on base. Ruth batted for Rolfe with one out and fanned. Gehrig then hit a slow roller to Gehringer for the third out. Earlier in the game Gehrig drove out his 17th home run. Crosetti also hit a homer, his coming with two on in the third inning.

RED SOX WHIP BROWNS TWICE.

Boston, Mass., June 18.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox won two games from the St. Louis Browns today, taking the first, 6 to 5, and winning the second, 14 to 9.

In the first game Boston counted four runs in the fourth inning and two more in the seventh to take a 6 to 1 lead, but St. Louis rallied to score four runs in the last two innings. In the ninth, Manager Hornsby cracked out a pinch double, accounting for two Brown runs. Dick Porter, Red Sox left fielder, had a field day in the second game, with three singles and a triple in four times at bat. He drove in three runs and scored four.

SALE WILL NET THIRD ON BONDS OF AMBASSADOR

Southwest Side Block Sold for $146,500.

BY AL CHASE.

Bondholders in the Ambassador business block and theater at Archer avenue and 35th street, will receive approximately 33 cents on the dollar in cash for their bonds, according to Walter C. Senne of the law firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green & Martin, who represented the Garard Trust company bondholders' protective committee.

The property was purchased yesterday by Mid-Town, Inc., from the first mortgage bondholders, the majority of which bonds was owned by the Modern Woodmen of America.

Purchase Price $146,500.

The purchase price was $146,500, of which $51,500 was paid in cash. The balance of $95,000, in the form of a purchase money mortgage due in eleven years at 4 per cent interest, was taken back by the Modern Woodmen of America.

The Midwest theater, a 1,700 seat cinema, is operated by the Schoenstedt family, which manages several other Chicago playhouses. The Schoenstedts also control the purchasing corporation, Mid-Town, Inc. In addition to the movie, the Ambassador business block contains eleven stores and 24 two room apartments.

A. Paul Peterson was broker for all parties in the sale.

HOLC Boosts Loans Here.

The Home Owners' Loan corporation paid out 1,237 loans in Chicago alone during the first half of June, the midmonth report of the HOLC issued yesterday discloses. This is a major part of the 1,563 loans made throughout the state. The figure is almost the equivalent of the total for all of May, a record month for the Illinois HOLC.

Total credits outstanding at the Federal Home Loan bank of Chicago were $11,353,396 as of June 11, it was reported at the meeting yesterday of the reserve credit institution's executive committee. This is the largest total of loans outstanding registered in the bank's seventeen months of operation. Of this amount $4,977,255 is in ten year advances to member building and loan associations in Illinois and Wisconsin.

U. S. DICTATOR PREDICTED BY ROGER BABSON

Cleveland, O., June 18.—[Special.]—Roger Babson, economist, believes the United States will have a dictator shortly, according to an opinion expressed in a paper he sent to the National Association of Purchasing Agents, convening here.

The paper was not read to the convention, however. Without the formality of group action, officials decided "the Babson report will not be read."

"The United States will soon find itself operating under a dictatorship," read Mr. Babson's paper. "This means that we are headed for some American form of fascism.

"The first work of a dictator would be to move the population out of overmanned industries into undermanned industries. This will be brought about not by Republicans, Democrats, or Socialists, but by foreign competition. It will be absolutely impossible for our country with capital or labor fighting one another, with our curtailing our production and destruction of crops, and with our lack of economic planning in industry, to compete with foreign industrialists operating under a dictatorship.

"We are destined to lose almost all our foreign trade. I believe the great middle class of people are ultimately going to demand a dictatorship. Of course, only a fascistic régime could bring it about."

P. W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, told the purchasing agents that NRA had accomplished some good, but had fallen short of its purpose. Reduction of all industry and all private investment to a condition of "state serfdom" if the government continues trying to "borrow itself out of debt" was predicted by the Akron rubber official.

Oldest Trust Company Joins Reserve System

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 18.—The City Bank Farmers Trust company, America's oldest trust company, has been admitted to membership in the federal reserve system, it was announced today by James H. Perkins, president. It was chartered on Feb. 28, 1822, by the state of New York as the Farmers' Fire Insurance and Loan company, and in 1836 became the Farmers Loan and Trust company. In its last published statement, as of March 31, the company showed total assets of $63,966,562, and deposits of $41,733,149.

LARD AND CURED PRODUCTS RISE ON STRENGTH IN HOGS

Advance in hogs to the highest level since last October stimulated buying of cured produce. Profit taking developed on the advance, but the close was at net gains of 5 to 17½ cents on lard and 17½ cents on bellies. There was some buying of lard credited to packers. Distributing demand for cash lard was reported as slow, but meats were taken freely. Cash lard was 20 cents higher at $6.75, while loose and leaf were steady at $6.25. Billers advanced 12½ cents to $9.50. Prices:

BIG BUILDINGS INVOKE NEW ACT TO REORGANIZE

Stevens Hotel, Others Use Bankruptcy Law.

Reorganization of three large downtown buildings under the amended bankruptcy law, which requires only a two-thirds consent of creditors, was asked in pleas filed in the United States District court here yesterday. The buildings are the Stevens hotel, the 333 North Michigan Avenue building, and the Chicago Trust building at the southeast corner of Clark and Monroe streets.

The Stevens petition, filed on behalf of three creditors by the law firm of White & Hawxhurst, says that as of April 30, 1934, assets totaled $27,697,500, of which land accounted to $6,275,000 and building $17,000,000. Liabilities, excluding $7,000,000 in capital stock, amounted to $27,112,183 of which $21,000,000 was represented by funded debt.

Hotel Cannot Meet Debts.

The petition asserted the owner corporation—Stevens Hotel company—is unable to meet its debts and asks a reorganization under section 77 B of the amended bankruptcy act.

Liabilities of the 333 North Michigan Avenue Building corporation are listed in a petition filed by Melville, Samuels and Pretzel, at $8,379,611, of which defaulted bonds total $6,037,500 and the balance consists of unpaid taxes, interest, etc. Assets are shown at $8,081,651 of which $5,543,459 is accounted for by the building. The petition says that the property was foreclosed Jan. 1, 1932, and that an equity receiver was appointed to operate the building June 7, last.

Loop Building Files Plea.

In a plea filed by Joseph A. Struett asking reorganization of the Chicago Trust building liabilities of the owner concern—the CTC Safe Deposit company—are placed at $1,200,000, consisting principally of bonds outstanding on the structure. Assets, of which the building is the principal item, approximately equals liabilities.

George E. Q. Johnson, former United States district attorney, filed a petion under the same amended act, asking reorganization of the Lexington Apartment Building corporation of Maywood. Assets are listed at $100,000 and liabilities at $95,000.

PRESIDENT ASKS AD MEN TO AID RECOVERY PLAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 18.—President Roosevelt, in a message to the thirtieth annual convention of the Advertising Federation of America, which was read at the Hotel Pennsylvania today, appealed for the second successive year to the advertising profession to aid in the recovery program.

Last year he stressed the value of their coöperation for "the restoration of improved levels and the flow of trade." Today he urged them to help by educating the public on the aims and purposes of the recovery program.

Are Best Educators.

In this connection the President said, "There are few groups which can accept and fulfill the responsibility of properly educating the public as well as the advertising fraternity. You have rendered conspicuous service thus far in presenting sound interpretations of the purposes and objectives of the recovery program."

The message was read by Edgar Kobak, president of the federation and vice president of the National Broadcasting company, to whom it was addressed.

In his keynote address which followed, Mr. Kobak assailed critics of advertising, including some agencies of the government, and said the attacks of some of the most vocal critics really were directed "against our social system and advertising gets the brunt of it because it happens to be one of the most obvious symbols of modern American business."

Truck Concerns Must List Vehicles Under NRA Code

Washington, D. C., June 18.—(AP)—An order by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, National Recovery administrator, today gave members of the trucking industry until June 28 to register their vehicles, until July 13 to display registration insignia, and until July 28 to elect national, regional, and state code authorities.

FEDERAL LAND BANKS' LARGE CASH LOAN IS QUICKLY SUBSCRIBED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 18.—Cash subscription books on the first consolidated issue ever offered by the federal land banks were closed shortly after the sale started today.

The $131,400,000 issue of 4s, due July 1, 1946, was offered at 100¾ and interest, to yield over 3.90 per cent. It was quoted this afternoon at a premium of a half point or more above the offering price.

Hint of a similar issue later this year was contained in the following paragraph of the offering circular:

"Since the outstanding federal land bank bonds are callable on interest date only, and since all of such bonds outstanding bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum have interest payable dates of May 1 and Nov. 1, call of any outstanding 5 per cent bonds cannot be made prior to Nov. 1, 1934."

Exchange subscription books on the consolidated 4s will remain open until 3 p. m. eastern standard time tomorrow.

The new 4 per cent bonds were traded over the counter at prices around 101⅛ to 101⅞ compared with 100¾ at which the issue was offered for cash, subject to preferential allotment on subscriptions in which old 4¾ per cent bonds were tendered in exchange. The old bonds carrying such preferential right were quoted at prices in excess of 101 also.

Issued jointly by the twelve federal land banks, the bonds will provide funds to retire the 4¾ per cent bonds of the banks which have been called for redemption July 1, to save interest of $985,000 yearly.

SELLING PRESSURE EASES PRICES OF COTTON FUTURES

Selling of July cotton by longs who were dropping their holdings previous to June 26, the first delivery day, combined with persistent selling by Liverpool resulted in an easier market. Support came mainly from oriental interests and the trade. Little attention was paid to the heavy rains in the Mississippi valley and parts of Alabama.

At the close futures in Chicago were 3 points lower to 4 points higher, with other markets 1 higher to 3 lower. Spot cotton was steady, with New York and Houston 12.10 cents, New Orleans 12.15 cents, and Galveston 12.05 cents. Prices:

O. K. DEAL TO END UTILITY CONTROL OF PEABODY COAL

Stockholders Favor Plan for New Contracts.

Authority to negotiate revision of contracts with Chicago utility companies, which will result in control of the coal firm reverting to the Peabody Coal company, was given directors of the coal company yesterday by stockholders at their annual meeting.

The deal will completely divorce the utilities from the coal business and marks the end of another Insull-conceived scheme. It involves the Commonwealth Edison company, Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, Middle West Utilities company, and the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois. Acceptance of the amendments has been assured by the utility concerns.

The contracts were entered into in May, 1928, and provided that Peabody Coal should supply 90 per cent of the coal requirements of Edison, a substantial part of the needs of Peoples Gas and the requirements of other Insull firms.

Middle West Ends Contract.

Middle West also had a contract, but this was abrogated by the receivers later. The agreement provided for payment of coal at cost plus an allowance of 15 cents a ton profit. In 1931 this was amended to a basis of 8 per cent allowance on the company's investment.

It is proposed to return to the 15 cent profit basis and the utilities affected are required to take only 75 per cent of their requirements from Peabody Coal. In return, the electric and gas companies will surrender to Peabody Coal 991,499 shares of class B stock. A coal property in Kentucky originally owned by the gas company will be reconveyed to it, for which transfer Peabody Coal receives $97,500 in cash, 195,881 B common shares, 8,450 preferred shares, and 27,290 A common shares.

Plan Up to Commssion.

Approval of stockholders was limited to granting authority to directors to carry through the scheme. As the Illinois commerce commission must pass on the plan, formal approval of stockholders was withheld until the commission gives its decision.

The meeting was adjourned to July 16, when stockholders will be asked to reduce the A common from 200,000 to 5,000 shares, boost its par value from $25 to $1,000, and eliminate the cumulative dividend provision of the issue.

James C. Hutchings, E. B. Kribben, and F. E. Pierce were elected directors to fill vacancies caused by the resignation of Samuel Insull Jr., and the expiration of the terms of Mary S. Peabody and W. A. Fisher. Other directors and officers were reëlected. Stock represented at the meeting totald 2,117,936 shares of a total outstanding of 2,203,000, all of which was voted for the plan.

PERSONAL LOANS BILL PASSED, SENT TO ROOSEVELT

Washington, D. C., June 18.—(AP)—An attempt to strike at usurious practices in the making of small personal loans was embodied in a bill that went to President Roosevelt today for signature. The measure would authorize the establishment of coöperative credit unions under national charters to make either "character" or secured loans to individuals.

Funds would be obtained through sale of capital stock and by borrowing up to 50 per cent of capital and surplus. Eligible obligations could be rediscounted at the federal intermediate credit banks, however, to the entire amount of paid in, unimpaired capital. [No loan might exceed $200 or 10 per cent of the capital and surplus, whichever was larger, and loans without endorsement or collateral would be limited to $50.

The credit unions would be similar to those operating in many places under state charters, and would be under the supervision of the governor of the farm credit administration, who would be authorized to employ $50,000 of the administration's funds. Each union would contribute a fee to the farm credit administration, calculated to take care of all expenses after the organization period.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP)—Raw sugar was firm today with spot prices unchanged at 3.05c. Local refiners were interested at this level, but only in position to suit, with most holders asking 3.10c. A sale was confirmed of 12,300 bags of Puerto Rican due early in July at 3.05c and 28,700 bags for mid-July clearance at 3.10c to outport refiners, while a local refiner bought 18,000 bags of Philippines in port at 3.00c. While somewhat irregular on fears that the unsettled political conditions in Cuba may delay the formation of a new trade agreement, futures held generally steady in sympathy with the firmness of the spot market. The market closed net unchanged to 2 points points higher. Sales, 16,000 bags. No. 7 opened 13 to 19 points higher and closed 15 to 21 points higher. Sales, 4,000 bags. Prices:

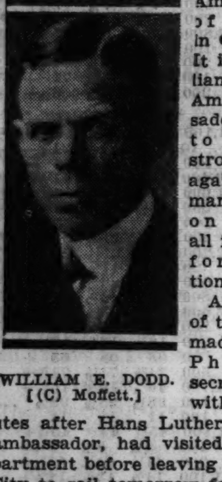
U. S. TAKES FIRM STAND AGAINST BERLIN DEFAULT

Fear Better Terms to Other Nations.

Protest Presented

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, June 18.—United States Ambassador Dodd presented at the German foreign office late this afternoon his government's protest against the moratorium on German debt payments and against the threat of discrimination in certain proposed German trade agreements with neighboring countries. The German public has heard little or nothing about the visits of the protesting ambassadors, as no official announcements have been issued.



WILLIAM E. DODD.
[(C) Moffett.]

Washington, D. C., June 18—(AP)—The United States today made its first move to protect American holders of $1,000,000,000 in German bonds. It instructed William E. Dodd, American ambassador in Berlin, to register a strong protest against the German moratorium on transfers on all interest on foreign obligations.

Announcement of the protest was made by William Phillips, under secretary of state, within a few minutes after Hans Luther, the German ambassador, had visited the state department before leaving for New York City to sail tomorrow for Berlin. Luther explained his Berlin visit had been planned for some time and was not because of the moratorium. He said he would make a report on the American reaction to the moratorium, as well as on other questions of importance.

Outlines American Attitude.

The State Department's announcement said:

"The Secretary of State, on June 16, instructed the American Ambassador at Berlin to protest formally and energetically to the Minister of Foreign Affairs against the recent summary independent action of Germany with respect to her external debts.

"The ambassador was instructed to state that this action of Germany seriously affects the government of the United States and its nationals and that the government of the United States takes occasion to express its strongest regret that new losses are to be imposed upon American citizens, and that debtor-creditor relationships have been further impaired.

"The ambassador was further instructed to state to the German government, in regard to the question of discrimination against American investors, that the government of the United States would view with disapproval developments under which its investors receive poorer treatment than investors of other countries.

Discrimination Is Protested.

"The government of the United States would be called upon to protest any such discrimination. The spectacle of having not only to accept losses but to perceive payments to investors of other nationalities at their expense would arouse a sense of mistreatment among the numerous American investors."

Other than making the announcement, Phillips gave no hint of any direct action the United States might take to protect American investors in medium and long-term and Dawes and Young plan loans.

No serious consideration has yet been given, it was learned, to establishment of a clearing house which would impound German finds in this country with which to make payments to American bondholders. France and England have, according to press dispatches, considered such retaliatory action. The American favorable balance of trade, it was said, would mitigate against any such action on the part of the United States.

Expression of this government's disapproval of any discrimination against Americans resulted from Germany's previous action in giving more favorable treatment to Dutch and Swiss bondholders.

Omnibus Banking Bill Is Shelved by Senate

Washington, D. C., June 18.—(AP)—The omnibus banking bill making a score of changes in the 1933 banking act was definitly shelved by the senate today. Senator Bulkley [Dem. Ohio] whose insistence on action on the measure Saturday night helped to delay adjournment, withdrew his motion today for consideration, saying he wanted to assist in hastening adjournment.

Member Bank Deposits Again Show Increase

The sharp increase in deposits of federal reserve member banks which has been under way for several weeks continued unabated last week. Gross deposits rose 92 million dollars, individual accounts soared 104 millions, and deposits of nonmember banks increased 37 millions.

New York and the interior accounted for all the rise in gross and individual deposits, with Chicago showing declines in both divisions. Gross gained 52 millions in New York and individual rose 59 millions. Chicago had respective declines of 10 and 13 millions, while other points reported increases of 50 and 58 millions.

The "due to" account increased 21 millions in the eastern center, 6 millions here, and 10 millions elsewhere.

Federal Funds Withdrawn.

The administration's policy of drawing down its deposits with banks, temporarily halted a week ago, was resumed. The war loan account declined 49 millions, dropping 28 millions in New York, 18 millions in the interior, and 3 millions here.

Total loans and investments declined 27 millions, the result of a 37 million loss here. New York reported a gain of 3 million, and the interior one of 7. Demand for security loans was practically negligible, a rise of a million in New York being more than offset by a 2 million loss in the interior. There was no change in Chicago's position.

New York increased its commercial loans 2 million dollars, but Chicago contracted its business advances 9 millions, a net loss of 7. This figure was unchanged elsewhere.

Government Holdings Drop.

Holdings of government securities dropped 33 millions, accounted for by a loss of 11 millions in the interior, one of 33 millions here, and a gain of 11 millions in New York. Other securities advanced 14 millions through gains of 20 and 5 millions, respectively, in the interior and Chicago, and a recession of 11 millions in the east.

TALKING PICTURE FIRMS SUE A. T. & T. UNDER TRUST LAW

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Seven companies today filed suits for sums aggregating $22,000,000 against the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the Western Electric company, and Electrical Research Products, Inc., claiming unfair competition in the motion picture field of recording, producing, replacement and servicing of talking motion picture equipment.

The plaintifs and the amounts sued for were the Standard Sound Reporting corporation, $9,000,000; Service on Sound corporation, $4,000,000; Macy Manufacturing corporation, $3,000,000; Granger Manufacturing company, $1,500,000; Audio Equipment Maintenance, $1,500,000; Sound Picture Engineers, $1,500,000, and Standard Sound Service, $1,500,000.

The companies charge violations of the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust act.

TOBACCO AND CIGARET INDUSTRY HAS UPTURN IN SALES AND PROFITS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 18.—Tobacco and cigaret manufacturers are enjoying distinct improvement in sales and earnings, latest reports from the industry indicate.

Maintenance of present business volume by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company, it is felt in the industry, will result in earnings for the year approximating the annual dividend requirement of $3 a share on the 10 million shares of combined common and common B stocks outstanding.

Earnings last year were equivalent to $2.11 a share, including $5,003,597 nonrecurring income, representing profit on sale of stock and $4,000,000 unexpended advertising appropriation carried over from 1932, which was expended last year. After due consideration is given to these two items actual earnings last year from 1933 operations were equivalent to only $1.21 a share.

Axton Fisher Tobacco company is having one of the most profitable first six months in its history, according to dispatches from Louisville. First quarter earnings were at a record for the period, and in April, May, and so far in June sales and earnings are well ahead of the comparable period in 1933 and slightly ahead of the first quarter.

Though Axton Fisher reports annually, it has been stated officially that the first quarter's record earnings exceeded the full year's dividend requirements of about $430,000 on the three classes of stock.

DOLLAR WEAKER AGAINST FRANC, GAINS ON POUND

New York, June 18.—(AP)—Foreign gold currencies moved slightly higher against the dollar today, while the pound sterling and the German mark lost a little ground.

French francs, with a gain of .00⅝ of a cent, led other gold currencies to small advances. The franc closed at 6.60⅞ cents, at which price the dollar was valued at a premium of 0.37 of a cent over par, compared with 0.43 of a cent on Saturday and 0.28 a month ago.

The pound declined ¼ of a cent to $5.05. Canadian dollars rose to a new high for the year in New York at a premium of 1⅝ cents over par. German marks slipped to 38.17 cents.

Today's gold statement of the New York Federal Reserve bank showed imports of $375,400 from England. There were no exports and no change in the gold stocks held under earmark for foreign account.

GOODRICH SHIP RESALE MAY BE DELAYED TO FALL

Milwaukee, Wis., June 18.—[Special.]—The resale of the three Goodrich company steamers ordered after the federal court here refused to confirm the terms of a recent sale at Manitowoc probably will not be held until the close of the shipping season, Federal Marshal A. J. Lukaszewski said tonight. The sale has been deferred under an agreement between the company and the creditors, he said.

The ships, Alabama, Carolina and Christopher Columbus, were sold at Manitowoc under a court order. The Alabama had been chartered for the season and about $20,000 spent in the ship's improvement, the marshal said. The ship is now ready for service and en route to Chicago.

Place Steel Output Here at 70 Per Cent

It is expected that steel operations in the Chicago area this week will exceed the 70 per cent rate that has prevailed for several weeks, according to a statement issued by Dow, Jones & Co.

The current rate is the highest attained this year, and compares with an approximate rate of 50 per cent of capacity a year ago. The present high rate is attributed to the rush of producers to make deliveries on expired contracts.

Inland Steel Leads Output.

The Inland Steel company still leads the district with an ingot production rate in excess of 80 per cent. The company is now operating 23 of its 27 open harth furnaces and three of its four blast furnaces. It is expected that this rate will continue until the end of the month.

Two open harths are to be added to the 18 now operating at the South Chicago works of the Illinois Steel company, subsidiary of United States Steel corporation. At present five of the 11 blast furnaces are active. Ingot production at the plant is rated at 65 per cent of capacity. Last week's shipments amounted to 28,000 tons, and it is expected there will be an increase to 35,000 tons for this week.

Wisconsin Steel Expands.

The Wisconsin Steel company, subsidiary of the International Harvester company, is reported to have five open hearth furnaces and one blast furnace active. Shipments for this week are expected to reach 7,000 tons, compared with 5,000 tons for the last four weeks.

The American Iron and Steel Institute estimates the country's production for the current week at 56.1 per cent of capacity. A decline of eight-tenths of a point from the 56.9 per cent at which the mills operated last week. A month ago operations were at the rate of 54.2 per cent of capacity.

TREASURY BILLS ARE BOUGHT AT NEW LOW YIELD

Yield rates on 182 day bills of the United States dropped to a new low yesterday on the sale of $75,226,000 in treasury notes. The average price was 99.963 and the average rate .07 per cent annually on a bank discount basis.

Bids aggregated $234,994,000. Accepted bids ranged from 99.976 equivalent to an annual rate of .05 per cent, to 99.956, or .09 per cent. Only part of the amount bid at the latter figure was accepted.

CORN ADVANCES AS DAMAGE BY INSECTS GROWS

Price Up Over Cent; Wheat Firmer.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Corn moved to the front in the grain markets yesterday by scoring an advance of 1 1-8 to 1½ cents a bushel on news that the chinch bugs are transfering their operations to the corn fields in increasing numbers and have already worked some damage. The price movements in corn eclipsed those in the other grains, all of which closed at slightly higher prices on a limited volume of trading. Wheat was selling ½ to ⅝ cent above last week's final price when trading ended.

Reports from several quarters yesterday indicated that the corn crop is in real danger from the chinch bug. This applies particularly in Illinois. Up to yesterday the reports on the corn crop had been fairly encouraging. From Iowa and from points throughout Illinois the color and stand of the grain was reported to be good.

Crop Expert Reports Damage.

B. W. Snow, veteran Chicago crop statistician, was one of those who brought back disquieting news on corn after a trip over north central Illinois. The casual observer from the roadside is deceived by the appearance of the crop, he said. The excellent stand and color of the grain obscures the fact that the early planted corn is being attacked by the chinch bugs with destructive force wherever the fields adjoin wheat, rye and barley.

"The small grains crops have dried up so suddenly and recently that the bugs are compelled to migrate earlier than usual," said Snow. "The fight against them through the construction of barriers has not made the progress that is claimed."

A similar picture of the situation in Illinois was given by E. H. Miller, another experienced observer, who reported the bugs active in Illinois corn and added that few farmers have tried to stem the advance of the insects.

Corn Rises on Reports.

It was on these reports and others that the buying in corn was presumably based. The upturn came late in the session and the important commitments were credited to a large eastern operator. The July future closed 59 to 59⅞ cents; September finished 60⅛ to 60¼ cents, and the December contract ended at 60¼ to 60⅜ cents.

Wheat did not get out of its narrow trading range. Prices averaged somewhat lower early, but turned upward toward the close. Trading was not heavy. The improvement for the day amounted to ½ to ⅝ cent with July bringing 94⅝ to 94¾ cents as the trading ended. September wheat was quoted 95⅛ to 95¼ cents and December finished at 96¼ cents.

Heavy rains in Kansas are expected to slow up the movement of grain to some extent. The scattered rains over the week-end were looked on as encouraging, but by no means a cure for the damage already done.

The public maintains its indifference to the wheat market to disappointment of the trade. With professional traders playing close to their vests the market stays rather dull.

Unfavorable reports on the European wheat crop hold the attention of the trade without producing any startling results. A crop of 1,400 million bushels is indicated by the estimates. This compares with 1,704 million last year. Evidence increases that nature is doing what an international conference on the wheat situation failed to achieve.

Oats, rye and barley were all slightly higher yesterday, with rye making the best showing by closing 1 to 1½ cents above Saturday's quotations.

Municipal Bond Prices Soar with U. S. Easy Money Policy

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Under the spell of the easy money policy fostered by the treasury and the federal reserve board municipal bonds are enjoying a boom that has forced prices to such high levels that yields are becoming insignificant.

The administration's apparent purpose in bringing about cheap money rates has been to facilitate the sale of vast quantities of government bonds. But it works equally well for municipal bonds. "Municipal" is generally used to describe bonds issued by any taxing body other than the federal government.

A sample of the present popularity of municipals is seen in the quotations on state of Maine 4¼ per cent bonds, due in 1954, selling around $128 per $100 of par value. In effect, this means that purchasers of these bonds are willing to forego about four years' interest for the privilege of buying them and laying them away. State of Illinois 4¾ per cent bonds maturing in 1939 are selling for $110.77 per $100 of par value.

Other municipal issues are selling on a comparable basis. Three and a half per cent these days is considered a good yield for securities that might have sold on a 4¼ yield basis in normal times.

Present popularity of municipals and lack of offerings of other types of bonds have caused investment houses that formerly did little business in municipals to turn to them for bread and butter money. This, in turn, has increased the competition among bidders for municipal offerings and has helped push prices further upward.

The length of time that prices of municipals will remain at inflated levels will probably depend upon the length of time that the treasury is able successfully to manipulate the money market and the prices of government bonds.

Bank Stock Tax Exempt.

The statement by Barnet Hodes, chairman of the Illinois state tax commission, that bank stock held by the Reconstruction Finance corporation is tax exempt clears up a point that banks have been anxiously waiting to have settled.

Most of them have assumed that inasmuch as the RFC is a government agency stock held by it would be tax exempt, but it was felt that the matter would not be cleared up until a state authority had given the word.

Most banks in Illinois have followed the practice of paying the tax on their stock rather than leaving the bill for the stockholders. The tax amounts to about two per cent per year on the par value of the stock.

In the case of a bank that has sold preferred stock to the Reconstruction Finance corporation without reducing the amount of its outstanding common stock there will be no change in the tax bill. Taxes will be reduced, however, for banks that have reduced their common. The Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, for example, having cut its common 50 million dollars when it sold 50 millions of preferred to the RFC will pay about a million dollars per year less taxes.

Thus, it comes about that the very act of reducing the par value of the common stock has resulted in making that stock more valuable.

Halts Sinking Fund Purchases.

News from Washington that the treasury department would withhold sinking fund purchases of nearly 80 million dollars unexpended for the fiscal year, which ends June 30, stirred much interest in financial circles.

The treasury is reported to have decided to cease buying for the sinking fund because the current prices of government bonds are too high. And yet high government bond prices have been due almost entirely to treasury buying of such bonds for other accounts. The treasury has gradually pushed up bond prices by causing bonds to be bought for the Deposit Insurance corporation, the postal savings and other funds.

The situation now, therefore, seems to be that the treasury figures its own bonds are priced too high for purchase to retire debt but not too high to purchase for investment for the Deposit Insurance corporation and postal savings.

INDUSTRY READY TO RULE ITSELF, LEADERS SAY

Would Retain Major NRA Principles.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hot Springs, Va., June 18.—Self-regulation for American industry was definitly outlined today by the Industrial Advisory board as the goal it was seeking during the second year of the National Recovery act.

JOHN J. RASKOB.

On the last day of the three-day meeting of industrial leaders here more than twenty past and present members of the advisory board expressed their belief, in a formal statement, that the American people were ready to give industry an opportunity to regulate itself, provided that the major social and economic principles of the NRA were retained by business men under a new system of self-discipline. The industrialists declared that American business was ready to devote itself to the task under these conditions.

Recommended to New Board

The statement was in the form of a recommendation to the strengthened and reorganized Industrial Advisory board, which will enter upon its duties July 1. During the first two days of the conference here the industrialists devised a new setup for the board, designed to increase its influence in the councils of the government.

George H. Mead, president of the present board, indicated today that the fundamental principles of NRA should be retained after June 16, 1935, when the present recovery act expires. Today the board amplified this view by indicating that it regarded business rather than the federal government as the logical administrator of a permanent National Recovery act.

The industrialists expressed the belief that the system of codes created under the NRA should be retained as the system through which private business should seek to perpetuate the principles of NRA. They urged, however, that the codes should be simpli-

When a man pictures to himself

the things he wants to do for his family

TIME HAS left unchanged the thinking of men for their families. That which one hopes the future may bring to his wife, his daughter, his growing son needs safeguarding today.

Is there a way to make it more certain that your thoughtfulness may continue down the years for your wife and children? Can you provide for their interests more surely in that future when their financial well-being may rest with the discretion of another?

The Northern Trust Company believes that heads of families should weigh these questions carefully. It stands ready—an unchanging, ever living trustee—to carry out your plans for your family. Out of its trust experience of more than forty-four years, this company suggests that you provide a continuing safeguard through your Will.

The Northern Trust Company invites you and your attorney to discuss the subject with its trust officers.

STOCKS UNEVEN, BUT ARE HELD IN NARROW RANGE

Traders Find Little to Affect Prices.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 18.—The stock market registered its disappointment over the failure of congress to adjourn Saturday night with a listless trading session today in which prices clung to a narrow range.

Dealings came to a halt with the main body of issues not far removed from Saturday's closing levels and with a turnover of only 605,210 shares. Values showed a firming tendency toward the close and there was some irregularity in net price changes.

No heavy pressure was brought to bear on any general section of the list. Rather, individual issues were singled out for selling for one reason or another and consequent losses in such cases were larger than the average. On the other hand, preferred stocks featured the market on the upside, a number of them scoring gains of 2 to 4 points.

Needs Speculative Interest.

Aside from the anticipated adjournment of congress there was little in the way of news to jolt the market out of its lethargy. Business developments of the last few days were of no great consequence.

For the moment the German default and the general foreign debt position remain as factors, but the problem is receiving less attention. On the whole, the market's biggest task appears to be one of attracting speculative interest.

Some of the metal stocks were firm, notably American Smelting, Howe Sound, St. Joseph Lead, Cerro De Pasco, United States Smelting, Alaska Juneau, and Porcupine.

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, and other steel stocks idled along slightly below Saturday's finals. Other leading industrial issues were mixed, with American Can, Du Pont, and General Electric features of strength. Chrysler and General Motors gained fractional recessions in light trading.

Westinghouse Air Brake again stood out on the downside as holders continued selling started Saturday on dividend reduction.

Sulphur Producer Lower.

Last week's selling was also carried over in Freeport Texas, which slipped to a new low for the year.

Despite general firmness in utilities, Consolidated Gas and Public Service of New Jersey selling at their best marks in several weeks, American Telephone was set back more than a point on the day in selling attributed to the opening of the New York public service commission investigation.

Rails indulged in trifling movements on both sides, with Union Pacific conspicuous for a net gain of more than a point.

Coppers failed to follow the lead of silver and gold shares, and chemicals seemed depressed. Cuban-American was a strong feature in an active sugar group. Oils and aviations did little.

Northern Trust Expected to Maintain $18 Rate

The Northern Trust company's regular quarterly dividend of $4.50 is expected to be maintained when members of the board of directors meet today to consider the July 1 payment, it is reported in La Salle banking circles. The Northern Trust has maintained its $18 annual rate since 1931. In 1930 the bank paid $16.50, with an extra dividend of $2.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP)—Bleachable cottonseed oil closed to day 3 to 5 points higher on moderate local buying, which seemed to be influenced by the sharp advance in hogs, the upturn in lard and firmness of grain. Sales were 21 contracts. Bleachable spot nominal; July closed 5.45c; September, 5.66c; October, 5.75c; December, 5.95c; January, 5.98c.

HINT OF FEDERAL BUYING AFFECTS BUTTER LITTLE

Intimations the government might make liberal purchases of butter for relief purposes and an advance of ¼ cent in the cash market had little effect on futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. Good rains were reported over the leading producing sections, and there was also talk of reduced consumption. November closed ¼ cent lower, while June was ⅛ cent higher. Movement into storage was below that of last year.

Egg futures closed ¼ cent lower, with the into storage movement showing a small increase as compared with a year ago.

Sales were 43 cars butter and 53 cars eggs. Prices:

HOGS BOOSTED BY U. S. BUYING; REGAIN $5 MARK

FSRC Ends Old Contracts —Cattle Also Firmer.

The government gave hog prices a boost yesterday, bringing the $5 hogs back after eight months. However, government buyers prepared to withdraw from the market, at least temporarily, and permit the trade to shift for itself. Packers representing the Federal Surplus Relief corporation terminated their government contracts by making up last week's shortage of about 2,000 hogs.

The new awards for only 1,100 daily at Chicago and 5,100 at all points were made yesterday, but the packers who hold the new contracts are instructed to hold off the market until further notice. This is taken as indicative of the government's willingness to withdraw from the market, but by making the new awards in this way the relief corporation is in position to enter the trade on almost a moment's notice.

Traders Watch Receipts.

Traders in the hog market are convinced that should the receipts continue light, or prices retain the recent sharp gains or work higher, future operations by the FSRC will be of little consequence as a market factor. At one time the government was buying at the rate of 23,000 daily.

Lightweight hogs bought for the government yesterday soared 25 to 40 cents, with other hogs up mostly 25 cents and packing sows 15 to 25 cents higher. The first $5 hogs since last October appeared on the bulge, a fairly liberal portion of the 200 to 300 pound butchers reaching this line.

Government buyers remained in the lighter weights at $4.75 and under, but took about 20 per cent of the meager supply available and forced commercial buyers into the better grades of butchers. Receipts at Chicago at 20,000 were smallest for a Monday since Jan. 1 and showed a 50 per cent decrease compared with the same day last year. The eleven leading market total dropped to 68,000, which compared with 78,000 last Monday and with 130,000 a year ago.

Average Up 25 Cents.

The general average price of hogs yesterday was elevated 25 cents to the $4.55 line, against $3.50 a week ago and $3.20 less than two weeks ago.

While top hogs are returning $5 to the farmer, they are costing the packer $7.25, including the $2.25 processing tax, which is the highest price packers have had to pay since August, 1931.

Yesterday's run of cattle at 17,000 included upward of 5,000 half starved animals bought by the government in the country and billed direct to the packers to be slaughtered and canned for the needy. These cattle in no way affect the market.

Cattle Prices Higher.

When buying by commercial interests began prices ruled strong to 25 cents higher on the bulk of the 12,000 farmer owned animals on the market. Prime 1,278 pound steers at $10.25 equaled the previous high mark of the year. Several loads of choice steers brought $10 to $10.15, with 1,067 to 1,170 pound averages at $9 to $9.60.

Most of the lighter steers and yearlings cashed within a range of $5.50 to $7, with poorer kinds down to $4 and occasionally lower.

Lambs sold readily at steady to strong prices and in places sellers managed to squeeze out 10 to 15 cents more in the best grades. Traders and city butchers paid the top of $9.25 for new crop natives, while packers bought at $9 and under. Yearling wethers, up to June 1 classed as lambs, sold at $7.

GERMANY LOSES GOLD; COVERAGE DROPS TO 2.9%

The German Reichsbank report for the week ended June 15, issued yesterday, showed a continuation of gold withdrawals. Gold stocks dropped to 94,300,000 marks from 111,100,000 on June 7 and reserve ratio receded to 2.9 per cent from 3.4 per cent reported on June 7.

BUGS MAY EAT GRAIN; PUBLIC WON'T NIBBLE

First came the drouth to bring destruction and damage to the wheat and oats crops. Then the chinch bugs came and are now transferring their attention to the corn fields. Now untimely rains are reported to be irking the wheat harvesters in the southwest.

Prices in the Chicago markets and on other exchanges fluctuate in keeping with the color of the news but come what will the public stays out of the market. A year ago on the inflation scare the public got in and wheat soared to $1.28 a bushel. Around the Board of Trade the old timers say that no matter how long the public stays out of the market it always comes back. "But when?" is the popular rejoinder.

Nat Murray yesterday wired from Keokuk, Ia. to Clement Curtis & Co. that the drenching rains have helped corn and the crop is doing well. Mr Murray looked over the crops around Beardstown, Hannibal and Keokuk.

From Texas the reports on corn are far from optimistic. Fort Worth wired yesterday that for 100 miles south the corn is "burning up" and rains must come immediately if anything is to be realized on the crop.

From Winnipeg reports indicate that rain is not bothering the grasshoppers very much. Close to Winnipeg there are some good crops but the balance of the area is characterized as disappointing.

Wherever crops are grown crop destroyers are bred. From Lisbon, Portugal, dispatches report that an invasion of locusts accompanying a heat wave has completely destroyed the wheat crop in certain sections.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL CUTS APRIL LOSS; GAIN IN 4 MONTHS

Other Lines Improve on 1933 Record.

The Illinois Central railroad yesterday reported a modest reduction in its April net loss as compared with that for April of 1933. The deficit amounted to $229,208 as against $264,105 a year ago. For the first four months of the year the loss was cut sharply, amounting to $913,067 as compared with $2,624,154 a year ago.

A number of other roads also reported improvement on their records for last year. Atlantic Coast Line had an April net loss of $15,925, compared with net income of $113,045 in April, 1933, but for four months net income was $2,122,792 compared with $428,542 a year ago.

Delaware and Hudson Gains.

The Delaware and Hudson reported a net loss of $144,878 for April as against a deficit of $635,505 in 1933. Net losses for the first four months in 1934 and 1933 were $532,044 and $2,255,098.

Florida East Coast railway showed a net income of $26,013 for April, as compared with a net loss of $77,705 for April, 1933. In the first four months net was $179,012, against a net loss of $24,207 during the corresponding period of 1933.

The Kansas City Southern lost $61,932 in April, 1933, and $121,669 in the preceding April. For four months the loss was $375,089, compared with $588,298.

Seaboard Air Line Figures.

Seaboard Air Line railway had a net loss of $417,086 for April, against loss of only $319,041 in April, 1933, but for the first four months loss was only $1,607,993, against $2,180,292 a year ago.

Southern Pacific's losses during April of 1934 and 1933 amounted to $806,726 and $1,441,373, respectively, and the four months' losses were $4,826,354 and $8,831,146.

The Wabash reported April net loss of $173,395 in 1934 and net loss of $669,316 in April, 1933. The four months' losses were $946,048 and $3,019,815.

CRITICIZES PLAN TO BOOST BANK SERVICE CHARGE

Urbana, Ill., June 18.—[Special.]—Recent proposals by banking groups throughout the country to increase service charges to customers were criticized here today by Dr. Ivan Wright, in charge of the courses in banking and finance at the University of Illinois, as the wrong method for the average bank to undertake to restore confidence and sound business practice.

At the same time Dr. Wright dusted off the long neglected word "thrift," when he suggested that some way should be offered to encourage this ancient virtue.

"The banking facilities for the average man have long since been in a deplorable condition throughout the United States," Dr. Wright asserted. "Thrift and savings are discouraged because small accounts are not wanted and service charges are discouraging the small account. It would seem better to increase the facilities for the average individual to make sure his savings are safe.

"It has always been the mass of small savings that has made large bank accounts possible. Thrift should be encouraged, debt discouraged."

Dr. Wright held that if small banks to serve the working man and small shop cannot be provided under state laws, this country needs branch banking and thrift banking and the laws should be flexible enough to provide for them.

CONGRESS VOTES BILL TO CONTROL TOBACCO OUTPUT

Washington, D. C., June 18.—(AP)—Congressional action was completed today on the tobacco production control bill with house adoption of senate amendments.

The measure, patterned after the Bankhead cotton control bill provides a penalty of from 25 to 33 1-3 per cent of the selling price on tobacco sold in excess of farm administration allotments or special quotas that the secretary of agriculture may assign in certain counties.

Producers and quota holders will be issued tax exemption warants representing their allowable poundage.

INDUSTRY READY TO RULE ITSELF, LEADERS INSIST

Would Retain Major NRA Principles.

fied, that unenforceable provisions should be scrapped, and the administrative machinery of the codes should be reduced to a minimum.

Pledge on Hours and Wages.

In outlining this plan of self-regimentation the industrialists pledged themselves to the establishment of maximum hours of work and minimum wages for labor, the prohibition of child labor, the elimination of unfair trade practices, the relief of technological unemployment and the conservation of national resources.

The statement did not mention price fixing as an essential principle of the NRA. The failure of the industrialists to mention price fixing was regarded as significant in view of criticism of this feature of some codes by the Darrow recovery review board, and in the light of the recent statement of General Johnson, NRA administrator, that no more codes which contained price fixing provisions will be approved.

Mr. Mead stated that General Johnson had requested the board to outline its ideas on the future of NRA and on the subject of self-regulation. It is expected that the new industrial advisory board will work out a definite program for self-regulation which will probably be completed before the new congress meets next January.

Ready to Accept Task.

Industry is ready to take over the task of self-regulation at once, according to individual members of the board. They have stated privately that the first task of the recovery movement, that of organizing American business under the codes, was virtually completed in the first year of NRA, and that during the second and later years that the administration of the codes would be the chief undertaking. This aim could be best accomplished by industry itself, members of the board stated, in accordance with their new concept of the laissez-faire theory.

Among the business leaders who assisted in the preparation of the statement were John J. Raskob of New York; Mr. Mead, who is president of the Mead corporation, paper manufacturer; Henry I. Harriman, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce; Delancey Kountze, chairman of Devoe & Raynolds; R. Douglas Stuart, vice president of Quaker Oats company, Chicago; Sidney Weinberg, partner in Goldman, Sachs & Co. of New York; Col. Robert G. Elbert, president of the Oakbourne corporation; Gen. Robert E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co.; Robert L. Lund, president of the Lambert Pharmacal company of St. Louis, and Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric company.

PREDICTS AUTO PRICE CUTS WILL INCREASE SALES

Automobile sales will be stimulated by the general price reductions which have been put into effect in the industry, H. J. Klinger, recently elected vice president and general manager of the Pontiac Motor company, said here yesterday. By cutting its price the industry has again demonstrated its willingness to coöperate in the recovery program, Mr. Klinger declared.

The General Motors executive based his prediction on results shown so far by his company.

"Requests have come from five of our largest zones to double their allotment of cars," he said. "One of our important dealers has asked to ship him 100 cars at once. Other dealers throughout the country are ordering cars shipped immediately against orders we have on file."

The good crop prospects in the southwestern states give basis for the belief that that section wil be a greater factor in the automobile market this summer and fall, Mr. Klinger believes.

W. W. L. Gilpin, vice president and general sales manager of the Pontiac company; C. P. Simpson, assistant general sales manager, and Wade H. Leach, vice president of the General Motors Acceptance corporation, are accompanying Mr. Klinger in his swing around the country.

MORE DEPOSITS COVERED IN NEW BANK GUARANTY

Raising of the bank deposit insurance protection from $2,500 to $5,000 under the federal bank deposit guaranty law, effective July 1, will increase the number of affected accounts of the Northern Trust company by about 14 per cent, it was stated yesterday. Close to 90 per cent of all savings accounts in the bank will be covered.

The number of accounts of the Harris Trust and Savings banw so affected will be increased by about 13 per cent, while about 95 per cent of all the savings accounts will fall within the provisions of the law.

The other large downtown banks yesterday said that they had made no estimates as they have been informed by the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation that they will not have to make payments to meet the increased insurance until Oct. 1, 1934. Consequently until they have to do this they are not estimating the number of their accounts so affected.

Under the $2,500 deposit rule the outlying banks had almost all their savings accounts so protected. Thus raising the amount to $5,000 will provide virtual complete protection for the accounts in the smaller banks, where there are comparatively few individual deposits in excess of $5,000.

Stockholders Favoring New Armour Plan, Lee Reports

In a letter to stockholders of Armour & Co., urging approval of the company's reorganization, T. G. Lee, president, says the reaction of stockholders to the plan has been favorable. Several groups which fought a proposed plan last year have approved the new scheme, he said.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 18.—Demand for high grade noncallable bonds or those selling well below call price continued on the stock exchange today. The general list was buoyant, although United States government issues were irregular.

An example of the urgent demand for good rails was the rise of nearly three points in Bangor & Aroostook first 5s of 1943. Which are about twenty-one points above their low for 1933. The issue is noncallable. Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis consolidated was noncallable. 4½s of 1942, series C, jumped more than two points to a level giving a yield of only about 3½ per cent to maturity.

Pennsylvania Railroad General 4¼s of 1981, on the other hand, were lower. An additional supply of this mortgage issue has been reported in contemplation.

New highs were established by Kansas City Terminal first 4s and Cleveland Union Terminal 4½s of 1977, series C.

The German Dawes and Young plan loans were off about a point, but other German origin issues recovered, in particular Sason, Prussian, and Rhine Westphalian listings.

Norwegians were one of the most buoyant blocks of the foreign department, rising a point or more.

Reo Motor Car.

Investors' Guide: Give me information on Reo Motors, especially on net income for the first three or four months of 1934.—B. B. W.

Answer: One of the oldest manufacturers of automobiles in the country, Reo Motor Car company produces pleasure and commercial cars in the medium priced field.

Both dollar and unit volume of sales declined steadily from 1929 through 1932. Close control over expenses checked losses, which, nevertheless, have been substantial. Output of trucks in 1932 was 55 per cent above 1932 volume, while passenger car output increased only 25 per cent.

Labor troubles in the first quarter of 1934 prevented the company from capitalizing on the increased business during the period. Passenger car production was only about 30 per cent of that in the first quarter of 1933. Truck output was well over half of the March, 1933, quarter output.

Loss for the first quarter of this year was $273,000. It compared with loss of $459,000 in the corresponding 1933 period. Shipments in April, 1934, however, were more than three times April, 1933, shipments, and May shipments ran 300 per cent ahead of the corresponding 1933 period.

The four year record of earnings follows:

	Sales.	Net loss.	Loss per share.
1933	$10,260,000	$1,491,000	$0.83
1932	9,096,000	2,879,000	1.60
1931	17,044,000	2,749,000	1.52
1930	29,671,000	1,989,000	0.99

Net income for the four preceding years ranged between $1,424,000 and $5,084,000.

Current position reveals the effects of heavy losses. Working capital dropped from $19,972,000 at the close of 1929 to $6,932,000 at the close of 1933. On the latter date current assets, including $1,751,000 cash, totaled $7,887,000, and current liabilities were $955,000.

Profit and loss deficit was $2,154,000. Capitalization consisted solely of 1,800,000 shares of $5 par capital stock, on which nothing has been paid since Jan. 2, 1932.

As a small unit in the industry, the company is faced with strong competition. It has shown a marked degree of success in marketing its trucks, and improvement in marketing pleasure cars is evident. Part of that is probably due to featuring of an automatic gear transmission device.

The stock is speculative.

MUNICIPAL BOND NOTES

The efforts of the various states to collect back taxes due them are discussed in a recent bulletin of the General Welfare Tax league which points out that during an eighteen month period some states have eased up in their collection methods in order to stimulate collections. Among the methods used have been drastic reductions in penalties and interest and even, in some cases, reduction of the principal of unpaid taxes.

The bulletin calls attention "to the demoralizing effect of sporadic remission of penalties and even compromise of the principal of delinquent taxes." It adds:

"This adds a further element of confusion and uncertainty to the situation. If the legislature has been known to remit penalties in a burst of generosity in one crisis, there is always the hope for delinquents that it may do so again. Hence there is a gambling chance that a taxpayer will do well to let his taxes ride until the situation becomes so critical that the legislature will again let up on penalties. Such procedure fosters delinquency and is extremely discouraging to those honest and responsible property owners who have made sacrifices in order to pay their taxes when due."

Halsey, Stuart & Co. yesterday purchased an issue of $200,000 Auburn, N. Y., emergency relief bonds dated June 15, 1934, and bearing a 2.40 per cent coupon. The bonds, which mature from June 15, 1935, to 1944 inclusive, are being offered at prices to yield .75 per cent to 2.40 per cent. The city reports that taxes for 1930-'33 inclusive are over 93 per cent collected for each year.

The First of Boston corporation is offering a block of $300,000 city of Chicago 4 per cent street improvement bonds, maturing Jan. 1, 1940 to 1942, inclusive, at prices to yield about 4.20 per cent.

An issue of $270,000 4 and 4½ per cent general purpose bonds of Pawtucket, R. I., was purchased yesterday by the First of Boston corporation. The bonds, which are dated July 1, 1934, and mature from 1935 to 1962, are being offered at prices which return an average yield of 3.75 per cent. It is reported that the bonds have been half sold. The company also purchased $200,000 of Lynn, Mass., tax notes on a 1 per cent discount basis. A half of the issue matures on June 3, 1935, and the other half on June 13, 1935.

The city of Boston will be in the market today with a new issue of $2,000,000 of notes. The issue will be dated June 21 and will mature on Oct. 10, 1934.

R. W. Pressprich & Co. are offering a block of $1,000,000 New York City 1 per cent special revenue bonds, due Oct. 19, 1934. The bonds will be priced to yield .625 per cent.

SEEKS TO UNITE HARRIMAN BANK DEPOSIT SUITS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 18.—Objections to the proposed settlement by nine bank members of the New York Clearing House association of the suit by J. F. T. O'Connor, controler of the currency against nineteen member banks to compel them to pay $6,331,000 to the creditors of the Harriman National Bank and Trust company, were raised before Supreme Court Justice Dore today.

The court reserved decision on an application by Leon Leighton, counsel for a depositor of the bank who brought an action similar to that of the controler, to consolidate the two actions and retain as parties to the suit the representatives of the bank who have agreed to settle the claims against them for $2,848,950.

When Did You Graduate?

Possibly a year ago—maybe two years. Perhaps you have found the field in which you are at present best adapted does not offer opportunities for a larger income or steady employment. The Beauty profession offers untold possibilities. Well trained beauticians are in great demand everywhere. Marinello graduates rapidly step into these better positions, replacing less capable and mistrained operators. Thousands of better beauty shops throughout the country demand their personnel to be 100% Marinello graduates.

VISIT OUR SCHOOL.

Marinello training means thorough training in every branch of the profession, including the uses of all electrical appliances, salesmanship and shop management. Marinello covers every phase of beauty culture and the proficiency of their graduates is known and recognized by higher class beauty shops everywhere.

NOW!—Marinello Offers New Easy Payment Plan

Free employment service—or we will help you establish your own business. Complete set of instruments, textbooks, and all cosmetics furnished without charge to all students enrolling for day and evening classes now forming. Mail the coupon for full information and FREE illustrated Booklet T, including set of eight photographs showing various Marinello classes at work.

Every DeLEE GRADUATE Is EMPLOYED

Every day shop owners are offering good paying positions to DeLEE graduates. We have almost twice as many calls for operators as we have graduates.

Think what that means to YOU. It means that if you receive your beauty culture and hairdressing training at DeLEE, you will qualify for one of these good paying, pleasant positions. It won't take long, either, because the DeLEE individual, personalized method of instruction makes learning easy.

Come in today and see this beautiful school for yourself. Find out how Madame Louise trains girls to be genuine beauty experts.

QUALITY

Far Beyond the Small Cost of Learning Beauty Culture is the quality of training at Moler's

This is due to the improved methods that are exclusively Moler's.

A short, concise PRIVATE LESSON COURSE as revolutionary as was the original idea of Moler in 1893 that reduced a three year apprenticeship to a three month college course.

HALF RATE OFFER on regular course for a limited time only. Earn your living while attending if desired. Call, mail the coupon or phone.

BURNHAM

School of Beauty Culture

OFFERS OPPORTUNITIES FOUND ONLY AT BURNHAM'S.

FOR 63 YEARS THE WORLD'S LARGEST BEAUTY SCHOOL.

When you visit Burnham's you'll understand why more girls enroll in this school than in any other, and you'll be amazed at the unexpected and exclusive advantages which our 63 year record of turning out the best operators enables us to pass on to you—such as positions on ocean liners, positions with the best shops which DEMAND Burnham graduates; the opportunity of earning while learning, free tools, unlimited practice on living models, easy terms, and many other advantages.

Once explained you'll see how Burnham teaching methods will enable you to master Beauty Culture quicker, easier, and better—why these methods develop the type of operator shop owners want.

Tuition increases this month. If you ACT NOW you can arrange to pay for most of your tuition after you graduate. Call, phone, or write for FREE BEAUTY BOOK.

When Did You Graduate?

Possibly a year ago—maybe two years. Perhaps you have found the field in which you are at present best adapted does not offer opportunities for a larger income or steady employment. The Beauty profession offers untold possibilities. Well trained beauticians are in great demand everywhere. Marinello graduates rapidly step into these better positions, replacing less capable and mistrained operators. Thousands of better beauty shops throughout the country demand their personnel to be 100% Marinello graduates.

VISIT OUR SCHOOL.

Marinello training means thorough training in every branch of the profession, including the uses of all electrical appliances, salesmanship and shop management. Marinello covers every phase of beauty culture and the proficiency of their graduates is known and recognized by higher class beauty shops everywhere.

NOW!—Marinello Offers New Easy Payment Plan

Free employment service—or we will help you establish your own business. Complete set of instruments, textbooks, and all cosmetics furnished without charge to all students enrolling for day and evening classes now forming. Mail the coupon for full information and FREE illustrated Booklet T, including set of eight photographs showing various Marinello classes at work.

Every DeLEE GRADUATE Is EMPLOYED

Every day shop owners are offering good paying positions to DeLEE graduates. We have almost twice as many calls for operators as we have graduates.

Think what that means to YOU. It means that if you receive your beauty culture and hairdressing training at DeLEE, you will qualify for one of these good paying, pleasant positions. It won't take long, either, because the DeLEE individual, personalized method of instruction makes learning easy.

Come in today and see this beautiful school for yourself. Find out how Madame Louise trains girls to be genuine beauty experts.

QUALITY

Far Beyond the Small Cost of Learning Beauty Culture is the quality of training at Moler's

This is due to the improved methods that are exclusively Moler's.

A short, concise PRIVATE LESSON COURSE as revolutionary as was the original idea of Moler in 1893 that reduced a three year apprenticeship to a three month college course.

BURNHAM
School of Beauty Culture
OFFERS OPPORTUNITIES FOUND ONLY AT BURNHAM'S.
WORLD'S LARGEST BEAUTY SCHOOL.

When you visit Burnham's you'll understand why more girls enroll in this school than in any other, and you'll be amazed at the unexpected and exclusive advantages which our 63 year record of turning out the best operators enables us to pass on to you—such as positions on ocean liners, positions with the best shops which DEMAND Burnham graduates; the opportunity of earning while learning, free tools, unlimited practice on living models, easy terms, and many other advantages.

Once explained you'll see how Burnham teaching methods will enable you to master Beauty Culture quicker, easier, and better—why these methods develop the type of operator shop owners want.

Tuition increases this month. If you ACT NOW you can arrange to pay for most of your tuition after you graduate. Call, phone, or write for FREE BEAUTY BOOK.
